3 Motorists Returning From California Narrowly Escape Death on Lincoln Highway Near Grand Island.

Grand Island, Neb., March 23.—(Special.)—Eight motorists, driving from California, narrowly escaped death and two of them face possible total blindness as the result of a crash between their two automobiles during a race after a persistent jackrabbit on the Lincoln highway near here.

The cars were driven by Fred Ryan, 25, Blue Island, Ill., and F. C. Caldwell, 38, Milwaukee, Wis., whose eyes were pierced by glass flying from the broken windshields of their cars.

In the Ryan machine rode Mrs. Ryan and Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Farnsworth of Uta, Ill.

In the Caldwell machine rode Mrs. Caldwell and two sons, Fred and William.

Returning From California. Both parties were tourists returning from California.

Four miles west of here a jackrabbit hit the trail in the center of the road ahead of the machines.

But the seriousness of the eye injuries prompted Dr. Farnsworth to place all the tourists aboard a train for Chicago, except the two Caldwell boys, and rush the drivers of the machines to surgical attention.

Neither Ryan nor the elder Caldwell were suffering great pain, but they were led to the train with their eyes bandaged.

Dr. Farnsworth said they may lose their eyesight.

The Caldwell boys continued their journey by automobile.

The rabbit scampered across a field when the cars collided.

Strike Called in Kansas Coal Mine

Howatt Says Walkout Ordered Because Company Laid Men Off as Retaliation.

Pittsburgh, Kan., March 23.—A. M. Howatt, president of the Kansas Coal Miners' union, announced a strike of 450 men which went into effect at the mines of the Patton Coal and Mining company here yesterday, had been called by him at the instance of the union's executive board.

Action by Howatt and the board in calling a strike several weeks ago led to their arrest on charges of violating an injunction forbidding the calling by them of strikes and the arrest of Howatt and August Dorchy, union vice president, on charges of violating the criminal provisions of the state industrial court laws.

Today's strike, according to Howatt, resulted in the alleged laying off of a group of men, in retaliation, he said, for union demands that a mine foreman be discharged. The operators on the other hand, asserted that the men were laid off to meet a varying demand for coal.

Simply chew them, no hot water nor any other fillers for a stomach perhaps already too much overworked.

Steaming Still Found In Sub-Basement of House; Owner Jailed

Fremont, Neb., March 23.—(Special.)—Police discovered a still in full operation at the home of Fred Pennington, 26, who is "baching" near the city limits with his father and brother.

Acting on a tip, the officers appeared in the wee hours of the morning with a search warrant. Pennington was not in bed at the time and he smilingly invited the officers to do their best.

The trained nostrils finally led the police to the cellar of the home, where a trapdoor, cleverly hidden with dirt, was uncovered. The opening led into a secret sub-cellar of substantial size.

There—steamed up and working—was a still with a "corn" into containers. Coils, sugar, charcoal mash and the usual paraphernalia made up Pennington's distillery. Seven gallons of the finished product were neatly bottled and ready for market.

Pennington pleaded guilty and was given 60 days in the county jail to meditate on the Volstead act. Federal authorities will await Pennington upon his release from the county clutches.

Get Acquainted

THE Bee hardly would be The Bee without him. This is Theodore W. McCullough, chief editorial writer. He's been with The Bee in various capacities for so long "memory of man runs north not to the contrary."

Started as a printer back in empty-ump. "Those were the happy days," he heard to reminisce. He isn't sure yet whether he's risen or "blackballed" in the intervening years. Still holds a union card and just to show he remembers the tricks of the trade he rambles into the composing room every now and then and "makes up" his own editorial page.

We asked him how many editorial he had "turned out" in 20 years of more or less strenuous wielding of the editorial pen. He estimated the number at something over 10,000. You probably have read a lot of them and liked them. They're always clear cut and forceful and distinguished by a fine choice of words.

Jury Convicts Men Who Got Goods From Merchants to Sell Under Market Prices—Youngest Paroled.

Fremont, Neb., March 23.—(Special.)—Victor, Theodore and Gilbert Petersen, brothers, implicated in a swindle game in Fremont last October, were found guilty by a jury here today. Sentences are to be imposed on the latter two at a later date but Victor is to be paroled to the control of his mother in Valley, whose sympathies during her sons' troubles were only for the younger. She blames the elder sons for his participation in the affair.

The defendants went on the stand in their own behalf and admitted that it was their plan to contract for the merchandise received from the Fremont merchants and then sell it for less money in order to acquire funds they declared they needed in a hurry. The brothers stated that they intended to pay their accounts within 30 days, when they expected returns from a land deal. But the evidence failed to show that they were engaged in that business and that any such deal was in the making.

Victor has been under bond furnished by his family since his arrest. The older brothers, however, have been in the county jail awaiting trial.

Holdrege Farmer Tells of Swindle

Says Los Angeles "Bunko King" Took $20,000 in Fake Stock Deal.

Los Angeles, March 23.—(Special Telegram.)—John Swanson, wealthy farmer of Holdrege, Neb., told the court today how Everett A. Hutchings, alleged king of bunko men, swindled him out of $20,000 in a fake stock deal. Hutchings is suspected of being the head of the gang which has swindled tourists out of more than $1,000,000 in a little more than a year.

Swanson said he met a man giving the name of Hartman in a prominent downtown locality. Hartman introduced him to Hutchings, whose name he gave as Rogers and who he said controlled the board of trade. Rogers advised Swanson to gamble in mining stocks. Later Rogers declared he had won $102,000 for Hartman and himself, but could not pay it at the moment because he had been given personal checks.

Swanson desiring some of the easy money, went to Nebraska mortgaged his farm and returned with $20,000 in cashiers' checks which he cashed in San Diego to establish his credit. Hartman, through a "mistake," he said, subsequently lost the money for him in a stock deal. This deal never took place, he afterward learned. Swanson identified Hutchings as Rogers. A former police chief and several police detectives have been named as accomplices in the swindling transactions.

Hutchings was found guilty by the jury of having defrauded J. B. Norris of Decatur, Ill., out of $51,000 in a fake stock deal.

Loot in Stolen Mail Pouch May Amount to $92,000

Postal Officials Reticent About Theft of Bag at Centerville, Ia., Containing Cash, Securities and Jewels.

Centerville, Ia., March 23.—Postal officials here were reticent today on the loss of a registered mail pouch late Saturday night, but it was reported that approximately $92,000 in securities, cash and jewelry was in the missing mail, and jewelry was in the missing mail, and jewelry was in the missing mail.

It is not known here what postal officials are working on the case, but two representatives of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad and local authorities have been searching for information.

The amount of the loss was checked by reports from persons who said they had mailed registered securities and cash to Chicago Saturday and which mail it is said is in the pouch.

George Richmond, the driver of the mail truck, says he placed the mail against the door of the ticket agent's room in the depot as usual about 9:15 p. m. Saturday.

Adam Leishman was on duty as agent for the first time at that hour, and it is said had not been instructed by the agent usually took the registered pouches into the agent's room. He says he left about 9:30 and noticed only one locked bag in the pile of mail sacks, but did not take it. Daniel O'Hare came on duty at 10 and noticing one sack of registered mail notified Richmond, he says.

The missing sack disappeared some time between 9:15 and 10. The mail had been left at the station without guard from 9:30 to 10, it is said.

There were two pouches of registered mail. One for a westbound train was not disturbed. The missing mail was addressed to Chicago.

Burlington Road To Add 1,500 Men To Force April 1

Maintenance of Way Forces to Be Increased for Summer, General Manager Says.

W. F. Thiehoff, general manager of the Burlington railroad, announced yesterday the number of maintenance employees on lines west of Omaha would be increased by approximately 1,500 on April 1.

"We wish to get our maintenance work under way for spring and summer business," said Mr. Thiehoff. "Had we succeeded in reaching an agreement with representatives of labor during our conference in Chicago yesterday we would have taken on about 3,000 men."

Mr. Thiehoff attended the Chicago conference Tuesday. It was possible to reach an agreement on proposed wage reductions April 1 on the Burlington, and the matter will be referred shortly to the labor board, he said. Reference to the matter to the board, which is in session at Chicago, is made possible under the transportation act.

An 8½ cent an hour, or approximately an 18 per cent wage cut, was proposed by the railroad, which planned to make the reduction effective April 1. Failure to obtain the agreement of labor representatives will delay the wage reduction and make it impossible to take on the usual number of maintenance employees for the summer work, Mr. Thiehoff said.

Farmer Burns His House, Kills Self

Holdrege Man, Brooding Over Wife's Illness—Home and Barns Fired.

Holdrege, Neb., March 23.—(Special.)—Brooding over his wife's ill health is believed to have been the cause of Carl Halin, 59, wealthy farmer living nine miles northwest of here, setting fire to his large barn, cattle sheds, outbuildings and home, and then stretching himself on his bed and firing a bullet through his brain.

Neighbors for miles around were attracted to the place by the flames which lighted the sky. The farmer's charred body was found shortly after 10 last night when the walls of the home caved in.

Loss from the flames totals thousands, the Halin barn being noted as the largest in the community, filled with hundreds of tons of hay and the granaries filled with last year's crops. Pure bred stock was cremated in the sheds.

County officials said an investigation will be made. Two sons and the widow survive. Mrs. Halin was to have been taken home from a Kearney hospital, this week.

HIS NINE YEARS OF TROUBLE END, HE DECLARES

Milwaukee Railroad Man Says Tanlac Restored Him to Perfect Health—Gains 18 Pounds.

"Tanlac has put an end to troubles from which I suffered for nine years and has actually built me up 18 pounds in weight," said Edward J. Paul of 66 Twenty-ninth street, Milwaukee, tinsmith for the Milwaukee railroad.

"Yes, I'm feeling like a brand new man now, but before I got Tanlac I had the worst kind of a case of stomach trouble that cramped and hurt me terribly. I bloated until I had pains in my chest, my heart palpitated frightfully and it was all I could do to get my breath. I had to live on milk toast, cereals and the lightest kind of a diet. My liver was out of order. I was bothered a lot with constipation, and I had a bad taste in my mouth nearly all the time. I had awful spells of headache and dizziness, and my back hurt me until I could hardly stand it. I was so restless I couldn't sleep to amount to anything, and I had to lay off from my work from time to time."

"My father used Tanlac with such great success that he got me to try it, and seven bottles have done away with my troubles and put me in the best of health. I can eat just anything set before me now, and I never have an ache or pain. I'd have Tanlac in my house at any price, and all my friends know what a great medicine Tanlac is to have fixed me up so fine."

Tanlac is sold by the leading druggists.
