When under the sun's magic rays a wee bit of green tinges the dead brown lawns and the sap begins to stir at the roots of the trees, then, indeed, it is time for spring housecleaning. But the days of the semi-annual housecleaning, which are wont to sweep through every well ordered household under the direction of the mistress, are almost past, and nowadays it is the spring moving fever which grips us. Many of our matrons who have been living in apartments or hotels during the winter months are planning to reopen their homes shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Reed, who have been spending the winter at the Blackstone, will open their "Aloha" home, near the Country club, early in April. This attractive spot is to lose its name, for it now possesses a dull and drab street number.

Mrs. E. H. Sprague, who is now in Chicago, will return April 1 to open her country home.

Rosemere Lodge, the home of Mrs. C. A. Allison, which is located near Calhoun, will be reopened during April, as will Walden Wood, the Myron Learned home, near Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Congdon, who are at the Blackstone, intend to move into their town house during the spring.

Loveland Farms, one of the prettiest of country homes near Omaha, owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Love, Mr. and Mrs. Love are at present in the Colonial, but plan to return to their summer residence during April.

Mrs. F. P. Kirkendall, the owner of Kirkwood, near Florence, never stays overnight at her summer home, but spends many days in its cool grounds during the hot-months of the summer.

One home which need not be reopened this spring is that of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Melady. They have spent the entire winter at Balla Machree.
