Exchange Buiness Light.

On the Stock Exchange prices drifted in the aimless way that has become usual and the total business done was not much more than one-third of the transactions on some earlier days of the present which is to the month. On the whole, the day ended with small gains, but there were some net losses. In the money market, rates for time loans on Stock Exchange collateral were again advanced fractionally.

Midweek reviews of *the steel trade throw no particular light on the progressive monthly decrease in the steel corporations's earnings, as shown in Tuesday's statement. According to the Iron Age's estimate, the company's Pittsburgh plant has slightly decreased its output of some steel products during the last week, but production of basic steel is running at 95 per cent. Independent mills are working intermittently on a 56 per cent basis at Pittsburgh, but at only 30 to 40 per cent in the Chicago district. It is interesting to learn from the cabled information that one important steel product has been quotient of the capital per ton by Belgian 31 pounds sterling per ton by Belgian exporters, while British makers were quoting 50 pounds sterling.

L. L. Winters of Hulburd, Warren & Chandler says: "An improved domastic flour demand from now on is to be expected, for the country has evidently been liging on old supplies for the past six months and these old supplies cannot be expected to last forever. But while improvement in the domestic demand is to be expected, there is little reason for anticipating a continuation of expert demand."

The Price Current Grain Reporter says the wintering condition of winter wheat is reported almost entirely favorable except in a few localities of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois General report as to the movement of grain was that the shipment of corn, particularly from Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska, during the past week or 10 days has been large.
