

Street Widening Plans Encounter Little Opposition

Benefits of Douglas and Harney Projects Set Forth at Hearings Before City Council

No serious opposition to the proposed widening of Harney street, Twenty-fourth to Twenty-sixth, and the widening and opening of Douglas street, Twentieth to Twenty-seventh streets, was encountered at the hearing before the city council yesterday.

These projects will be submitted to the voters at the regular city election, May 3, together with other projects on which hearings will be held this week.

The hearings yesterday were on awards of damages reported by boards of appraisers, being a total of $244,351.50 in the case of Douglas street, and $250,193.02 on the Harney street improvement.

Benefits Offset Cost.

Mayor Smith explained that the law does not provide for making the plans of assessment to property owners, until after the awards have been approved by the voters and the city council. He asserted that it was the sentiment of the council and others that the benefited property would bear most, if not all, of the cost of improvements.

J. L. McCague, chairman of the board of appraisers on the Douglas street improvement, stated that he believed the abutting property will absorb most of the appraisal, the owners being recompensed through enhancement of property values.

Harney Street Plans. The Harney street improvement contemplates taking 14 feet from the south side of the street, Twenty-fourth to Twenty-sixth, thus affording an 80-foot street. The largest award in this appraisal is that of the Wise hospital, which is valued at $101,702, on account of about 11 feet of the hospital building being included in the proposed widening.

Thomas S. Kelley, owner of the Maywood apartments, Sweetwood avenue and Harney street, was allowed $61,310, of which amount $57,000 was allowed for the entire apartments of four stories and fronting 50 feet on Harney street. The appraisers figured that 11 feet from this building would render it practically unusable for further use.

Mr. Kelley replaced for $80,000. With 14 feet taken from his lot, there would be 36 feet left. Harry Tukey of the appraisal board stated that the appraisal of the property taken was on the basis of $700 a front foot.

Mrs. Charles Rosewater, interested in the Douglas street project, told the council that her property on Twenty-fifth street would be left in an unusual condition if the improvement should be accomplished as planned. The proposed opening of Douglas street from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-fifth avenue would leave a seven-foot strip on the south side of Douglas street and her property. She anticipates that her property will be assessed considerably for the improvement and yet she would not have Douglas street frontage unless she acquired the seven-foot strip in question. The city cannot take this strip because there is no excess condemnation law. Mrs. Rosewater stated that this Douglas street improvement has been pending for 20 years.

The Douglas street project contemplates widening from Twentieth to Twenty-fourth by taking several narrow strips on the north side of Douglas; opening from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-fifth avenue to a width of 70 feet, and widening from Twenty-fifth avenue to Twenty-seventh street by taking a ten-foot strip on the north side.

Your Face and What It Tells

Character Analyst Visits Auto Show and Studies Salesmen Handling Pleasure Car and Exhibits—Finds Them Rightly Placed.

By MABEL WARNER RUGG. IF the salesmen and managers who met the public at the automobile show last week were thoroughly representative members of the motor industry in Omaha, then I can say with authority that there are few men distributing autos here who do not belong in that game.

Through every aisle and from subcellar to attic the motive mental type held the strong majority. Out of about 150 auto men holding forth in their respective exhibits only eight showed a noticeable development of the vital structure, and they were very well balanced with the motive structure as well.

Only one strongly mental type did I find among the salesmen through the whole Auditorium, and he, too, had sufficient motive development to make him successful with a car of the type he sells.

Different Type for Trucks.

There's one point the character analyst never overlooks when recommending salesmanship as a vocation. Not only must the analyst discover whether or not the person would be successful at selling, but also what sort of product he should handle.

For instance, the analyst would not as a rule pick the same type of man to sell trucks as to sell pleasure cars. I found the rule proven. There the salesmen were predominantly of the more mechanical type, who enjoyed showing the mechanics of engine power in detail.

The automobile industry offers a fascinating, yet dependable future to the young man or woman of the right type. It is already gigantic in its scope and yet has only begun its growth.

To the person with imagination and selling ability, the distributing end offers unlimited opportunity.

The more mechanical personality should go into the production end of the business with its various phases, such as designing, construction, and assembling work.

In tomorrow's article I will take up the truck, tractor and farm implement businesses in their relation to vocational opportunities.

Judge Refuses To Name Receiver For Hotel Firm

Basics Denial on Fact That Receiver Appointed in Bluffs Before Bankruptcy Move Made in Omaha.

Application for the appointment of a receiver in Omaha for the North American Hotel company was denied yesterday afternoon by Federal Judge J. W. Woodruff after the court had ousted Jesse S. Newton as receiver of the company.

Judge Woodruff explained that the application was denied because of the appointment of a receiver for the company in Council Bluffs before bankruptcy proceedings were begun in Omaha last Saturday.

Counsel for the petitioning creditors in Nebraska asked that a restraining order be issued by the court enjoining the Iowa receivers from taking further property of the company out of Omaha. Judge Woodruff denied the request.

Victory for Iowans.

Decision of the court is a victory for the Iowa faction, represented by Attorneys Ben Baker, J. H. Ready and Glen Kimball.

Following filing of the order ousting Mr. Newton as receiver for the hotel company in Omaha, Judge Woodruff rebuked Attorneys Ralph West and Raymond G. Young for their failure to notify him of the circumstances in the bankruptcy proceedings started in Council Bluffs. They were given 24 hours to apologize. Both offered apologies immediately.

In denying the application for appointment of a receiver in Omaha, Judge Woodruff said:

Connection Between Firms.

"This court understands there is close connection between the affairs of the North American Hotel company and those of the Bankers' Realty and Investment company. There are appealing reasons why the administration of both estates should be carried out in the same jurisdiction."

The court granted parties interested in opposing the decision five days to file a petition of intervention.

Plaintiffs in the petition filed in Omaha comprised a group of Nebraska creditors claiming $1,133,044. The petition filed by Iowa creditors in Council Bluffs cites alleged claims amounting to $55,000.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes lays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "nerve-up" the spirits. 15c and 50c.
