

Phone Exchanges Will Be Renamed

New Prefixes to Be Adopted For Douglas, Tyler, Colfax and South.

Change of the names of the Douglas, Tyler, Colfax and South telephone exchanges and omission of the names of members of firms following the firm names in the telephone book, will be features of the next issue of the Nebraska Telephone company's directory, out in April.

With the new automatic telephones in operation it has been found there are certain objections to using the first two letters of the prefix mentioned. Therefore new prefixes will be adopted.

A dollar extra a month is to be charged for "night listing." That is, a telephone ordinarily operated through a private branch exchange will not be operated at night unless it is listed under a separate number.

Individual telephones in offices, if they are equipped with a dial, will be charged for at the rate of 25 cents additional a month for each.

"Mikado," Presented Here by Omaha Opera Body, Well Received

Vocalists of the Omaha Opera association sang themselves into the hearts of representative Omaha in the performance of "The Mikado" at the Brandeis theater last night.

The performance was well received by an audience that filled the theater to capacity.

Cast for the opera was fitting in every respect, Miss Charline Johnson as the romantic "Yum Yum" and Charles Gardner as "the Mikado" portraying striking personalities.

Miss Ruth Gordon, Mrs. Bradley Roe and Miss Elsa Reese played major roles in the performance. Oscar Lieben, as "Ko Ko," offered appealing bits of comedy.

A chorus of 53 persons under the direction of James Edward Carnal was received warmly.

Another performance of "The Mikado" will be given tonight. Proceeds will go to the Day nursery.

Dog Hill Paragrafs

By George Bingham.

Poke Hazley says even a pleasure like whittling on a soft pine box with a sharp knife has its drawbacks, as the longer you whittle the smaller grows the place you have to sit on.

Atlas Peck was making one of his long-winded temperance speeches at the Wild Onion school building Saturday night, and he got thirsty, but in preparing the speech he had neglected to provide a place to stop and take a swallow of water.

Slim Pickens was away over at Bounding Billows the other day when a hard rain set in, and he did not have his umbrella with him, but he struck out for home as hard as he could go after it, but by the time he reached there the rain had ceased.

Spring Apparel

Is Here in a Fascinating Array

This season the versatility of the mode gives charming expression to the fine art of selection which marks apparel displays in this store.

Every occasion has been anticipated in the assemblage of modes for women and misses, therefore, the groups together are a complete representation of the better fashions.

The Suits—

Are cut on straighter lines, the box effect being very popular. The styles are varied, consisting of tailored, semi tailored and fancy models, trimmed in new braids and embroidery. Eton suits are also very smartly trimmed with wide silk sashes, often of vivid colors. Suits of covert cloth, of tricotine, Poiret twill and serge and suits of English tweeds and home-spuns are generally worn.

The Frocks—

The delightful textures of the new fabrics, the wizardry of the new colors, the artistry of the garnitures—each complements the other with the harmony one always noted in fashions shown here. Street frocks of heavier material, dainty dresses of taffeta, Canton crepe or satin are very stylish.

The Coats—

As always, the coats and wraps here make the utmost of each desirable fashion feature. The result is a most delightful assortment. Wraps have a graceful draped silhouette which make them tremendous favorites and very versatile garments—both smart and serviceable for any occasion.
