

Society

DURING Holy week society folk are refusing all invitations out and others are following various customs of religious observance for the week.

Holy Week Visitors. Mrs. E. A. Vansant of Dubuque, Ia., and Mrs. L. C. Loveland of St. Paul, Minn., who are en route to their homes from California are spending several days in Omaha with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Fallon.

Mrs. J. M. Gross of Waverly, Ia., is also visiting her sister, Mrs. Fallon.

Mrs. Fallon's brother, C. O. Smith of Kansas City, will come here to spend Easter. Miss Marzette Fallon will return this week from the University of Nebraska to spend Easter with her parents.

Aline Kilmer to Lecture Here. Aline Kilmer, wife of the late Joyce Kilmer, well known poet who was killed in the world war, will speak on "Contemporary British Poets" Tuesday afternoon, April 12, at DuSable college and convent of the Sacred Heart.

Mrs. Kilmer lectured at the college last fall.

Art Lecture. Maurice Block, director of arts for the Omaha Society of Fine Arts, will speak on the "Henry Golden Death Exhibition of Paintings" at the Omaha public library Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The lecture and exhibit are open to the public.

For Mrs. Wheeler. Mrs. Draper Smith will give a small dinner and luncheon in honor of Mrs. H. H. Wheeler of Lincoln next Friday when Mrs. Wheeler will be her house guest.

Canteen Co. B. Canteen Company B will meet at the home of Mrs. O. C. Redick, 104 South Thirty-ninth street, Monday afternoon, March 28.

Virginia Offutt Has Chosen Attendants. Easter bells and wedding bells are ringing at the same time this year as a number of girls will become brides during the season of Res.

Miss Virginia Offutt has chosen Miss Gertrude Stout for her maid of honor.

Miss Offutt will take place April 2 at the First Presbyterian church. The only other attendant at this wedding, which is to be a quiet affair, will be Henry Lubberger, the best man.

Invitations for this wedding are new cut.

Personals. Miss Jeanette Walford will spend Easter with her parents in Hickman, Neb.

Mrs. L. O. Fanning of Platte Center, Neb., is visiting at the J. W. Naylor home.

Rennie Cotton of Denver, who has been spending a few days with her father, Ben Cotton, has returned home.

Miss Virginia Leusser, a student at Wellesley college, will spend the Easter vacation with relatives in Easton, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Morris of Belmond, Ia., are visiting at the home of Mr. Morris' mother, Mrs. B. J. Morris.

Charlotte Denny, who underwent an operation for appendicitis Saturday at the Swedish Mission hospital, is convalescing.

Mrs. H. H. Baldrige returned Monday from a trip to Honolulu and California. Mr. and Mrs. Baldrige will reopen their home immediately.

Mrs. A. L. Ludwick and small son, Arthur Lee, will spend Easter in Kansas City. Major Ludwick has just returned from a trip to Kansas, City.

Richard H. Young, son of Dr. and Mrs. G. Alexander Young, who is attending Kemper Military Academy at Boonville, Mo., took part in a play given at the school recently.

Miss Irene Simpson, a student at Wellesley college, and Miss Flora Marsh, who attends Kent Place school at Summit, N. J., will spend the Easter holidays in Washington, D. C. and New York City.

Miss Margaret Porter Spaulding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Spaulding, who is well known as a singer here, will return to Omaha after Easter from Chicago where she spends the greater part of her time.

Problems That Perplex

Answered by BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Dear Miss Fairfax: As I have read your splendid advice to others, I thought you could help me out. I am a boy of 19 summers and am working at present. But I am unhappy, in fact I am simply discouraged with life.

My chief object is my having girl friends, saying, you will have plenty of time after you are 21.

Now, Miss Fairfax, I think I am old enough to have a few girl friends, don't you think so? I never invite anyone to my home as the folks give everyone a cold reception.

There is something very inconsistent and unbelievable about your letter. A boy whose parents do not consider him old enough to go with a girl at 19 years of age, who says he has been drinking heavily of late, is rather a queer person to visualize.

Yes, I think you are old enough to go with girls, but a boy who has no more strength of character than to drink considerably because his parents won't let him go with the fair sex, would probably drink himself to death if he did have the society of young women.

Dear Miss Fairfax: Your article entitled "The Family Quarrel" in The Bee of March 16 has attracted my attention and would like to inquire as to whether you could lay it down as a common practice.

I think in the majority of cases the man's mother thinks her son is too good for any woman and in most all cases I really think that it is a mighty good idea to let a young couple get their experience by practice.

It's better, I think, you will find, if you enquired from any 20 married couples of over five years married life, to not have the man's mother doing too much advising. It hardly fits in the long run and may become an expensive habit.

I am glad you wrote me, Fred, for I think what you have to say is a valuable addition to the article referred to. It is true that fact should not be entirely one-sided.

Dear Miss Fairfax: Your article entitled "The Family Quarrel" in The Bee of March 16 has attracted my attention and would like to inquire as to whether you could lay it down as a common practice.

I think in the majority of cases the man's mother thinks her son is too good for any woman and in most all cases I really think that it is a mighty good idea to let a young couple get their experience by practice.

It's better, I think, you will find, if you enquired from any 20 married couples of over five years married life, to not have the man's mother doing too much advising.

I am glad you wrote me, Fred, for I think what you have to say is a valuable addition to the article referred to. It is true that fact should not be entirely one-sided.

Dear Miss Fairfax: Your article entitled "The Family Quarrel" in The Bee of March 16 has attracted my attention and would like to inquire as to whether you could lay it down as a common practice.

I think in the majority of cases the man's mother thinks her son is too good for any woman and in most all cases I really think that it is a mighty good idea to let a young couple get their experience by practice.

It's better, I think, you will find, if you enquired from any 20 married couples of over five years married life, to not have the man's mother doing too much advising.

I am glad you wrote me, Fred, for I think what you have to say is a valuable addition to the article referred to. It is true that fact should not be entirely one-sided.

What's What

By HELEN DECIE

Whatever other dangers of inferior taste may do, it is neither sensible nor artistic for a woman past 60 to dress in costumes designed for 16-year-old school girls.

Stately elegance should be her keynote; real lace if she owns it; soft malines; if she cannot afford good lace; flowing robes of crepe de chine, or of velvet as rich as her means can compass.

To soften such leather after it has been wet and dried stiff, rub in thoroughly a little plain vasoline.

Pittsburgh women have formed a "pistol club" to protect themselves and their homes from robbers.

Dear Miss Fairfax: Your article entitled "The Family Quarrel" in The Bee of March 16 has attracted my attention and would like to inquire as to whether you could lay it down as a common practice.

I think in the majority of cases the man's mother thinks her son is too good for any woman and in most all cases I really think that it is a mighty good idea to let a young couple get their experience by practice.

It's better, I think, you will find, if you enquired from any 20 married couples of over five years married life, to not have the man's mother doing too much advising.

HOLDING A HUSBAND

Adele Garrison's New Phase of Revelations of a Wife

The Question That Dicky Asked Madge.

Lillian's proposal "to break up the party" was received with genuine protests by Alfred and Leila, and perfunctory ones by Mrs. Durkee, who, I knew, was the real instigator of Lillian's little speech.

Edith and Dicky said nothing at all, although Dicky's eyes were dancing, as if he were intensely amused about something.

We strolled across the lawn together, Lillian, Marion, Dicky and I, and intensely grateful was I for the excited chatter which Marion kept up.

Stately elegance should be her keynote; real lace if she owns it; soft malines; if she cannot afford good lace; flowing robes of crepe de chine, or of velvet as rich as her means can compass.

To soften such leather after it has been wet and dried stiff, rub in thoroughly a little plain vasoline.

Pittsburgh women have formed a "pistol club" to protect themselves and their homes from robbers.

Dear Miss Fairfax: Your article entitled "The Family Quarrel" in The Bee of March 16 has attracted my attention and would like to inquire as to whether you could lay it down as a common practice.

I think in the majority of cases the man's mother thinks her son is too good for any woman and in most all cases I really think that it is a mighty good idea to let a young couple get their experience by practice.

It's better, I think, you will find, if you enquired from any 20 married couples of over five years married life, to not have the man's mother doing too much advising.

I am glad you wrote me, Fred, for I think what you have to say is a valuable addition to the article referred to. It is true that fact should not be entirely one-sided.

that she had come back into my life a cool woman of the world, with an abundance of weapons in her quiver, and a determination to use them.

"Distinctly Dangerous." How much conscience remained in her spiritual make-up I did not know. But in my mental card index I placed her under the heading "Distinctly Dangerous."

"If you don't mind, my dear, I am going straight to bed," she said. "Don't forget to call me early in the morning. We may have to get our own breakfast."

"Not a chance in the world," Dicky rejoined confidently. "You'll see Katie will be on the job in the morning with her hair in as many braids as Topsy."

"Let us hope so," Lillian rejoined laughing, shot me a meaning glance, and closed her door. I caught her flashed message, and knew that she wouldn't attempt to come to my room to discuss the traces of the marauders which she had found in the spilled-out contents of my "keep-sake trunk."

Dicky's Abruptness. My husband followed me into my room and looked around searchingly. "Weren't your trunks emptied also?" he asked casually. "I don't see any trace of marauders here."

"Just look at this trunk, look!" I returned quickly, hoping that my voice was equally matter-of-fact. "It was wrenched off, and the trunks upset and emptied just the same as the others. But as I knew everything that was in my trunk I could put the things back without making a list such as I will have to do with Mother Graham's trunks, my father's and yours, if you wish me to repack them. Then when they come back Mother Graham and father can check from those lists."

"I'll attend to my own 'thanks,'" Dicky said somewhat shortly. "And they're some mess too, if anybody should ask you. For, I'll unfasten those straps for you."

"Goodnight, I'm going to turn over what those devils have left me, and see what's gone. It looks as though a lot of my drawings were ruined."

Elsie Jans is London's latest accessories manager. She has taken over the Queen theater, in which she will produce her own plays.

Over half the Japanese population of the state of Washington are women.

She was so fair and slim, so slight and airy, they called her Feather. And she had other distinctions, this heroine of a great new story by FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT the author of "LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY" and "T. Tembarom"

For one thing, she married Robert Gareth-Lawless which meant entertaining and living on the "right side of the street." Overnight she was left penniless—and incredibly helpless. No girl was ever so hopelessly helpless as Feather.

It made her charming but it caused all kinds of trouble, especially to the Marquis, the head of the House of Coombe.

"The Head of the House of Coombe" is a story that the world will read and talk about—as it did about "Little Lord Fauntleroy." Why not read it tonight—in—

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING for April ERIC NELSON, Distributor 1618 Capitol Ave. - Douglas 6134

BUY-RITE STORES advertisement with list of products and prices.

COFFEE THE SIGN OF THE COFFEE CLUB. Look for it in store windows. The dealer who displays it can advise you in the right selection and making of Coffee—necessary to real Coffee satisfaction.

JOINT COFFEE TRADE PUBLICITY COMMITTEE 74 Wall Street New York

The best salesmen—Bee Want Ads.

Carrying your day into the night will soon wear you out. Many a good night's sleep is broken up by coffee-drinking.

INSTANT POSTUM a refreshing drink of rich coffee-like flavor, but free from coffee's harmful effects.

"There's a Reason" for Postum Made by Postum Cereal Company, Inc. Battle Creek, Michigan.

Express and Mail Orders Filled From This List

BUEHLER BROS. Omaha's Leading Cash Markets..... 4903 South 24th Street 212 North 16th Street 2408 Cuming

COFFEE THE SIGN OF THE COFFEE CLUB. Look for it in store windows. The dealer who displays it can advise you in the right selection and making of Coffee—necessary to real Coffee satisfaction.

JOINT COFFEE TRADE PUBLICITY COMMITTEE 74 Wall Street New York

The most helpless girl in the world— She was so fair and slim, so slight and airy, they called her Feather. And she had other distinctions, this heroine of a great new story by FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT

"The Head of the House of Coombe" is a story that the world will read and talk about—as it did about "Little Lord Fauntleroy." Why not read it tonight—in—

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING for April ERIC NELSON, Distributor 1618 Capitol Ave. - Douglas 6134

BUY-RITE STORES advertisement with list of products and prices.