Romance in Origin Of Superstitions

Getting Out of Bed.

In getting out of bed in the morning always take care to place the right foot first or the day will be unlucky. Many otherwise intelligent people also take care to place the right foot first when entering a house. The origin of the very common superstition with regard to the right foot is easily accounted for by association. It is a psychological offspring of the word "right" and its meaning of "in conformity with moral law, permitted by the prin-ciple which ought to regulate conduct," etc.

The word as applied to the side of the human body which is toward the east when the face is turned to the north is of exactly the same derivation and owes its present ap-plication to the fact that most people are "right-handed" and therefore the right hand is the right hand to do things with. And by extension the word came to cover that whole side of the body. And so in getting out of bed if the right foot is right the left foot must be wrong. Moreover the word left is from the Anglo-Saxon meaning weak, worthless and, originally ap-Stude construction. Six extra fine rooms. Large living room with fire-place. Oak and enamel finish.
