

Sunshine Comes To Starving Tots Through U. S. Aid

Girl Writes of Health and Happiness Where Misery Existed—More Help Needed.

A graphic picture of the sunshine brought to the little children of the Near East by American response to the cry of the stricken is contained in a letter sent here from Sidon, Syria, by Miss Josephine Huse a Nebraska university girl, who is in charge of an orphanage in Sidon, to Mrs. Guy Kiddoo, a personal friend.

Extracts from the letter follow: "We have just been notified that the Near East Relief is making an Easter drive for funds so I am writing directly to you because there is just time to have this reach you by Easter.

Listless and Emaciated. "Children who came to us listless and apathetic, their skins yellow and parched from malaria, their bodies emaciated; children who lay in their hospital beds day after day motionless, who showed no sign of animation nor any desire to walk, though they had been pronounced cured by the doctor—these children are now playing merrily and noisily, are running to school when the bell rings, and are begging to be permitted to sit up and study.

"If we can continue to care for these children until they are old enough to care for themselves decently, can train a few of the brightest to be teachers, and the others to be dressmakers, cooks, shoemakers and mechanics, we shall have been able to do a wonderful thing for the country which has suffered so terribly from the war. Should our assistance cease, I cannot let myself think of their future.

assistance cease, I cannot let myself think of their future.

Fate of Girls. "The girls would suffer more than the boys. The older ones would go as servants, wherever they could find work, they would be little drudges at best, working long hours for food and lodging and perhaps a mizedia (about 50 cents) a month. All of course would not find work. They would beg, as would the younger ones, and many would ultimately drift into prostitution.

"This work must go on. We have saved thousands of children. Now death by disease and starvation. Now let us continue to help them until they are trained to go out into the world and earn a good living for themselves.

Miss Huse included several histories of some of the children who have come under the care of the Sidon orphanage. A typical case follows:

Beheeya Assad, age 7, lost father, mother, two brothers and a sister from typhus during the war. For a year Beheeya wandered from village to village begging from door to door for a crust of bread, and eating grass from the fields.

Brief City News
Miss White to Wed—A license was issued Thursday afternoon to Miss Louise White and John S. Halbert of Salt Lake City. Miss White is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor White and is the girl who christened the scout cruiser "Omaha" last December.

Receiver Paroled—Carl Rose, charged with receiving cigarettes said to have been stolen by Roy Slack and Fred Sledge from Perego & Moore, 1408 Howard street, February 2, pleaded guilty in District Judge Troup's court yesterday and was paroled to Probation Officer Moses P. O'Brien for five years.

Bags Burn—After fireman fought a small blaze in a pile of rubbish in the Resnick Bag and Burlap company building, 337 North Twenty-fourth street, Thursday night, another fire of unknown origin ravaged the interior of the building at 7 Friday morning, doing a damage estimated at $10,000. Firemen declared they had found evidence of spontaneous combustion in 125,000 burlap bags stored in the place.

Dirigible for Sale—A large dirigible, 200 feet long and capable of carrying six men is for sale at Port Omaha, officers there declare. The balloon is too long for any of the balloon sheds and it is so large the expense of filling it with gas is too great. Only one officer at the port, Lieutenant Corbett, is capable of directing the balloon and he isn't anxious to take the elephant up in the air.

BEST TIME TO GAIN NEW FLESH

Those Who Are Thin and Pale Should Take Father John's Medicine Now.

Experts agree that this is the best season of the year to build up the strength and weight that has been lost during the winter. Father John's Medicine is best for this purpose because it is made of pure and wholesome food elements which strengthen and build up those who are weak and run down and are easily taken into the system. No alcohol or dangerous drugs.

Get Acquainted

PAUL Greer hails from Missouri. He possesses in the nth degree that far famed Missouri trait of desiring to know the why and wherefore of things in general and particular.

If you happen to mention in casual conversation with him that Washington is the capital of the United States, that your baby's name is Geopholus, or any little thing like that, he's instantly alert and suspicious, demanding the proof and the "how-do-you-know."

Perhaps that's what makes him a successful and reliable editorial writer. Never seems to accept anything as a fact until he's conducted his own private probe into its innermost details. It's always a safe bet that what he passes out to Bee readers has been analyzed and thoughtfully mulled.

Greer gave his services to the Kansas City Star for seven years and also "did a stretch" of newspaper publishing before coming to The Bee.
