THE OMAHA BEE DAILY (MORNING) - EVENING-SUNDAY

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY.

NELSON B. UPDIKE, Publisher.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Associated Press of which The Bee is a member, is ex-clusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the is all mens published herein. All rights of publication of our special dispatches are also reserved.

BEE TELEPHONES Private Branch Frehange. Ask for Tyler 1000 For Night Calls After 10 P. M.

OFFICES OF THE BEE Main Office: 17th and Farcam Out-of-Town Offices: Steer Bide. | Washington 1511 G St. | Steer Bide. | Paris. France. 420 Rue St. Monore

The Bee's Platform

- 1. New Union Passenger Station.
- 2. Continued Improvement of the Nebraska Highways, including the pave-ment of Main Thoroughfares leading into Omaha with a Brick Surface.
- 3. A short, low-rate Waterway from the Corn Belt to the Atlantic Ocean.
- 4. Home Rule Charter for Qmaha, with City Manager form of Government.

Bryan's Hope for Revived Party.

Slowly emerging from the grave into which great heart once more beats with measured pulse, and yearns with a great yearning for the party gram for the use of the revivilied body, in event it is not beyond resuscitation, in which are embodied the outlines of a policy comprehending all or nearly all of the variegated assemblage of paramounts to which the Peerless Leader has at different times and seasons given his energetic support. How successful he will be must awaic the issue.

One thing is in his favor. He has declared no vendetta, save that which with him is perpetual. He is content that his party shall have leadership, and he knows full well who is qualified to lead. On his main theme he stands firm; demogracy can not be brought to fighting form. again through the ministrations of those who led the party to overwhelming disaster. Its recovery, if at all, will come because of its appeal to the voters, and this fact is recognized by Mr. Bryan, who has prepared his panacea accordingly. All our social ills are to be cured or minimized by a series of laws under which everything will be equalized, because everything will be regulated. But in this he has notable rivals. Adullamites are sought as persistently by the socialists and the farmer-labor party, and with the same bait, and success to either means a continuation of discontent among the multitude. Republican leaders recognize the danger that is inherent to such a victory as came with November's balloting. Given such a vote of coufidence as never before was had by a national party, they know that it contains a challenge which must be accepted, a pledge that is to be some widely divergent views and unify opinions - able surroundings. now separated almost by the poles, the Harding dministration will not achieve what is hoped for it. Yet the party leaders approach the task, consident that sound judgment will prevail and that before another presidential election has come ample justification will be afforded. A great deal of what Mr. Bryan sets out in his catalogue of things that are needed is comprehended in the republican program, and will be carefully looked after by a party that has always redeemed its promises. Such things as are chimerical or so tinctured with paternalism as to be abhorrent to republican ideals will go as they have hitherto, to the care of the demagogues who little reck what promises they make, so that promising but leads to power.

If Mr. Bryan succeeds in gathering under his standard the forces once responsive to his nod, he will have achieved a notable personal triumph. His task is a huge one, and will provide ample test for those powers of persuasion that gave him such prestige once, and made him' the potent prophet of the dissatisfied, the unthrifty, the indigent and the foolish who believe that the fiat of a legislative body can work the miracle only possible to patient toil and prudent management. The Bryan doctrine has altered little through all the years, but whether he will be chosen again to expound it for the edification of the multitude is to be determined.

Wisdom in Buying What You Need.

It is hard to drop old habits, and many a householder must have pondered on reading that sugar had risen $2 a hundred pounds over night, and asked "Had I better buy a lot before goes up higher?" Without professing any knowledge of the factors at work in the sugar market, it may be said that this inclination to hoard in the face of the fear of higher prices has been in the past a powerful factor for forcing them higher. It is the only practicable example of the ability to lift one's self by the boot-

The impulse of human nature is not to buy on a falling market, but to wait until the price shows signs of going up and then all jump in at once. In those lines where trade is dull, the first sign of a rise in prices would bring in a crowd of buyers.

The more correct and advantageous position s to supply the normal needs in all lines nownot to wait for lower prices or for the threat cf higher. Over in Iowa is an old farmer who for years has shipped cattle to the stock yards, never looking at the market prices, but loading them on the train when they have reached the best condition for being turned into mest. He declares that his profits have averaged as well or better than those of his neighbors who have striven so anxiously to arrive with their stock on the peak of the market. This is an extreme example, but it is not too much so to suggest that the laws of supply and demand are inexrable and that the attempt to outmaneuver hem is futile.

America's Sweet Tooth.

The Bureau of Crop Estimates has just reached the conclusion that in 1920 the American consumption of sugar was 92 pounds per capita. On the basis of 105,000,000 population. this amounts to 4.830,000 tons, or nearly that. Home production amounted to a little more than 2.400,000 tons, or about half what was required to meet the demand. That no real shortage in ugar existed is proven by the further disclosure that the 1920 consumption was 1,000,000,000 that used to give 16 quarts of milk for a dollar pounds in excess of that of 1919. These figures will give the public a little better idea of the extent of the exactions effected by the speculators, who were encouraged by the rulings of the democrats at Washington. No one will ever know the exact amount of money that was extorted from the family sugar bowl, but it was not only enormous but unnecessary, as events subsequently determined. When A. Mitchel Palmer set about to solidify the wotes of the sugar producing states of the south behind his desire to be president, he let down the bars for a flood of profiteering that exceeds any other of all the scandalous war-time record. America's sweet tooth was made to exude dollars at a rate that astonished even those who were engaged in the work of extracting the tribute, and the bureau's figures now are only a reminder of what the public put up with last year because the authorities were more interested in politics than in the real business of government.

Some Practical Aspects of Migration.

When the senate of the United States declined to give its consent to the Johnson immigration bill, and provide for a total exclusion cf foreigners for a term of one year, the thought apparently was that the United States yet has room for all who knock for entrance. On this point some room for difference of opinion exists, but another phase of the immigraton question is forcing itself unpleasantly on public at-

Among the visitors to our shores is typhus fever. This is essentially a disease of filth, it is communicated from person to person by means it was plunged at San Francisco, Mr. Bryan's of vermin, and its presence anywhere is indicative of the neglect of the ordinary decencies. That it has ravaged central Europe is the misof his soul's desire. He has announced a pro- r fortune rather than the fault of the people over there, for they are no more inclined to relish typhus or the carriers of the infection than are Americans. Yet this is not a good reason for admitting them to our shores. Word now comes from Italy that passage is forbidden to persons who come from the infected regions; they are stopped at the Italian frontier; it is likely a similar prohibition will be set up by other countries from which ship may be taken to the New World. Such action may appear inhumane, yet it is but a prudent quarantine against a deadly disease. Relief is not denied these people at home, and reason suggests they will for the present do better by staying at home and giving their attention to the big task of cleaning up the war

Some interest may also be noted in the protest that comes from Mexico against the crossing of the boundary by large numbers of laborers from this side. Demand is made here that these be removed from this country, where they have been harbored under the suspension of the immigration law, incident to war demand for common labor. Now they are told at home there is no work for them there. The two incidents disclose some of the practical aspects of the immigration question, and, with the growing state of unemployment at home, suggest that the house bill was wisely designed to correct a post-war condition that yet must be dealt with. When the normal currents of life are restored to something nearer a balance, then any great migratory movement will be of interest; at present it siminliftled. Unless it is possible to harmonize ply indicates a desire to get away from undesir-

O'Callaghan's Own Little Comedy.

One need be neither Sinn Fein or Orangeman, pro or anti-British, to extract a smile from the antics of Donal O'Callaghau, lord mayor of Cork, who is making the immigration laws of the United States, the passport regulations, and two of Mr. Wilson's cabinet officers look like the ingredients of a musical comedy. About all it needs is a medley of "Croppies, Lie Down" and "Lilibulero" to be perfect.

No blame or censure of any sort attaches to Mr. O'Callaghan; he came to this country in pursuit of a quest having to do with a cause to which he is devoted. If he found it necessary to adopt a subterfuge to escape from Cork and reach Norfolk, he followed the course that lay open before him. . When he reached Norfolk the fun began. Under the laws of the land he could not be permitted to land, yet he did land. While the State department was ponderously revolving its reels of red tape in the matter, the Labor department allowed the lord mayor to go about his mission of making speeches and appearing before committees.

When the scandal of the proceeding had reached a point at which it could no longer be ignored, the Labor department, to which the State department had passed the buck, solemnly decided that O'Callaghan was a seaman, and in this country without permission, and so should take ship without delay and sail to some foreign clime. It must have made "Andy" Furuseth grin when "Bill" Wilson ruled that the cie devant lord mayor was a seaman.

However, the visitor did not sail, and then a date was set for his departure and he was peremptorily ordered to decamp. Did he? Not much; he is now setting up a plea that he is a political refugee, and so entitled to asylum. Very likely recognition will be given him on this score, and he will stay here as long as he likes, a testimony to the peculiar quality of strabismus that controls the administration of our laws, And an outsider can not help thinking that if he were doing England any harm he would have been headed off at home, while it is not at all sure that he has helped the cause of Ireland bit, while Cork bobs merrily along without its lord mayor.

Some of these special days of dedication are bound to be more popular than others, and it is extremely doubtful if pay-your-bills day will over attract the interest that surrounds draw-yoursalary day.

Still, it will be some time before they take to arresting the aged father and mother of a criminal for not teaching him morals and conduct in

In refusing exemption from the income tax Mr. Harding has set a worthy example to those who are making the mistake of trying to shift their burdens.

Do the residents of South Omaha, who are suddenly acquiring new cellars, foresee a season of cyclones and tornadoes or an unusually fat crop of hops?

That "grave tax question" which faces congress is not half so grave to it as to the rest of

What has become of the old-fashioned cow

A Line O' Type or Two

IN the Review of Reviews, Mr. Herbert Wade

entitles his interview with Prof. Michelson, Measuring the Suns of the Solar System. Wonder how he explained it to the Prof? THE identity of the man whom Mr. Wilson designated as a "simple bungalow" remains a secret, although the best guess is Secretary

Oh, Take a Chance.

Quite inadvertently I missed lauds on Wednesday. No less the start, however, to read fhis morning in our village chronicle: "Lent will be observed by local Episcopalians with selfdenial and abstinence from wordy gaiety." There are a number of matters of absorbing interest I am prepared to communicate. Shall I—in the Wordsworthian sense—remain incommunicable, or venture ex-communication? Sine solo sileo.

WE have some copper stock that we were thinking of using to paper a henhouse, but it appears that the company is still holding annual some oatmeal. meetings, for what purpose we can only con

THE DELIRIOUS MILLINER.

(From the Boston Herald.) When the tide of indifference takes possession of a woman's heart it turns to marble, and pity the man who picks that un-fortunate woman for his wife. The moor-ings of common sense teach that the prog-ress of women in this world rests in the ca-pable hands of the feminine mental mahingry, that realizes the great value of the unexpressed and silent language written in attractive millinery hat symbols. A lady's hat, if becoming, is a sure and certain sign that her train of thoughts and feelings are logical, intellectual and sincere. It is my aim on Saturday, in the French Room of the millinery department of this store, to strew pathway of the best women in Boston with a trimmed hat triumph and opportunity that will admit of no controversy, but be declared the most successful and wonderful millinery sale I have ever attempted in this goodly city. C. A. Lockhart.

IN offering its law books for sale, the West Publishing Co. advertises wittily: "By listening in the trees at the entrance of the secret cave Ali Baba learned the magical words that would open the storchouse of the forty thieves."

Up to Date. Honolulu, Jan. 24.- A native guide was showing Punch Bowl—so called because it is extinct—to a tourist and said. "This crater has been dead twenty-five thousand and fifteen years." "Where do you get the fifteen years?" asked the tourist. "Fifteen years ago Professor Alexander he tell me crater been dead twenty-five thousand

J. U. H. OVERHEARD in Field's: "Is this Castile soap domestic?" "Well, it can be used domestically, but it is also good for the skim"

LET YOUR LIGHT SO SHINE. Sir: I have discovered a good use for the Gideon Bible. When the bathroom shaving light Bible. When the back of the dresser mirror at just a G. B. holds the dresser mirror at just W. S. the right angle.

DETROIT'S symphony orchestra seems to in need of saving. The Athletic Club's appeal mentions, with perfect candor and truth, that "the orchestra is about the only thing in the realm of art and culture which the city can

THE THOUSAND AND ONE AFTERNOONS.

VI. My brother (continued the fair Saidee) was suddenly dispatched to Norway to consult on a feat of engineering, so it was December when he reached Chicago. The bulk of the luggage had been sent on from Capri by express, and when he unpacked his things in his hotel he looked with renewed interest and curiosity on the pink shirt which his Eventleh Chicago. the pink shirt which his English friend had given him. He put it on, and as it fitted well enough he decided to wear it the remainder of the day, adding to it a green bow tie. After dinner he set out for a stroll, which was interrupted by a light rain, so, it being theater time, he turned into a house of entertainment and joined the line before the box office. Preceding him was a woman stylishly gowned and unaccompanied, and as she stepped to the window and partly as the result of other studies, are of the opinion that there is kinturned her profile to Valentine he saw that she ship between migraine and epilepsy. We cover all Omaha was very handsome, though by no means This does not mean that every epilepsy. young. She dropped a bill in taking her change, and when my brother recovered it for her she thanked him graciously, and their eyes met, as they say in the Saturday Evening Post. Unexpectedly her gaze remained fixed for several seconds, and becoming conscious of the fact she colored; then she turned away and passed hurriedly into the theater.

Valentine accepted the lady's momentary interest in him without surprise. He was young and good looking, even distinguished looking, and he was accustomed to the flattery of the female of the species. What intrigued him was female of the species. What intrigued him was the intensity of her gaze and her almost startled confusion. He paid little attention to the play; his eyes were busy searching through the audience for the object of his thoughts. When, the final curtain fell he took a stand in the lobby and scanned the outflowing faces. His vigilance was rewarded; the lady's answering glance was distinctly friendly and her color deeper. Valentine edged after her but helied when she stood tine edged after her, but halted when she stood at the curb waiting for her motor. She did not at the curb waiting for her motor. She did not look around, and after a step forward Valentine paused irresolute at her side. The limousine drew up, its owner stepped into it, and then, in the most natural manner imaginable, the fastworking carriage caller took my brother by the arm, assisted him swiftly into the machine, and cried. 'All right!' The chauffeur shot the car out of the jar.

OH, dear! Rollin Pease, the singer, is around again, reminding sundry readers of the difficulty of keeping them on a knife.

ATTENTION, OLD TOM BENDELOW. Sir: Tell Tom to try ammonium sodium nitrate to kill weeds and nourish grass. This was slipped to me by the chairman of a nift, eastern course, who says that two months' treatment will show results. As for the fortune, you grab it. "EGGS Dropping as Hens Eay."-Madison

This phenomenon may have served Isaac Newton as well as the apple did.

Quelle Surprise!

(From the Surprise, Neb., Enterprise.) Monday night the calaborse of the vil-lage of Surprise had an occupant. Towards night a solitary stranger roamed into town, and as he admitted that he was "on his uppers' was given a berth in the cooler.

Lest the place should be altogether too cool, Chairman Doty built a good fire in the jail, thoroughly warming the room and the bed. We will venture to say this man will remember for some time his lodging in

"CALL and see the caskets," urges a Phila-APPARENTLY.

The "Polyanna" washing machine is made in St. Louis. Is this machine for washing glad rags? D. H. H. "HELP! Help!" cries an Iowan. "They have introduced a bill in the legislature to make this the state song." We have space for only the

"Then hail! to Proud Iowa Queen of the West! To the strains of grandest music Proclaim her the best; Our liberties we prize and Our rights we'll maintain In God is our trust to Preserve her great fame."

A WAUKEGAN doc advertises himseli as "the dentist that don't hurt." Ouch! The Perfect Guest.

(From the Paxton Record.) Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drechsel spent Wednesday of last week at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Eustace Stinman, where they assisted in doing the weekly family wash.

ONE might refer to the remarks of the gen-sleman from South Carolina as Dialectics. Or mightn't one? B. L. T. mightn't one?

Easy to Believe.

You can never entirely disillusion a girl after a fortune teller has once informed her that she is destined to marry a tall, handsome man with lots of money.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Successful Quest.

There is this to be said for the man who hunts a gas lead with a candle: He usually hads what he is looking for.-Sioux City Tribune.

How to Keep Well

Questions concerning hygiene, sanita-tion and prevention of disease, subtion and prevention of disease, sub-mitted to Dr. Evans by readers of The Bee, will be answered personally, subject to proper limitation, where a stamped, addressed envelope is en-closed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases. Address letters in care of The Bee.

Copyright, 1921, by Dr. W. A. Evans.

SOME DIETS FOR DIABETICS. Mrs. M. F. writes that she had long to the Methodist church at harge of her mother, who had dia- Greeley, just a common every day charge of her mother, who had dia-betes. By following the plan dein five years: Substitute Jirch or diabetic flour in all cooking where ordinary flour

Saccharin for all sweetening. Famods Austrian physician allowed

The use of butter fats extensively as a sybstitute for the nourishment generally derived from Recipe for splendid oatmeal cakes: One cupful oatmeal.

One cupful pecans, chopped Saccharin to sweeten dissolved blespoonful of milk. Two eggs, beaten.
One and one-half teaspoonfuls oaking powder Enough milk to make stiff batter. Drop in small spoonfuls on waxed paper and bake till brown. Make batter stiff enough to keep from run-ning together. Will keep a long time.

Patient should have plenty of eggs, milk and butter fat. Mrs. H. D. was not so successful, but she writes: "My son, 5 years old, had sugar diabetes with 5 per cent sugar before we were aware of it (it is one of the most deceiving diseases). We took him to a specialist, who put him on a strict diet. In a week's time he sent his statements, disapprove of was stronger and began to play as meats unfloured. His bread I made "For breakfast he had unsweet-ened oatmeal with plenty of cream, and coffee. At noon, his bread and butter, one or two green vegetables a meat, coffee, dessert of jello and whipped cream or unsweetened fruits with cream. At night he usually had a poached egg, slaw, bread and butter

"He had celery, nuts, cheese, ripe tomatoes (in season) to eat between meals. His percentage of sugar was reduced to none for six months, then it gradually increased. By starving before it kills?" all one day we could reduce it.

About Sick Headaches.

H. S. O. writes: "You have said migraine and epilepsy are related. Will you please explain this? I was a sufferer from inveterate sick headaches from 30 years of age to late middle life, as also my sisters, mother, and four of her sisters. But none of our family to its remotest relatives so far as known were epilep-tics. Moreover, I have known many sick headache sufferers, but none of them were epileptics. Sick headache always ceases in late middle life, but epilepsy does not, as I under-

REPLY.

result of study of family trees and leptic has migraine or vice versa. Nor does it mean that every migraine family has epileptic members. If

Dr. G. D. Shipherd

and Associates Offer you a dental service that inticipates and fully meets every requirement of the HIGHEST CLASS DENTISTRY NOW IN OUR NEW OFFICES

SIXTH FLOOR SECURITIES BUILDING

Pay Us a Visit—Come Any Time, 613-20 Securities Bldg., S. E. Corner 16th and Farnam, Entrance on 16th St. Phones: Tyler 2732, 2733.

The Bee's Letter Box

space, we would like to say a few words in reply to the article, "What Censorship Contains," by J. Ralph Dykes, in the issue of the 11th. We are for the bill before the legislature for censorship of movng pictures; and stronger than ever fter reading his article in The Bec. Let us first get even as to church standing as near as may be. We be-

After reading his article scribed below the mother was cured | we have come to the conclusion that if the churches and ministers— Protestant and Catholic—are for this good bill, and our legislature should pass it.

To dur mind no body of men in Omaha, nor any other city, are bet-Use home-made cottage cheese ter qualified to pass on a moral is with one-third quantity of beaten sue, as to what is right or what is sour cream, eliminating the water from same. Plenty of good sweet should not see, than the ministers as a substitute for the nourishment. To whom else should this nation generally derived from sugar and look, for the things that build the moral fiber that has made us shine before the world as the most Chris-Of whom shall we learn the lesson of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of men, which can only be fully exemplified by the way of the cross. This brother is opposed to lawful ensorship, and yet, without statutory authority, he censors the entire ministry of the city of Omaha, the men who would teach him the way of salvation, and place his children's feet in the path that leads to happiness here on earth, and a home in heaven.

While we feel it is unnecessary for a layman out in a small country town to defend the ministry of Omaha, and the state of Nebraska, we feel it our duty to tell him that there are men in Nebraska, who rehis methods and doubt his sincerity.

Let this good brother quit his on green vegetables and chicken or worry about prohibition, for John is of soy bean flour, and he could eat to censor the films in the movies all he wanted, as this contained no they think unfit for children to see, starch. I used this flour for his they will do it no matter what he gravies and to thicken various or I may think about it. If as he says, the movies are steal interested get bulletins Nos. 4 and 20, eugenics record office, and Medical Record, September 2, 1916. Not Unusual Symptoms.

J. L. M. writes: "I am 80 years For several months I have had a cold, chilly feeling starting in my teet and now to my hips. My feat and legs always are cold. How does REPLY.

The symptoms are not unusual in old men. You should wear woolen underwear and woolen socks. Arterio sclerosis may cause dizzziness, high blood pressure, frequent urination Some people live with arterio scierosis many years.

A Cleaning Service That Reaches Out in All Directions

with fleet delivery autos. We receive and ship packages daily from and to dozens of neighboring states. We maintain branch offices at Brandeis Store, Burgess-Nash Co., Dresher The Tailors, and on the South Side. What more of a service could you suggest?

Let's show you the high grade of cleaning work that has drawn so great a patronage from everywhere.

Phone Tyler 0345-if on South Side Phone "South 0050.

DRESHER BROTHERS

Cleaners -- Dyers 2211-17 Farnam St.

Omaha Taxicab & Transfer Co

churches of all creeds are laboring for the salvation of our souls, and if they are making a fight to keep us clean, we should praise and not condemn them Stands for Censorship.

Greeley, Neb., Feb. 14.—To the ditor of The Bee: If permitted pace, we would like to say a few ords in reply to the article, "What ensorship Contains," by J. Ralph world that are bad; if any bad pictures cut them out.

It is up to us individually the best Christians that we can, and the best Christians that we can, and the best Christians that we can, and the churches are places for worship, but no man or woman is going to be chained and dragged before the world that are bad; if any bad pictures cut them out. It is up to us individually to be fight the church and the ministry As for us, we prefer the gospel as it is preached today to any we have all his life, and at the end, when his life is spent, the pastor who he has censored and fought through life, will conduct his funeral from the that if the hearer is right with God. church, and pray to God to have mercy on his soul. We have seen this done, and so has he.

other city, from any pulpit, to keep him busy for 12 hours, unless he is And we believe, that regardless of Let him borrow ho more trouble: what he says, we should continue to pray as our Lord has taught us. the church and state will not unite under the canon law, while he or I shall live, nor is there any desire it is done in heaven." Would it be shall live, nor is there any desire on the part of any of the churches carrying the program too far? T. J. HOWARD.

"Onward Omaha" A City of Confidence

ver heard, and we are here to state or wants to get right, he can take home thought sufficient from any sermon preached in Omaha, or any bring about this end. The u better man than most of us.

Because of a great faith in the future of our City men have invested money here, have established large manufacturing and commercial enterprises.

The Men Who Founded The Conservative HAD THAT CONFIDENCE. It was established nearly thirty years ago that workers might become Home Owners, that they might buy and build homes and that by their savings they could help others

build or buy

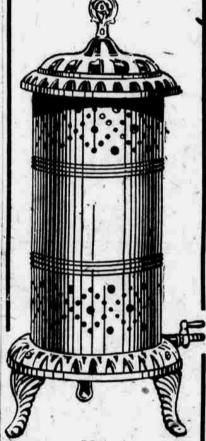

Money Invested in Shares of The Conservative has the best possible security first mortgages on improved real estate. In all these years shareholders have received their dividends promptly twice each year-January and July. Consider these facts. If you have no Savings Account why not start one now. Put your money to work, help yourself and help build Omaha.

Me CONSERVATIVE SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION

1614 Harney South Side Agency, Kratky Bros., 4805 South Twenty-fourth Street.

Your Coal Pile will finish the season if you use one of our Supplementary Gas Heating Appliances.

No. 1 Eclipse Heater $4.00

Many Other Types of Gas Heaters. Gas Department 0605 1509 Howard W. L. BURGESS,

Commercial Agent

PRE-WAR BAGGAGE RATES Call Doug. 8000

For those willing to pay the highest piano price in the world, the offers matchless value: a tone unequaled in purity, in beauty, in longevity; an action inimitably responsive to the players every mood.

Mason & Ljamlin

Highest priced-Highest praised

Other Notable PIANOS represented by this house are: The Kranich & Bach, Sohmer, Vose & Sons, Bram-bach Baby Grand, Kimball, Bush Lane, Cable Nelson and Hospe.

The APOLLO Reproducing Piano and the Gul-bransen Player lead the world in every feature of Real Player mech-

The Art and Music Store

A. Hospe Co. 1513 Douglas St.

ASSETS $18,100,000.00

York, Nebraska, January, 19, 1921.

Bankers Life Insurance Company, Lincoln, Nebraska. Gentlemen:

Twenty years ago I bought a policy contract in your Company for $1,000.00. This contract specified if I paid $35.05 each year for twenty years I would receive a policy paid up for life drawing an annual dividend. It also specified that if I should die any time after the first payment had been made, all the remaining payments would be cancelled, and my wife would receive $1,000.00 in cash at once.

Today your General Agent handed me the Paid Up Policy, according to agreement made twenty years ago. and in addition a draft for $390.16 cash for the dividends that had accumulated during the twenty years. If every young person could realize the value of an Insurance Policy in the Bankers Life your solicitors would not have to go out of their office to write all the business they could take care of.

Wishing you continued success, I am

Very truly

JOEL M. ROBERTS.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY . Matured in the OLD LINE BANKERS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Name of insured Joel M. Roberts Amount of policy $1,000.00 Total premiums paid $701.00

SETTLEMENT

Total cash paid Mr. Roberts $390.16 And a Paid Up Participating Policy for $1,000

If interested in an agency or policy contract write Home Office, Lincoln, Neb.