

Leaders Urge Extra Session Immediately

Lodge and Mondell ask President to Call Congress at Earliest Possible Date.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Washington, March 6.—Senator Lodge, republican leader of the senate and Representative Mondell, majority leader of the house, urged President Harding to call both branches of congress into extraordinary session at the earliest possible date. They told the president they realized they were incurring the risk of becoming the most unpopular men in congress, but they thought the new administration's legislative program, with the question of tariff and taxation revision outstanding, should receive attention with a minimum of delay.

They pointed out that the important measures which perished in the legislative jam or by presidential veto yesterday would demand consideration as soon as the new congress assembles. Among these measures are the army and navy appropriation bills, determining the defense policy for the next year, and the Billingham immigration bill. All those measures are likely to lead to considerable debate and may consume the time of congress for several weeks before it can get down to business on the legislative program that the new president is expected to recommend.

New Star Shines in Burlesque; Joe Marks Makes Debut in Omaha

French Officials Are Pleased With Harding's Speech

Regard Inaugural Address as Justifying Opinion that U. S. Will Champion Right and Justice.

Paris, March 6.—French official circles, after studying President Harding's inaugural address, regard it as justifying French opinion that the United States would always champion France in matters of right and justice, and declare no cause for disappointment or discouragement is to be found in the message. While satisfaction was expressed with Mr. Harding's declarations, regret was felt that there was nothing to indicate his attitude toward the Versailles treaty and other problems. Officials professed to find support in their opinion that the United States would be brought into a league, but said they preferred not to discuss the present covenant, although asserting a willingness to have it amended so it could be understood that the United States would not be called on to participate in problems not concerning it. Frankness and sincerity are found by afternoon newspapers today in the address, although there is a sense of disillusionment in their comment. Particular satisfaction is found in the fact that Germany, as they view it, will find no comfort in the speech. The Temps emphasizes the optimism it finds in the message, noting that "this trait is thoroughly American." It praises the passages declaring for nonentanglement, as supplying "a remarkable model of patriotism," and notes that the president "does not fail to consider the possibility of war."

Weeks, Wallace and Fall Members of New Power Commission

Washington, March 6.—Secretaries Weeks, Fall and Wallace, who took office Saturday, will constitute the new federal power commission. Many applications for power grants are pending and the new commission is expected to hold an organization meeting in the near future.

Man Disappears; Note Says "He Was Game"

Wichita Falls, Tex., March 6.—State rangers and deputy sheriffs were investigating the disappearance of H. M. Haggard and a note found in his automobile in front of his home. The note read: "This was a mistake. We took him for another man. Look in cave north of Ellenville. He was game." Haggard drove toward Ellenville Thursday. In the car, driven to his home last night, was found some of his personal belongings, including his coat, which had a bullet hole in the left side of the front, and another near the shoulder. There was a red stain on the steering wheel.

Fine Didn't Have Dime When Arrested at Hotel

Paul Fine, dressed in the height of fashion, but without a dime in his pockets, was arrested by city detectives and is being held for investigation. Arresting officers say Fine, living in style at a local hotel, couldn't meet a hotel bill of less than $25, although he was "part owner of the Fontenelle film exchange."

Little Hope of Agreement on Reparations

Even Most Optimistic of German Delegation do Not Believe Allies Will Accept Proposals.

London, March 6.—Unless new instructions are received from Berlin, Dr. Simons, German foreign secretary, on Monday will read a statement designed to refute the argument made by Premier Lloyd George before the conference Thursday. This statement probably will be followed by counter proposals, which even the most optimistic of the German delegation do not believe the allies will accept.

In such event, the reparations conference will break up, the German delegates will return home and the penalties authorized by Mr. Lloyd George enforced.

Dr. Simons and his colleagues, in collaboration with the Berlin cabinet, have spent most of the time since delivery of the ultimatum in drawing up a reply. He will present figures in an endeavor to prove Mr. Lloyd George's statement respecting German taxation was inaccurate, and will ask the allies to suggest a means whereby Germany can meet their economic demands. He will point out that while the German income tax is small, German incomes are proportionately small.

Bluffs Masons Lay Cornerstone At High School

Several Thousand People View Ceremony at Site of New Thomas Jefferson School; Parade Was Large.

Thousands of Council Bluffs citizens thronged the streets and sidewalks in the vicinity of the site of the new Thomas Jefferson High School, Twenty-fifth street and Broadway, Saturday, to witness the ceremony incident to laying the cornerstone, which was done under the auspices of the Masonic grand lodge of Iowa.

A platoon of police and another of firemen, all in full uniform, headed the parade from the Masonic temple to the school site. Several hundred school children, wearing the colors of their buildings, formed the first division. Then came the R. O. T. C. battalion of the Lincoln High school, comprising five companies and about 600 boys.

Hoover to Make But Few Changes In Department

New Secretary of Commerce Sees Great Possibilities in Field—No Places for Job Hunters.

Washington, March 6.—Herbert Hoover, in taking the oath as secretary of commerce, expressed the belief that the department promises "as much or even more than any other" of the American people, than any other.

Mr. Hoover addressed briefly, the ring composed of bureau chiefs and assistant bureau chiefs who witnessed the ceremony. The new secretary highly praised the work of the various bureaus and indicated that he expected to make no radical change in the personnel.

Assistant Secretary of Commerce Edwin F. Sweet, who tendered his resignation, was asked by Mr. Hoover to remain temporarily until a new assistant was selected. Another tendering his resignation, was accepted whenever a successor is appointed, was Sam L. Rogers, chief of the census bureau. While the appointment as chief of the census bureau is regarded as one of a political nature, many of the bureaus in the department, such as the bureau of standards, are of a scientific nature and Mr. Hoover indicated that no changes in them was contemplated.

"This is not a political department," said Mr. Hoover. "The job hunters will not find anything here. Many of the heads of the scientific bureaus in the department have been in the service for years and have been promoted from one place to another. The appointment of some of their dates back to President Roosevelt. There is no intention to make changes in bureaus of a scientific character."

When asked about the bureau of foreign commerce, of which Dr. S. MacElysee is director, Mr. Hoover would make no definite statement, but remarked that the present head of the bureau had been promoted from the service, and that his predecessor also had been selected from within the personnel of the bureau in the same way.

Is a Bad Back Making You Old?

Is a dull, nerve-racking backache wearing you out—making you feel older than you are? Do you find it hard to keep going—impossible to be happy or enjoy your work? It's time, then, you looked to your kidneys. A cold, chill or overwork may have weakened the kidneys and brought on that nagging backache and those sharp, piercing pains. You may have headaches, dizzy spells and annoying kidney irregularities, too, with a tired, nervous, depressed feeling. Don't wait until the trouble becomes serious. Take things easier for awhile, eat little meat, and strengthen the weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

These Are Omaha Cases

North Twenty-Fourth Street Will McNamara, proprietor of barber shop, 5214 North Twenty-fourth street, says: "I suffered from disordered kidneys, which I think was caused from being on my feet so much. My back was lame and painful and there was a hazy appearance before my eyes. My kidneys acted too freely, too. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and bought a box at the Adams-Haigh Drug Co. Through the use of Doan's all the trouble was driven away and I have never been bothered since."	South Seventeenth Street Mrs. E. E. Bates, 707 S. 17th St., says: "I was weak in my back from a bad condition of my kidneys. This annoyed me a great deal and seemed to take all the ambition from me. Bending over would cause sharp pains to pierce the small of my back and kidneys. I had an awful time with dizzy spells. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, and they relieved my condition in a short time. After using some two or three boxes my relief was permanent."	South Twenty-Fifth Street W. E. Allsman, 525 S. 25th St., says: "I was so lame and sore across my back I could hardly turn in bed. When I got up in the morning I could hardly realize I had been in bed at all. At times I would feel hot all over. My kidneys acted irregularly. The secretions were highly colored and burned in passage. It was only a short time after I began using Doan's Kidney Pills that the condition of my kidneys was better. One box relieved all the trouble and I have had no kidney disorder since."
