

Johnson Not Well Informed on Jap Issue, Colby Says

Secretary of State Replies to Attack of California Senator on Proposed Agreement.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The attack on the proposed agreement between Japan and the United States as to the status of Japanese in this country, which was made by Senator Johnson of California, was characterized by Secretary of State Colby in a statement, as proceeding "upon quite an erroneous assumption as to the trend and purpose of the conversations which have been going on between Ambassador Morris and the Japanese ambassador."

The plan for an agreement is now before the two governments and was said by Senator Johnson on the basis of statements "from authoritative sources" as to its provisions to mean in the end, a continuance of Japanese immigration and increase in the Japanese population in the west.

In his statement Secretary Colby said Senator Johnson was not uninformed as to the course of these conversations and "I am therefore surprised that he should feel called on to throw himself into a defensive posture against the dangers which he describes, but which I am informed he has been assured do not present themselves."

"The State department is charged with the duty of pursuing these important discussions with other regard to the facts," the statement continued. "And this it has sought to do with a proper consideration for every interested point of view."

"I am not speaking in any spirit of criticism of Senator Johnson, but he must know, as a member of the senate foreign relations committee, that even if the fear to which he gives expression, that the state department is moving too rapidly in the direction of a treaty, that a treaty can have no effect without its submission in due course to the senate and, under the latter practice, its minute examination by the senator's committee."

Confers With Wilson.

Secretary Colby, who conferred today with President Wilson, said the Japanese agreement had not been discussed during the White House conference.

Senator Johnson, in his statement today, said the plan would in effect "abrogate and destroy" the alien law voted by California.

Such a situation, he said, was "intolerable" and he added "consummation of such a plan will be resisted."

Committee in House Refuses to Reopen Gronna Bill Hearings

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—The agricultural committee of the house labored all day over packer legislation as represented by the Gronna bill that recently passed the senate. By a vote of eight to nine the committee refused to reopen hearings on the bill on the ground that everything had been said for and against the measure that could be said.

By a vote of eight to eight the committee refused to substitute the house bill for the Gronna bill which Chairman Haugen insisted should be done, the tie vote defeating the substitution. The senate bill was then taken and read, paragraph by paragraph, and amendments offered. Late in the day it was decided to report the Gronna bill with amendments.

Jacob Dold of the Skinner company, with J. H. Bulla of Omaha, saw a number of the committee members today and insisted that the Gronna bill, if enacted into law would seriously disturb both the packing and the live stock business.

Marriage Eugenic Bill Introduced in North Dakota

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 30.—Every applicant for a marriage license in South Dakota hereafter must accompany his application with a certificate from a registered physician, showing health and fitness, based upon physical and mental examination and with a history of family traits attached, before such license will be granted, if a measure given first reading today becomes a law. The bill, introduced by Swanson of Brown county, is similar to the Wisconsin marriage law. It prohibits marriage within the state of persons unit by reason of disease or physical defects. Heavy fines and imprisonments are provided for violation and for a physician issuing a fraudulent certificate.

Former Judge Asks Court For Permit to Carry Pistol

Williamson, W. Va., Jan. 30.—James Damron, former judge of the Mingo county circuit court and a prominent figure among counsel for the prosecution in the trial of the 21 men charged with the killing of Albert C. Felt, a private detective, at Matewan, asked for a permit to carry a pistol. The application was made to Judge Bailey, who is presiding at the trial. Mr. Damron was on the bench when the fight occurred at Matewan last May and summoned the special grand jury which returned the indictments, which the defendants are now being Smuggling on Increase.

Customs Collector Says New York, Jan. 30.—Smuggling goods into the United States is being carried on to a greater extent than ever before, declared a statement from the collector of customs for the port of New York, by R. R. Newton.

Customs officials seized $1,000,000 worth of commodities last year, much of which was found to be smuggled, he said.

Collusion between crews of steamships and professional smugglers here has intensified the evil, which has become widespread.

Prohibition was blamed by Collector Newton as a contributing cause.

President-Elect Completes Trip To Miami Beach

William J. Bryan One of First Men to Pay Respects to Harding—Start to Fishing Excursion Delayed.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 30.—President-elect Harding completed his houseboat cruise down the Florida coast and lingered Saturday night at the winter playground on Miami Beach before starting his fishing expedition among the Florida keys.

The houseboat Victoria set Mr. Harding ashore at the pier of a beach hotel and after a luncheon and golf he changed his plans to permit him to remain for the week-end here. He will not start for the fishing grounds until late tomorrow.

Plans for an official reception were abandoned at Mr. Harding's request, but a reception committee met the Victoria and acted as escort. Crowds gathered to cheer the president-elect and the fleet of pleasure craft lining her course gave the houseboat all of the first to call and pay his respects to the presidential party was W. J. Bryan. It is understood Mr. Harding accepted an invitation to call at the Bryan home here some time before he leaves southern Florida.

The Victoria went into dry dock after she had completed her run from St. Augustine and when Mr. Harding leaves for his fishing trip tomorrow he will be aboard a faster vessel provided by the Miami Beach yacht club. He will establish headquarters on a small island about 30 miles to the south, where he expects to remain in seclusion at least two or three days.

Harry M. Daugherty of Columbus and Senator A. B. Fall of New Mexico, who were among the Victoria's company, will return north tomorrow to attend to business affairs.

Steady Withdrawals Causes North Dakota Bank to Close

Streeter, N. D., Jan. 30.—The First National bank closed its doors Saturday. Recent bank closings in this vicinity resulted in steady withdrawals from the bank, creating a deficiency in reserves, according to W. E. Berringer, president.

"The First National bank here is in all respects solvent, as was shown by a recent examination," said Mrs. Berringer. The closing is only temporary.

The bank has a capital of $25,000 and a surplus of $5,000.

Out of Prison; Can't Get in Again

"Old Man" Brown, Nebraska Jail Bird, Wanders Streets of Omaha Awaiting Arrest for Taking Money From Firm in Lincoln.

Smilingly greeting his old acquaintances, but with one shoulder slightly raised as if in expectation of feeling the strong arm of the law descend upon it, W. C. "Old Man" Brown aimlessly wandered about Omaha Saturday.

Supposedly because he wants to break into the state penitentiary again, he left Lincoln with a large sum of money belonging to the Motor Publishing company. He had been working for the company as a solicitor, following his discharge from prison.

In a letter to President A. D. Scott of the company, written on the day he left, he said that he had sent his possessions to his prison "bud" as he is expected to be taken back to Fenton's hotel in a couple of weeks.

Tiring of walking the streets the little old man thought he would try the first love, the theater. With his soft cloth hat cocked slightly on one side he walked unnoticed past Omaha police. Obtaining a seat well up in front, his bald and shining head mingled with the others in "fifth or better."

Fascinated by Bright Lights. With his feet keeping time to the syncopated music of the orchestra he lunched appreciatively at the antics of the comedians. He appeared fascinated by the bright spot lights following the principals about the stage. Nonchalantly he walked out of the

Colorado Senator Pessimistic About Chances for Heaven

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Washington, Jan. 30.—Senator Thomas of Colorado, doesn't think much of his chances of going to heaven. He confessed his misgivings to the senate.

"There has been only one measure for real economy introduced at this session," he said.

"There is the Borah resolution to curtail naval building. And that has about as much chance of passing this senate as I have of going to heaven."

"Well, then," interrupted Senator Borah, "I think it has a pretty good chance."

"Not a chance in the world," replied Senator Thomas.

The senator deplored the rapidly increasing unemployment throughout the country. "There is only one industry not paralyzed," he said, "the bootlegging industry."

He said he would propose a measure to remain in seclusion at least two or three days.

Harry M. Daugherty of Columbus and Senator A. B. Fall of New Mexico, who were among the Victoria's company, will return north tomorrow to attend to business affairs.

Fordney Tariff Measure Nearing End in Senate

Chances for Action at Present Session Almost Hopeless—Final Effort for Vote Monday.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The Fordney emergency tariff bill had reached the fountaining point when the senate adjourned tonight Monday.

Republican leaders, at a conference, agreed next week to endeavor to draw from the bank, creating a deficiency in reserves, according to W. E. Berringer, president.

"The First National bank here is in all respects solvent, as was shown by a recent examination," said Mrs. Berringer. The closing is only temporary.

Randall K. Brown Arouses Wrath Of LaFollette

Omaha Coal Dealer, Before Senate Investigating Committee, Told to Present Figures Before Leaving Capital.

By E. C. SNYDER. Washington Correspondent Omaha Bee. Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—Randall K. Brown, formerly president of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce and one of the big coal dealers of that city, ran into rough sledding before the Calder investigation committee of the senate. Mr. Brown appeared before the committee to tell what he knew with reference to coal when he ran afoul of Senator LaFollette who treated him with scant courtesy.

Hardly had the Omaha man told his name and the purpose of his testimony when the Wisconsin senator wandered far afield from the limits of the investigation. He did not confine himself to an inquiry into the wholesale prices on coal but catechized Mr. Brown on the relative business figures at the present time.

Senator LaFollette demanded to know what the real profits were in those companies in which Mr. Brown is interested, in Des Moines and Omaha. The Omaha coal man replied that he was not prepared to give those figures at the present time, for he had not expected to be asked as to real prices and had not posted himself.

Senator LaFollette, with every evidence of anger, told Mr. Brown that he must not leave Washington until the figures were presented to the committee. This command, if it amounted to that, caused Mr. Brown to defer his trip to New York which he had planned to take this afternoon. Instead, he talked by long distance telephone with both the Des Moines and Omaha offices and asked that information be sent forthwith which he expects will reach him tomorrow. He will file his reply Monday.

Senator Reed of Missouri tried to appease the "little giant" of Wisconsin but it was like pouring oil on a fire to put it out. The more he tried to mollify the senator the angrier he got.

House Agriculture Committee Refuses Packer Control Bills

Washington, Jan. 30.—In a public session marked by heated exchanges between members, the house agriculture committee refused to grant any more hearings on packer regulation bills. By a tie vote, a motion to substitute a house bill for the senate measure creating a live stock commission was defeated. The committee adjourned until Monday with only three pages of the senate bill read.

Representative Young, democrat, of Texas, opposed anything which would delay the reporting of the measure. He was joined by others in urging the report of the measure as it passed the senate. All efforts to amend the bill were defeated.

Several hundred telegrams and letters were received, requesting an opportunity to be heard. The committee held that as 40 days was given last year to hearings on the subject, there was no need for more testimony.

Woman Stages Fake Robbery to Cover Up Bridge Whist Losses

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Chicago, Jan. 30.—Mrs. Ethel Kluge lost $3,000 at bridge whist and for extravagances. Then in a point of fear that her husband would discover what she had done, she staged a fake robbery to account for the missing money.

She is the wife of William B. Kluge, president of the Racine Tire & Rubber Co. Last night her husband called officers and had her taken to the psychopathic hospital for examination. He had discovered the discrepancy of $3,000 in his accounts and had heard that she had borrowed sums of money from other women to pay her bridge losses. He also learned that there had been no robbery at his home, such as his wife had reported to the police.

"Mrs. Kluge is not insane," said Dr. Fowler of the psychopathic laboratory, "but she needs a good spanking."

Omaha Men Bring in Gasser in Oklahoma

Tulsa, Okl., Jan. 30.—The first big gasser in the new Oklahoma county field, making 3,000,000 cubic feet, was brought in Saturday by W. B. Howard and C. L. Thomas of Omaha, according to reports reaching here. The well is located seven miles northwest of Healyetta on the John Ruddy farm, Section 31-12-12. The sand was penetrated eight feet at a depth of 2,911 feet.

Casing head gasoline plants are already under construction near the Howard Thomas well, it is reported. Howard and Thomas have additional wells in the vicinity, which they expect to begin developing at once, it is reported here.

Omahan Song-Pluggers For Irving Berlin

George Givot

Did you ever hear of a "song-pluggers?" Here's an Omaha boy who has just become one. He is George Givot, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Givot, 2516 St. Marys Avenue.

The "song-pluggers" has a queer job, but his job shows returns in the bank balance of the music publishing house by which he is employed.

It is his duty to sing the songs published by his firm. He sings 'em wherever he can, at theaters, dance halls, hotels, anywhere and everywhere.

People hear him sing the songs, like the tune and then trot over to the music store in the morning and buy the number.

Music publishers say it's the only way they can "put a song over."

Givot, who is only 19, is to sing Irving Berlin songs in Omaha, Des Moines and Sioux City.

Ten Persons Are Killed in Fire In Hoboken Hotel

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. New York, Jan. 30.—Ten persons were killed and 30 others rescued from death by fire discovered shortly after midnight in the Palace-Colonial hotel, Hoboken.

Firemen ignored the blaze and responded to screams of help from guests leaning from windows on upper stories, where they were trapped by flames, which swept the fire escape. Using extension ladders, firemen worked laboriously from floor to floor, descending with frightened women, in night clothing, clinging frantically to them. One man and two women were lifted unconscious from window ledges.

Diners of a restaurant in the rear of the hotel were the first to answer cries for help. They hustled to the roof and by letting down a ladder, aided to safety a number of persons on the top fire escapes.

A dozen persons burned slightly about the hands and face and suffering from smoke were attended in nearby stores. Three were taken to the hospital. Other guests, few salvaging more than their pajamas, were taken into other hotels.

After the last person had been removed from windows firemen turned their attention to the fire and extinguished it in 40 minutes.

The building, six stories high, was gutted from the second floor to the roof. Entering the smoking debris, firemen recovered 10 bodies within a few minutes.

Officials of G. O. P. To Retain Positions

Washington, Jan. 30.—The republican national committee and other officials of that party, from Chairman Hays down, will be kept in their positions for a time after March 4, regardless of cabinet and other federal appointments, according to a report made at republican headquarters.

It was regarded as certain, they said, that Chairman Hays would be appointed to the cabinet, but that this would not affect his political situation, at least not for a time after March 4.

The plan had been agreed to, it was said, because of the necessity of keeping the party machinery intact immediately after the inauguration. Much work remains for the national committee, including the raising of funds to meet the campaign deficit.

Railway Unions To Fight Attempt To Reduce Wages

Brotherhood Chiefs Say Results of Decrease in Cost of Living Are Results of Propaganda.

Cleveland, Jan. 30.—Heads of three big railroad brotherhoods, in statements, said railroad men will not "peacefully submit" to wage reductions.

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, made this declaration. A similar declaration was made Thursday by W. S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

All declare reports of the decreases in the cost of living are not borne out by actual conditions, but are the result of propaganda; that railway employees wages did not increase as rapidly as did the cost of living or as much; and that railway men are not receiving as high a standard of wages as paid in many other industries.

Purpose in Depression. Mr. Lee asserted that, in his opinion, "some, if not the greater portion of the business depression has been brought about solely for the purpose of prejudicing the public in the interest of a reduction in wages generally."

Mr. Carter declared that "notwithstanding all the wage increases, it can be shown that because of the great increase in the efficiency of railroad employees there has been no practical increase in wage costs compared with products."

Mr. Sheppard asserted that to admit that it is necessary to make an onslaught on labor at this time after all the country has done for the railroads is absolutely un-American.

Executives Outline Plans. Chicago, Jan. 30.—Railroad executives, after a two-day conference behind closed doors, had outlined a tentative plan of action designed to make such readjustments as the railroads consider necessary for efficient and economic operation. The labor committee of the American Association of Railroad Executives was still conferring on a program, but with prospects of action Monday.

No announcement was forthcoming. Executives in touch with the conference, however, declared failure of the roads to gain expected earnings and the decline in business had forced them to take immediate action. One officer stated that the railroad action was aimed at the national agreements between the roads and their employees. It was indicated that the first step proposed by the railroads in reducing expenses would be immediate abrogation of these agreements. The agreements are under fire before the railroad labor board.
