

Receiver to Be Appointed for Blair Bank Soon

Committee of State Bankers Meet in Omaha to Take Protective Measures—Davis at Meeting.

Names of three possible appointees as receiver for the defunct banking house of A. Castetter, Blair, Neb., are mentioned by members of the Nebraska Bankers' association committee, named to protect the interests of other state banks in the settlement of the Blair affair. The committee met yesterday in Omaha at the Athletic club with Attorney General Clarence A. Davis.

The three men are Dan W. Gaines, vice president of the State Bank of Omaha; Eugene Burdick, vice president of the Plateau bank of Herndon, and his eldest son, Earl, cashier.

The elder Burdick was the first man mentioned for the appointment early in the week, but he declined to permit the recommendation of his name, as he is too busy to serve, it was learned.

Differ on Receiver.

Out-of-town members of the committee favor either Burdick or his son, Earl, but Omaha interests are said to favor Gaines' appointment. The receiver will be named soon, possibly today, according to W. B. Hughes of the Nebraska Bankers' association.

The Merchants National bank of Omaha is interested in the Blair failure, as deposits of the Castetter bank were made in this institution. Fred Hamilton, vice president of the Merchants bank, declined to state whether any collateral was held by his bank.

"I don't care to state whether we hold any collateral or not. That is information that we do not give out," said Hamilton.

T. L. Matthews, president of the Fremont State bank, named chairman of the committee, which will meet in Blair every Wednesday for the next four weeks, at least, until the Castetter affairs are straightened out as well as possible.

Members of Committee.

J. B. Gibson of Norfolk, A. L. Schantz of Omaha, W. E. Miner of Oakland and C. A. Schmidt of the State bank of Blair are the other members of the committee.

Attorney General Davis announced he would go to Blair this morning. Charges will then be filed against E. H. Claridge, missing president of the bank, it is anticipated. Claridge, for 30 years a highly esteemed citizen of Blair, was the son-in-law of the founder of the banking house.

The state guaranty fund will be "out" several hundred thousand dollars, according to unofficial reports. The 1,050 other state banks in Nebraska will have to make up the loss.

The Devil to Ride Over Omaha Tonight

The devil will ride over Omaha tonight. Amid a glare of lights and special fireworks, old Mephisto will swing from a plane, piloted by Jack Atkinson, former chief of the aerial police at Denver. The "devil" will release nonflammable airplane bombs over the city and will chime the Sun theater with his fiery rays in anticipation of the opening of "The Devil" photoplay, which starts Sunday.

Sunday afternoon at 1 Atkinson will pilot "the devil" to an altitude of 5,000 feet over the Ak-Sar-Ben field, from which height the red-uniformed boy will jump with a parachute especially constructed by the Scott Tent & Awning company.

Warrant Issued for Driver Injured in Auto Smashup

A warrant for the arrest of John Vizzard, 2417 North Twenty-second street, was issued by the police yesterday.

Vizzard, according to the police, lies at his home with several broken ribs and other injuries, received when the automobile in which he was riding with a companion, collided with another car belonging to E. C. Williams, 2441 Pratt street, parked at Twenty-second and Lotthrop streets last night.

Police charge that Vizzard was intoxicated while driving his car and that he and his companion fled after the collision in which both machines were badly damaged.

Get Acquainted

THIS is "Minnie." His other name is Frank J. Menousek the office files show. He is foreman of the Bee's press room. When he stepped in their enlarged the place in order to accommodate the "big boy" height and bulk. Knows all about presses. That's conceded. But when it comes to gas engines, he's a "diver," his friends say. They tell a story of a recent occasion when he spent 45 minutes in close inspection of his car's mechanism and vain efforts to rouse it into energy. After which, his 10-year-old son came to the rescue with the suggestion that "there wasn't any key in the switch."

Menousek is one of the principal reasons why The Bee is "easy to read." It is always clearly, cleanly printed. That's "Minnie's" pet pride. It makes a big difference to the reader, especially if his eyesight is slightly impaired.

If you'd like to see "Minnie" on the job, step into The Bee press room some time and watch the crew there run off an edition of The Bee.

Four Nabbed in Raid On Wirt Street House

Mary Peterson, 1821 Wirt street, was arrested early yesterday by a raiding squad headed by Sergeant

Olaf Thestrup and charged with operating an ill-governed house. Police seized a quantity of "hot brew" and also arrested three inmates. They gave their names as Grace Schofield, 3917 Farnam street; Joe Randall, automobile salesman, Fortieth and Farnam streets, and Edward Burman, X-ray operator, Sixteenth and Burdette streets. The case was continued in police court until next Tuesday. Sergeant Thestrup said that several neighbors had made complaints to police about the Peterson home being an alleged "bootlegging" place where one could buy liquor at any hour of the day or night.

ONE MINUTE STORE TALK

"You folks are certainly to be congratulated upon your courage and optimism in preparing such a very large showing of spring clothes. Time was when the conduct of a clothing store did not take so much thinking ahead. It must be a revelation to every man who comes here and who stops to think of the far-reaching service you strive to offer and, succeed in so admirably," commented a customer.
