a paternity charge. The man had left Table Rock suddenly, but was located by Sheriff McClung. When arraingned here, Jilck agreed to settle the affair by marlage.

He worked near Table Rock for several months following the wed-ding. He enlisted with a Bohemian regiment at Omaha in 1918 and was sent overseas, leaving his wife and baby at Table Rock. While he was in the service the wife received her allotment regularly. Later the allotments stopped arriving.

A report came to Falls City that the soldier had been drowned. An investigation was made, with the result that the alleged marriage of Jilek with a Bohemian girl in his home land was disclosed. The outcome of the affair is some
