

Senate Rejects Animal Health Regulation Bill

Parliamentary Tangle Follows Substitution of School Bond Measure for Industrial Bill.

Lincoln, March 30.—(Special)—Another regulatory measure fell by the wayside in the senate, when S. F. 345, to fix the powers of the state bureau of animal health, came up on third reading. It was killed by a vote of 18 to 14.

Those voting not included Bushie, Robbins, Anderson, Beebe, Bliss, Cooper, Davis, Dutton, Hoagland, Humphrey, Hillan, Johnson, Norval, Pickett, Randall, Reed and Witse.

S. F. 311 went to the committee several weeks ago as a bill to give the railway commission control over industrial sites and along rights of ways, and came out as a bill to permit precincts to issue school district bonds. After arguments that such a procedure was illegal, the senate voted on postponing the bill, but it lost, 14 to 17. A parliamentary tangle followed and the bill finally remained on the general file.

On recommendation of the judiciary committee, the senate killed two house bills, H. R. 428, an Omaha bill, making a penalty up to 10 years for interfering with officers quelling a riot, and H. R. 501, a bill to prevent traffic in stolen automobiles. The senate added an emergency clause to S. F. 326, changing the authority of publishing the session laws from the secretary of finance to the secretary of state and sending it to third reading.

These bills were passed on third reading.

H. R. 455—Sinking fund for irrigation bonds.

H. R. 182—Increasing term of mayor of town 1,000 to $5,000 from one to two years and making city engineer appointive instead of elective.

S. F. 311—Making more stringent employment agency laws to prevent imposition on laborers.

The senate voted, 23 to 0, to concur in the action of the lower house in striking out the emergency clause in S. F. 102, a bill increasing the pay of deputy sheriffs in Douglas county.

Nebraska Hotel Rates Not Regulated By Leftwich Amendment

Lincoln, March 30.—(Special)—The sky is the limit on hotel rates in Nebraska if the proprietors, "seduced by greed," despair of the effect that an amendment to the hotel regulation bill by Representative Leftwich made alleged hotel profiteering during state fairs, carnivals or other large gatherings impossible.

There was an amendment by Leftwich which provides that if a guest skipped without paying his room rent and was caught the proprietor couldn't charge him any more than the regular rates.

Hotels are obliged to post rate cards in the room. But there is no restriction as to the number of times they may be changed and in one year there may be as many rate cards placed in a room as a blonde has fingers.

Bill Joining Sarpy to Douglas County Raised

Lincoln, Neb., March 30.—(Special)—The Druessow bill providing for the annexation of Sarpy to Douglas county on a majority vote of each county, was raised in the lower house of the legislature committee of the whole today by a vote of 63. Only 60 votes were required to raise a bill.

The bill was killed a month ago when 500 residents of Sarpy county went to Lincoln and demanded that it be defeated.

This morning Representative Byrum of Franklin county, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections which killed the bill moved in the committee of the whole that it be raised, declaring that this would be the most logical way to bring about the paving of the Fort Crook road and thus of keeping Fort Crook an active military post.

The bill is now almost sure to be passed by the house. It is considered likely that the senate will pass it also, and thus that the way will be cleared for early consolidation of the two counties.

Governor Vetoes Measure on Naming Solon's Successors

Lincoln, March 30.—(Special)—Governor McKelvie vetoed House Roll No. 73 today.

This bill provides that when a United States senator, congressman, or member of the Nebraska state legislature dies, the governor shall appoint a successor of the same political affiliation.

When the veto was taken to the lower house of the legislature this morning, Representative Robert Druessow of Omaha moved to reconsider the action of the house on the bill immediately.

Traction Company Seeks Hearing on Rate April 25

Lincoln, Neb., March 30.—(Special)—The Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company filed application with the State Railway Commission here today for a hearing April 25 to fix permanent rate of fare for the company.

Vic Wilson, representing the company, said the company would make no demand for a fare increase. Unless some way of cutting operating expenses is found it may be necessary to ask for a fare increase, however, he said.

Hoagland Loses Fight in Senate On Tax Measure

Intangibles Will Be Considered at Session Today—Two-Thirds of Sections Have Been Approved.

Lincoln, March 30.—(Special)—The senate continued its consideration of S. F. 63, in the committee of the whole for a time this morning to give the finance committee time to prepare some changes in the measure.

The committee of the whole has considered two-thirds of the bill and has reached the subject of taxation of intangibles, including money, shares of stock and franchises.

Senator Hoagland continued his fight on provisions of the bill for the taxation of intangibles but he had no support and the senate is approving it section by section.

Hoagland made his fight this morning with an amendment proposing to tax banks and trust companies on their "average capital" based on the gross deposits during the year. His proposal lost 3 to 28.

The committee added stock brokers to the class which in the original substitute bill included produce dealers, grain and hay dealers, movie exchanges and oil and gasoline dealers.

Senator Witse has asked that live stock dealers be put in a class with grain men, but the committee choose the other kind of stock.

Seeking to meet an objection by Senator Hoagland, the committee proposed an amendment, which carried, providing that before the state tax commissioner may remove county assessors, the latter may have a hearing before the state board of equalization.

Appeal of O'Callaghan For Refuge to Be Denied By State Department

Washington, March 30.—The appeal of counsel for Donald J. O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who arrived as a stowaway without passport several months ago to give asylum in the United States as a political refugee, will be denied by the State department, it was understood tonight. An opinion may be handed down soon.

O'Callaghan, following his arrest by immigration authorities, was released by former Secretary of Labor Wilson and when the Department of State pressed deportation proceedings against him, he was adjudged a "seaman" by the labor department and granted 20 days in which to ship on a foreign-bound vessel.

The lord mayor, however, ignored the ruling, and after remaining beyond his leave, obtained permission of former Secretary Wilson to continue his residence until an appeal for the right of asylum made to the State department, was answered.

O'Connor Will Case Will Be Appealed to United States Court

Lincoln, March 30.—(Special)—The famous John O'Connor will case will be carried to the United States court in Nebraska from 18 to 9 is dead. Here's how it happened:

Representative Rodman offered a motion to reconvene Senate File 154 to the committee of the whole for amendment when the bill came up for third reading. The original bill as it came over to the house from the senate left the judicial districts as they are at present, excepting it gave Douglas county two additional judges. When it was first considered in committee of the whole Representative Epperson moved to substitute a redistricting bill for the senate file and his motion carried.

The Rodman motion to reconvene the lower house resolved itself into committee of the whole and substituted the original senate bill, reinstating the 18 judicial districts and providing nine judges for Douglas county. Then the bill was advanced to third reading.

The adoption of the old bill spells life for the supreme court commission for another two years. The passage of the substitute bill would have been death to the commission as provision was made under the nine-district plan to bring district judges to Lincoln to help the supreme court when it was short-handed or overworked.

Bill Creating Court Of Public Service is Passed by Iowa Senate

Des Moines, March 30.—The Springer bill creating a court of public service to adjudicate disputes between utilities and city councils and granting all public utilities in determining franchises was passed by the senate of the state legislature today. The bill had already passed the house.

The passage of this measure is the climax of a long and spirited fight waged by the lobbyist lobby Iowa utilities could muster. Before its final passage the senate waged an oratorical battle over the request of the house that the bill be returned for reconsideration and eventually refused the demand by a decisive majority.

Twin Sisters in Double Wedding To Near-Twins

Bridegrooms Dismiss With Smiles Fear They Might Mistake Each Other's Bride for Own.

Bernice Davidson and Beatrice Davidson, twins, 18, Percival, Ia., were married by County Judge Crawford yesterday to Harold V. Kalsay, 21, Thurman, Ia., and Guy F. Pierce, 21, Thurman, Ia., respectively.

The girls are beautiful brunets, and as like as "two peas in a pod." They were dressed exactly alike, too, wearing fur coats, spring hats and other habiliments, all precisely the same.

"We don't want to get you mixed up and marry Beatrice to Guy and Beatrice to Harold," said Marriage License Clerk Stubbendorf, anxiously.

"Don't worry, I can tell Bernice from her sister. There's only one like Bernice in the world," declared Bridegroom Kalsay earnestly.

"And I could tell my Beatrice among a thousand, even in the dark," exclaimed Bridegroom Pierce with a tender look at his blushing bride.

The twin marriage licenses were soon made out and then the duplex marriage party entered County Judge Crawford's private office. Mrs. Alice Kalsay, mother of Harold, and Mrs. Grace Thomas of Council Bluffs were witnesses.

"Are You Sure?" Judge Crawford surveyed the party with a smile.

"Now are you positive you have the right girl, boys?" he asked before he married them.

"You bet we are, judge," they replied in unison as they squeezed the hands of their brides.

In two minutes more the brief wedding ceremony was ended and together, the bridegrooms kissed their respective wives.

They left yesterday for Thurman, Ia., where they will operate adjoining farms.

Beatrice and Bernice are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davidson, Percival, Ia.

Hearing on Wage Scale of Garment Workers Opened

Referees in Cleveland District Hear Arguments on Employers' Request to Return to Old Contracts.

Cleveland, O., March 30.—The board of three referees who compose the supreme court for the Cleveland garment industry today opened a two days' hearing on the question of wages paid in the 40 houses of the Cleveland Garment Manufacturers' association.

The decision will affect 5,000 workers and an annual national business of $30,000,000, and will put to the test the agreement between the manufacturers and the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, which was signed two years ago. The manufacturers ask for a return to the wage scale of November, 1918, which would lower the present scale practically 20 per cent. The union opposes any reductions.
