Everything's Ready for Big Exhibit of Omaha Goods

Everything at the Onward Omaha exposition will be of Omaha.
The exposition will be held in the new building of the Burgess-Nash company.
Mary Marston, advertising manager for Burgess-Nash, is in complete charge of the show.
The show opens Monday morning at 9 and will last through the entire week.
Bird houses made by Omaha boys in the Nebraska Humane society contest will be shown.
SAMPLES FOR VISITORS
Mina Taylor dresses will be made right at the show by the M. E. Smith and company, and live models will wear them about for the visitors to gaze upon.
South Side packing plants will make their products and give samples to the crowds.
One of the play stores of the Omaha Manufacturers' association will be installed.

These stores are installed in nearly every public school in the city by the association.
At the show, school children will be present to operate the departments just the way they do in school.
The stores are used to teach successful merchandising to the pupils.
MACHINERY INSTALLED
Machinery for the various exhibits of the Omaha manufacturers will be installed in the building today so the show can be opened promptly Monday morning.
The opening date was set for February 1, at first, but because of the number of manufacturers seeking to enter with booths, the opening was changed to Monday.
The only regret we have is that there is not enough room," said Mary Marston.

FAITH

It is Faith that builds great cities and great industries from small beginnings. It is the ever growing sincerity, the never failing fulfillment of every little promise, and the time proven 'Sterling' merit behind each that makes Faith build successes and accomplish undreamed achievements.

It is Omaha's Faith in Hard Roll and Tip Top Breads that has made their qualities possible. For with each day's greater popularity has come a stronger determination to warrant your Faith in us.

We are proud to give you the output in the number of ten cent loaves that we have baked per year for the last three years. Faith alone can justify this remarkable showing.

1918 loaves Baked 5,210,000
1919 loaves Baked 10,982,000
1920 loaves Baked 15,546,941
