

Landis Is Impeached In Congress

Representative Welty Charges Chicago Federal Jurist With "High Crimes and Misdemeanors."

Five Specific Counts

By The Associated Press.
Washington, Feb. 14.—Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis of Chicago was impeached in the house of representatives today by Representative Welty, democrat, Ohio, who charged him with "high crimes and misdemeanors" in connection with his acceptance of the position of supreme arbiter of base ball at a salary of $42,500 a year.

Should the house decide to institute proceedings against Judge Landis on the basis of Mr. Welty's charges a formal trial before the bar of the house would be held and a decision rendered. Mr. Welty did not introduce a resolution proposing impeachment, as is the usual procedure in such matter. Instead he arose to "a question of high personal privilege" and announced that he "impeached" the judge.

Without debate the Welty charges, on Mr. Welty's motion, were referred to the judiciary committee for investigation and report. There were a few scattering yells.

Impeachment was proposed by Mr. Welty on the basis of five specific charges, as follows:

"First—For neglecting his official duties for several months. Occupation not connected therewith.

"Second—For using his office as district judge of the United States to settle disputes which might come into his court as provided by the laws of the United States.

"Third—For lobbying before the legislatures of the several states of the union to procure the passage of state laws to prevent gambling in base ball, instead of discharging his duties as district judge of the United States.

"Fourth—For accepting the position as chief arbiter of the disputes in base ball associations at a salary of $42,500 per annum while attempting to discharge the duties as a district judge of the United States, which tends to nullify the effect of the judgment of the supreme court of the District of Columbia and the base ball gambling indictments pending in the criminal courts of Cook county, Illinois.

"Fifth—For injuring the national sport of base ball by permitting the

A few weeks later Mrs. Magney obtained a divorce from her husband.

Prior to the divorce suits the Kitchens and Magneys frequently were seen in each others' company and both families lived at the Paxton.

Wichita, Kan., Feb. 14.—After threatening for five hours to storm the police station at Augusta, Kan., and firing several shots, a mob of between 400 and 500 men dispersed shortly before midnight, according to reports received here.

The expressed purpose of the men, it was said, was to capture an officer who is alleged to have shot and probably fatally injured Charles Foreman, an oil field worker, in making an arrest Saturday night.

Wilson to Veto Fordney Tariff Bill Is Report

Developments Centering Around Tariff Legislation Came Fast in Congress Yesterday.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—Developments centering around tariff legislation came fast in congress today. They included:

"Declaration by Senator Underwood that he had received assurance that President Wilson would veto the Fordney emergency tariff bill, not by withholding his signature, but with a comprehensive statement, giving his reasons coupled with a final attack on republican congressional policies.

"Announcement by Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, that a vote on the bill probably will be obtained tomorrow night.

"Statement by Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee making definite the intention of the republicans to press the permanent tariff through the extra session before attempting consideration of taxation.

"The Fordney bill was pulled out of its pigeonhole for several hours of debate. Nothing came of it, however, although it had been expected a vote would be had on the amendment of Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, changing the import rates on sugar from those accepted by the senate finance committee. Mr. McCumber as well as Senators Gay, democrat, Louisiana, and Smoot discussed the amendment and several other senators got into the debate.

Senator Underwood declined to accept the assurances of a veto came from the president directly and refused to answer questions relative to the form in which the information came.

Obregon to Regulate Petroleum Matters

Mexico City, Feb. 14.—Delegation of power to President Obregon to regulate petroleum matters is forecast by Vasquez Schaffino, official mayor of the Department of Commerce and Industry. He says that modification of Article XXVII of the Mexican constitution, which nationalizes petroleum deposits, cannot be written into law by the extraordinary session of congress which began February 7, or by the regular session which will convene on May 1, for lack of time for careful study.

Senator Schaffino said President Obregon is expected later to present a bill on this subject. This legislation, however, will cause such a prolonged debate that the president will force new authority to regulate business in connection with the oil fields. Senator Schaffino was the original head of Mexico's petroleum department.

Alma Youth Nominated For West Point Cadetship

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—(Special Telegram.)—Representative Andrews nominated for a cadetship at West Point today Harold S. Gould, son of S. A. Gould of Alma, Neb.

Congressman Andrews in a letter to Secretary Baker said that the youth of the land had a just estimate of what was required of those who sought entrance to West Point, and was convinced that too much was exacted in the manner in which questions were answered than in the correctness of the answers. This, he thought, was at least one reason why young men were loath to enter upon a military career. They would rather take their chances in any one of the professions.

Mr. Andrews suggested that it might be well for the academic board at West Point to take cognizance of the present situation.

Merger of Congress Protested

Sarpy Delegation, Appearing Before House Committee, Denies That Annexation With Douglas Desired.

Justice of Vote Denied

Lincoln, Feb. 14.—(Special Telegram.)—Residents from Sarpy county, 150 strong, appeared tonight before the house committee on privileges and elections to register protest against the Druesedow bill providing for an election to determine whether Sarpy should be annexed to Douglas county. One farmer stood in the center of the delegation during the hearing with a huge banner held aloft, which read, "Sarpy county refuses to be crucified on the cross of Omaha."

Prior to the hearing the delegation marched up the street of Lincoln and through the corridors of the state house carrying the banner.

Speakers denied the claims made that a majority of Sarpy county residents desired annexation and declared that Omaha wished the annexation from purely selfish purposes, chiefly for the benefit that tax assessments for improvements against Sarpy county farms would work on Omaha property.

"We couldn't get a fair representation under such a plan with our small population, which is less than the negro population of Omaha," J. M. Gates of Fort Crook said.

"We know our court house is bad, but we want to build our own building and not help pay for one in Omaha," John Crooks of Fort Crook declared.

"I have been told that the profit on the furniture in the Douglas county court house was $10,000 and our whole bonded indebtedness is only $25,000.

Edgar Howard, Columbus editor and former Sarpy county resident, begged that Sarpy county keep its individuality and not get its simple, innocent rural life mixed with the fast and furious pace of the Nebraska metropolis.

"I deny the justice claimed that a majority vote will decide whether Sarpy county wants to annex," Howard declared, because I know the Omaha politicians and I also know that with the proximity of the floating population of South Omaha to Sarpy county it would be a simple matter to provide abodes over the line in Sarpy county for 40 days and thus permit the South Omaha people to vote in favor of annexation on a Sarpy county ballot."

Final Decision Delayed.

Representative Druesedow, author of the bill, was not present. Final decision was delayed until it was learned whether Druesedow wanted to appear before the committee.

"I don't know much about the sentiment for annexation," said Representative Randall of Omaha, "but I do know that the roads and improvements in Sarpy county are a disgrace to Nebraska and annexation with a live, aggressive county seems to be the only way to get the residents over there into the stride of modern times."

Representative Ed A. Smith of Omaha, a member of the committee, declared he was ready to vote against the Druesedow bill at any time after hearing the arguments today.

The speakers before the committee were: Representative Frazer of Sarpy county; J. M. Gates, Fort Crook; J. D. Clark, Papillion; Joe Elwell, Springfield; John Hughes, Fort Crook; and A. D. Compton, former Douglas county commissioner, who declared that Douglas county had enough to do to attend to its own affairs.

Police Can't Stop Crime, Dr. C. E. Cobbe Says

Police cannot stop crime, the Rev. C. E. Cobbe, pastor of the First Christian church, declared in a sermon Sunday night on "Can Police Stop Crime?" The source of the crime must be wiped out, said the Rev. Mr. Cobbe, the policeman's duty is to check crime.

More policemen in the home, not more policemen in what is needed to stop crime, the pastor declared.

"We have too many laws now. We have so many they clutter up our statutes. Very few of them are heeded. Police Commissioner Ringer told me the church is the greatest ally the police have," he said.

Dr. Cobbe praised the Omaha police department for its efficient work, reciting the fact that Omaha leads the large cities of the nation in the reduction of crime.

Harding Opposed to Income Tax Exemption

Washington, Feb. 14.—President-elect Harding today informed Representative Longworth of Ohio he did not believe he should be granted exemption from paying an income tax on his presidential salary. Mr. Harding wrote Representative Longworth in reply to a letter seeking his opinion as to what action the house ways and means committee should take on a bill introduced to exempt the president from the income tax levy. Under the present revenue law the tax amounts to $18,000.

President Wilson, however, was exempted from paying under a decision of the United States supreme court holding that since the chief executive and federal judges assume office prior to the enactment of the revenue law, they were not subject to the tax.

Debate on Bridge Location Brings On Near Battle

Omahan Promises to Smash In Face of Antagonist in Argument Over Placing of Platte River Structure.

Lincoln, Feb. 14.—(Special Telegram.)—Debate over the location of a bridge across the Platte river between Saunders and Douglas counties reached fever heat today before a house committee when Tremont Cone of Omaha shook his fist under the nose of M. A. Phelps of Wahoo, shouting:

"You say much more and I'll smash your damned face in."

Fully 100 Saunders county citizens appeared before the committee. There was nearly a 50-50 representation of those who wanted the bridge just south of the Burlington bridge and those who wanted it farther north.

The lower cost, the protection against ice from the Burlington bridge and the fine territory served were arguments advanced for the bridge south of the Burlington structure.

Arguments for the other side were given as the road included in the state aid highway plan would lead to the bridge and also the fine territory served.

Both sides claimed the bill which would officially locate the bridge south of the Burlington was robbing taxpayers of the right of self-determination.

M. A. Phelps of Wahoo accused special interests of pushing the bill. It was at this juncture that Cone jumped up with threats of bodily injury to Phelps. Cone was said to own sand pits near the Burlington bridge.

Those who appeared before the committee were: S. A. Sanders, A. L. Ulstrom, John H. Lionberger, C. E. Beale, El Keister, Judge G. N. Paunmutter, Elva Johnson, M. A. Phelps, E. E. Placek, all of Saunders county; C. W. Sears and John H. Lionberger of Omaha; A. D. Compton, former Douglas county commissioner, who is interested in the north road, was an interested listener at the hearing. The committee withheld its decision.

Crisis Reached By Nonpartisans In North Dakota

Terms Bankers Offer to Absorb Bonds, Virtual Disruption of Industrial Program.

Minneapolis, Feb. 14.—North Dakota state officials seeking to float $6,000,000 in state bonds have been assured by Minneapolis and Chicago bankers that the issues will be absorbed if the bank of North Dakota is liquidated and other state-owned industries curtailed.

This proposition, it was declared tonight by some of the interested bankers, now is under consideration by the North Dakota officials, including the state industrial commission, which has charge of the execution of the industrial program in the state.

Published reports that the state officials and leaders of the Nonpartisan league had intimated possible acceptance of these terms resulted in a statement from H. A. Paddock, secretary of the industrial commission, denying any agreement to abandon any part of the "farmers' program" in North Dakota.

Bankers and the North Dakota officials who were in conference here yesterday and today were reticent in reference to the bankers' proposal but from an apparently authentic source it was learned that virtual disruption of North Dakota's "industrial program" was the basis of the bankers' terms.

Powers of the industrial commission would be curtailed under these terms, the State Bank of North Dakota reorganized as a rural credits institution, the Home Builders association discontinued any use of the money ordered from bonds denied to the Nonpartisan league or any of its enterprises.

Nebraska Rates Will Be Raised

I. C. C. Orders Discontinuance Of Unjust Discrimination in Relation of Interstate and Intrastate Charges.

Freight Rates Affected

By E. C. SNYDER.
Washington Correspondent Omaha Bee.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—(Special Telegram.)—In the matter of the intrastate rates, fares and charges of the Union Pacific Railroad company and other carriers in the state of Nebraska, the Interstate Commerce commission, in a lengthy opinion by Commissioner Daniels, ordered today that the common carriers who are parties to the proceeding, including every steam road in the state, be required to cease from practicing the "undue prejudice, preference and advantage and unjust discrimination found to exist in the relation of interstate and intrastate passenger fares and to establish passenger fares for the transportation of passenger in intrastate commerce within the state of Nebraska."

It also is ordered that the carriers refrain from the same alleged unfair practices existing in the relation of interstate and intrastate charges for freight services and that they establish freight charges in intrastate commerce within the state of Nebraska, which shall exceed the charges in effect July 29, 1920, and applicable in amounts corresponding to the increases heretofore made by the carriers under ex parte 74.

Other Fares Unaffected.

The order is not authorized, however, to change the excursion convention and other fares for special occasions, commutation, and other multiple form of tickets or club car charges applicable to intrastate commerce within the state of Nebraska.

The order of the commission will become effective on or before March 22, 1921, upon notice to this commission and to the general public by not less than 5 days' notice.

While this is a clear knockout for the State Railway commission, it is entirely consistent with the position taken by the Interstate Commerce commission since the passage of the Esch-Cummins law. Identically the same opinion had been ordered in a number of cases wherein the states have sought to maintain the rates as fixed by acts of legislatures and railway commissions as against the rates promulgated by the Interstate Commerce commission on interstate business.

Purpose Defeated.

Commissioner Daniels, in his opinion, says:

"The interstate fare of the respondent carriers are generally on the basis of 3.6 cents a mile, while the intrastate fare is 2.5 cents a mile. This is a clear violation of the law."
