

Society

STRICTLY informal, strictly party, and now comes the party which is strictly "society." The Winter Dancing club is planning a masquerade party for Friday evening, February 11, at Harte hall, Dundee, and according to all indications, no fluffy ruffe frocks will be seen. J. Porter Allen, one of the directors, is making this announcement: "Everybody must be masked; if anyone is not—well, and he'll go; we'll have no mercy."

If one may judge from the rumors now afloat, Omaha society will look decidedly poverty-stricken that evening, as many of the costumes will be of the old clothes variety.

It is a number of seasons since the club has had a mask party and members who dislike formal parties will no doubt be more than pleased with this, as it will be very, very informal, according to those in charge.

It is quite possible prizes may be given, so get on your thinking caps, those of you who are planning to attend, and find an original costume.

What's What

By HELEN DECIE

Of all the rules of good form governing social conduct, the custom of leaving cards of sympathy—tantamount to the personal call, without its intrusion—is at once the most considerate and most helpful. Cards of inquiry in time of illness and cards of condolence in time of bereavement are usually left in person. Excepting among intimate friends, a caller does not enter the house of a person, but leaves the cards with the person opening the door. On the other hand, since no one expects a personal call from people who are in the shadow of illness or of bereavement, the recipient of cards of inquiry or of condolence sends acknowledgement of these cards through the mail.

Prize Winners Are Announced at Banquet

The Omaha Woman's Press club celebrated its seven years of existence with an annual banquet at the Paxton hotel Tuesday night. Sixty-five members and guests attended. Miss Belle Dewey, retiring president, presented Miss Blanche Sorrenson, president-elect, who was chosen for this office at a business meeting several weeks ago.

A highly entertaining and varied program included a novel story by Miss Henrietta Rees, who secured her subjects from her audience. Pupils of Elsie Steen Kittelson, Misses Ethel Mulholland, Edna Lotovsky and Marguerite Corrigan, offered an exquisite one-act play, "The Maker of Dreams."

Messrs Bigelow and Clinton, who are appearing at the Orpheum this week, added joy to the program with their clever songs.

Jack Bloodhart was a real hit with his chalk talk. Caricatures of Col. T. W. McCullough, Mr. Harvey Newbranch and Mr. Joseph Polcar as well as prominent members of the woman's press club brought applause from the men and screams from the women.

Mrs. T. R. Rutledge who has been chairman of the courtesies committee during the past year served as chairman for the banquet committee. Assisting her were Mrs. Martin Harris and Mrs. J. Harry Murphy. Winners of prizes in the press club contest which was open to Douglas county, were announced by Miss Rose Rosicky, chairman of the committee in co-operation with the judges, Rabbi Frederick Cohn, chairman, Miss Evelyn Dudley and Earl Ganett. Among the winners was Miss Julia Knight who has been an invalid 20 years.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Problems That Perplex

Answered by BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Advice for Mabelle.
A story by Miss Fairfax, headed "Strange Tales About Those You Love," was published several days ago in which she advised anyone hearing an ugly rumor of a loved one, to go directly to the person making it.

Now comes a very fine letter from one who does not agree with Miss Fairfax. The writer says: "Please advise Mabelle to write to the firm who employed this man in the distant town from which he came, and ask them for the address of his folks. The rest should be easy. She will get acquainted with his people, if he is all right, and will be much happier with the doubt effectively banished."

We are publishing this advice because it may help Mabelle. Miss Fairfax does not claim to be always right, but she does think that a girl who has been engaged to a man for two years ought to have a pretty good idea of his character without writing his employers and perhaps causing suspicion on their part.

Is Present Day Dress Immodest?
As a college bred woman of 30 who has traveled around the world, I wish to protest against the tendency to extreme exposure of the body as evident in the fashions of the present day. I believe in beauty, but may not the beauty of body be subordinate to the beauty of mind and spirit—the latter being certainly a rare thing to find at any time.

I have an evening gown to make, and have searched diligently in the fashion magazines for a suitable pattern, but I cannot find a thing I should be willing to appear in. And although I think that I am not totally devoid of physical charm, I am not willing to charm with wit and understanding than with an insinuating display of pink flesh and undulating curves.

If fashion experts and women of mature judgment do not set an example of womanly beauty without exposing at least half of their bodies, how may we expect to prevent poor silly and ignorant girls, who follow the fashion, from becoming prey to the class of men they meet in the numerous places of public amusement, who cannot help regarding these girls from the standpoint of mere sensuality?

A short skirt, just to the shoe tops, a modest neck and certainly some sort of sleeves in a dress, are not too much to request for both comfort and propriety.

Miss is the Greek ideal—"In all things moderation." MRS. O. C.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I am a girl of 18 and have been corresponding with a boy friend for over a year. I saw him just recently and he took me to a dance at a friend's home. That night when he left me at the door he asked me if he might kiss me good night. I was very much astonished. I have known him ever since a small child and nothing of that sort has ever come up between us, so I said no, and he said he would be pestered, and told him to be if he wanted to. Now, Miss Fairfax, was I right in doing this, because since he has returned to his home, I have written to me the same kind of letters he used to write, with no hint of that night. Should I keep right on corresponding with him as if nothing had happened or quit altogether. Faithfully, A. B. C.

There comes a time in a girl's life when she gives her heart to a man. A kiss from the girl who truly loves may be the holiest expression of her sincere feeling for a man. If that is the feeling you have for this man, and if you think he is worthy of it, and wishes to marry you, then I think he did not ask too much. If, however, it was a careless request from any unworthy girl, I not only think you did right, but I would advise you to drop him altogether. (Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger Co.)

Rupture Kills 7,000 Annually

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO is what adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore, cannot chafe or pinch. Soft as velvet—easy to apply— inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. No straps, buckles or springs attached.

Learn how to close the hernial opening as nature intended so the rupture CAN'T come down. Send your name today to PLAPAO CO., Box 840, St. Louis, Mo., for FREE trial Plapao and the information necessary.

Seventeen religious faiths and 20 nationalities are represented among the membership of the recently organized Young Women's Christian association in Rio de Janeiro.

In order to improve her health, Mrs. J. M. Lane of Roseburg, Ore., fasted for 40 days, during which time she partook only of a little orange juice and lemon juice with water.
