

Loss of Eyesight Feared by Suicide

Partner Says Emil Rothschild Worried Over Health and Fate of Aged Parents.

A. V. Kinsler, partner of Emil Rothschild, wealthy Omaha grain man who committed suicide by gas inhalation in his home, 114 South Fifty-first street, Wednesday night, in an interview yesterday declared Rothschild was suffering from a serious stomach trouble, and a fear that he would become totally blind.

"Rothschild was already blind in one eye," said Kinsler. "A doctor told him he would lose his sight entirely if he continued to read and study. He was also worrying about his aged parents and other relatives in Germany."

Henry Monsky, former friend and advisor for Rothschild, was elected to fill the vacancy on the board of directors of the Rothschild Grain company Thursday. The company will continue to operate on the same basis, he said.

Rothschild's will is to be filed for probate in a few days. A large part of his estate will go to the widow. More than $50,000 in insurance will go to the company, according to Monsky.

Funeral services will be held Sunday morning at 10. Rabbi Frederick Cohn will officiate. Mrs. Rothschild, who is prostrated with grief, has requested no flowers be sent to the funeral. Instead friends and associates are to fund a fund to be known as the Emil Rothschild memorial, to be given to the Jewish Free Loan society.

I SAY TO YOU & YOU & YOU!

That after seeing the Rose Sydell "London Belles" at Des Moines last Monday matinee I feel free to state that it is the very best show I ever saw under this title. It is unnecessarily speedy, full of "wim and wigor" and staged more elaborately than many high-priced musical shows. As to the new comedian, Joe Marks, I used to think lightning was quickenscat, but this little chap has it heated for speed. And the beauty chorus of about two dozen—well, I can't yet figure out just how Florrie Ziegfeld ever allowed some of them to escape from Broadway. But come in and absorb the entertainment yourself; it's a credit to burlesk which in the old days was not mentioned in polite society. OLD MAN JOHNSON, Mgr. Gayety Theater.
