Holding a Husband Adele Garrison's New Phase of Revelations of a Wife

The News That Dicky Reluctantly Told.

I was rubbing a chilled bowl with a clove of garic, my invariable preparation for a French salad dressing when Lillian entered the kitchen. I knew that she had come in obedience to my prescription of a cup of hot milk after her naft, and I hastened to absolve her.

"I'll let you off that," I laughed. "I didn't know how near luncheon time it was when I issued my ulti-

"Merci, madame!" She came swifty toward me, sniffing disdainfully, You, and your garlie!" she ghed. "I take off my hat to you, Madge. It gives just the right taste to the dressing-1 love your dressings-but I wouldn't handle the souff on a bet. It is one of my pe; aversions. But I have a deep respect for it. Just rubbing a bowl that way invests the whole dressing with just the right proportionate

"I usually do something more than that," I confessed, "When the dressing is finished I pour it into the half of a green pepper which contains the seeds, and into which I have slipped a bit of garlic. When I drain the dressing after five or 10 minutes it has traces of both the pepper seeds and the garlic

As I talked I measured salt, pepper, cayenne, paprika and dry mustard, stirred them together, added dive oil, and finally lemon juice, very

"So that's the secret of that dress-ing of yours," Lillian commented I've seen you put the stuff into the green pepper, but never noticed the Well, you're certainly justined! Did you see Dicky?"

"Yes. I think he's gone to wash up for luncheon. I want to get it on the table as soon as I can." Lillian grinned comprehendingly.
"Wise lady," she murmured. "Is there anything I can do?"
"I think not," I finished the salad.

and turned to Katic. "We're ready whenever you are

"I've Been so Lonesome."

Desc chops, dey feex pretty queeck now." she returned. "You get everyhody to table, den I serve. Lillian followed me to the little lavatory on the lower floor, where, with a handbrush and much scrubbing I removed the traces of the garlic from my fingers,
"You don't know what Dicky found out, I infer," she said anx

"I didn't dare to ask him," I confessed, smiling.

"Then it's all right—he didn't succeed. But I'm dying to hear the story of his encounter with that woman—if he'll only tell the truth about it"

As we came back into the dining room we found Dicky declaiming impressively to Marion, while the child giggled appreciatively.

"I certainly shall begin luncheon on you," he was saying, "if Katie doesn't hurry up. It will grieve me terribly, but—"

"Then you'll be just like the wal-tus, Uncle Dicky!" Marion exclaim-ed delightedly. "Don't you remem-She caught sight of her mother, and with Lewis Carroll forgotten, dashed across the room to her. "I've been so lonesome, Mumsie." she said with her arms around Lillian's waist. "Katie said you were busy writing, so I didn't come near

"That's my own sweetheart." I heard Lillian murmur, "and you shan't be away from me another minute today if you don't wish to.' "Everything Is Forgiven."

"As if I'd wish to," the child re turned, looking up at her mother's face with an adoration equalled only Lillian's returned look. I shivered a bit at this glimpse of the unusually intense interdependence of the mother and child, for my coneern over Lillian prompted the mental question, "Suppose something should happen?"

Katie's entrance with the dinner wagon was a most welcome diversion. Marion sprang to pull out her mother's chair, an office which she relinquishes only on formal occasons. Dicky performed the same service for me, and we were soon discussing with relish-Dicky, at least, with avidity-Katie's appetizing viands

There was very little conversation during the meal, and that perfunc-tory, but when Dicky had disposed if a second baked apple with cream the last course of the luncheonhe eyed Lillian and me with a re luctant grin.

"Strange what a good meal will do for a disposition," he said, "When I came in today I could have shewed up one perfectly good wife without any compunction, although I must admit with some reason. But now everything is forgiven. are restored to my heart, Madge, You are also avenged of any little annoyances I may have caused you. I've been interviewing that Jezebel who is to be your successor as mistress of this house, and, believe you me, I'm glad I escaped with my

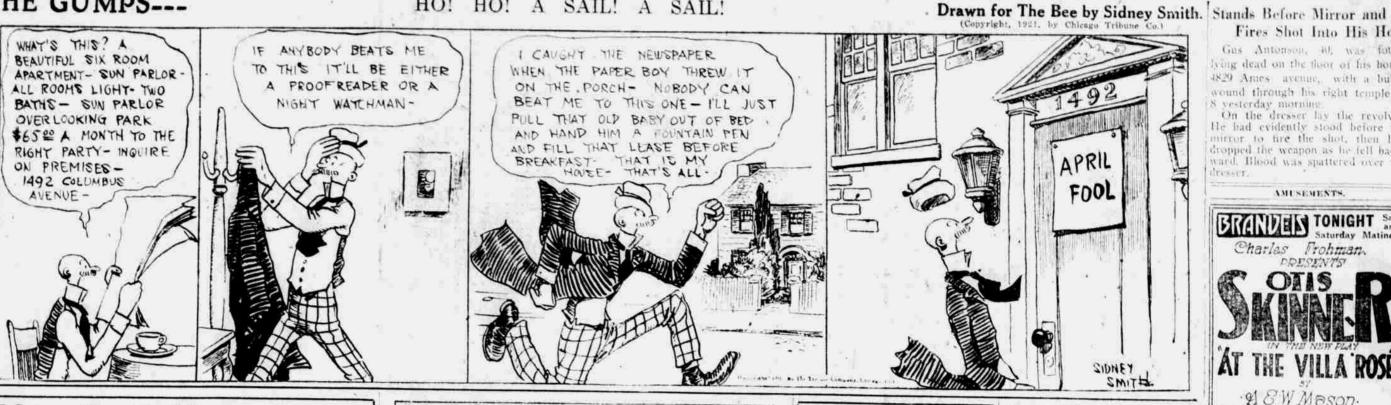

I made no reply whatever to this speech, so fearful was I that Dicky might twist it into some form of the 'I told you so" with which he so often twisted me. Lillian stepped into the breach with a drawling

"I may infer, then, that the lady fidn't look with any favor upon a aronosal to turn back the house?" For a second or two the face Dicky turned toward her held a black stant it had vanished and had given place to a broad grin. "Your inference is eminently correct. The only thing that dame was looking for was a shotgun or a bottle of vitriol, although the devil knows her tongue held enough dis-tilled essence of the latter commodity to fill a gallou can. She certaingave yours truly a suppositious history of his present, past and fu-ture life, and that of all his ancestors and descendants. Gee! But won't Her Fluffiness just love her as a next door neighbor! It's too had, but per-haps Ali and Leila will come to their senses and be willing to sell their place also. When you're out looking for a place you might hen around and see if there aren't two it is babyish, should one have it power to resist disease, or three places together, and we'll cut the other way found a colony. How does that

THE GUMPS---

HO! HO! A SAIL! A SAIL!

More Truth Than Poetry

TROUBLE

The cat is on the pantry shelf With eyes that bulge with fright: The Airedale pup has hid himselt Somewhere far out of sight;

The little kids their lesson learn And neither romp nor sport

Was forty dollars short. It took a week to make it out And mother, in despair, Would say, "You must not stay about

For father's income tax return

And hear your father swear. He'd pull his hair with frightful yanks Until it was a sight; He spoiled half a dozen blanks

And when at last he put it in The big long envelope. He said to mother, with a grin. "Well, that is done, I hope. But yesterday a letter came, And gosh, how father swore,

Before he got it right.

When he found in it was a claim For forty dollars more. He's locked up in his bedroom now And won't come out at all. And mother simply won't allow The kids to cross the hall. And everybody's frightened stiff, While every now and then They wonder what will happen if

COMING TO IT

This isn't the millenium of course, and yet the railroads admit that eir present freight rates are prohibitive.

GOING TOO FAR.

We state for the benefit of the blue law advocates that nothing seceds like excess.

THERE MUST HAVE BEEN AN OVERSIGHT.

Now that we come to think of it, where is that woman who was going be appointed a cabinet member. (Copyright, 1921, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.

Immuvs"

work in your life?

repairs permanent.

odd Josies.

Common Sense

By J. J. MUNDY.

Tinkering Tim.

Are you one of those "tinkering thing from a broken grate to a straight piece of good mechanical

Repair work to be worth while in

A real out-and-out repairer understands his work better even than the man who made the article in the

It takes a thoroughly good work-but you never got it together right.

You took off the locks and "tin-

curiosity, but you never were known

Thoroughness is not in your make-up, but puttering and tinkering is.

Learn one thing at a time well.

Copyright, 1821, International Feature Service, Inc.)

Jewel, Flower. Color

Symbols for Today

By MILDRED MARSHALL.

or three turns of the wheel.

man to be a real repair man.

broken lock," "can just make anything go," but who never did .

"who can woggle up any-

Dog Hill Paragrafs By George Bingham

Washington Hocks says he never in his life started out with his nice suit of clothes on that his wife didn't call him back and pick a little white speck off of his coat.

to get anything back in as good Miss Flutie Belcher is engaged shape as you found it when you this week in writing a hitherto un- took the good condition things apart.

Yam Sims says every time he stoops over to tie his shoe strings his pencil falls out of his pocket, but that he would rather it would slip out then than at any other time as it isn't so much trouble to pick up. (Copyright, 1921, George Matthew Adams)

Where It Started

The coral is today's talismanic stone, and the ancients believed Wood-Engraving. Wood-engraving is supposed that it was especially lucky for those who were ill, since it is symbolic of strength and vitality. It is also a have started in Europe at the close of the 14th century. The oldest. dated wood-cut is a picture of St. Christopher, dated 1425. Some auprotection against fatigue and contagious diseases, but only an unthorities hold that the invention of broken piece of it acts as a talisman; playing cards, led to the invention it broken, its powers are lost. of wood-engraving, but this is not a certain fact.

The natal stone of those born on an anniversary of this day is the (Copyright, 1926, by the Wheeler Syndi, amethyst; it endows its wearers with good sense, and counteracts a tendency toward frivolousness, and also Parents' Problems has curative powers. The ancients sometimes crushed it and gave it as powder to those who were ill. When a little boy objects to having his hair cut "Dutch," because to bring wearer good health and the

The red rose, symbolic of cheer-This is an unimportant matter, fulness, is today's flower.
Why not let the child have his way. (Copyright, 1921, by the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

SLEEPY-TIME TALES THE TALE OF BY ARTHUR SCOTT BAILEY

CHAPTER XI

Tommy Grows Too Carcless. By the time summer was nearly faction in that fact, even if he hadn't over, Tommy Pox was much bigger much luck as a fisherman. than he had been in the spring. So many things had happened, and he began to worry Farmer Green's had learned so much, that he began Spot. He delighted in barking at had learned so much, that he began Spot. He delighted in barking at to be quite bold. And he had Spot. And Spot would always stop

Although Tommy was very glad. to be safe at home, he was worried.

grown so saucy that his mother often had to scold him. Tommy had fallen into the had habit of going about calling all the forest-people names; and in that way he had gained for himself the ill-will of all the creatures who lived near the foot of Blue Mountain. It interfered with his hunting, because whenever he started out to get something to eat, great surprise there was Spot almost starfed out to get something to eat, as soon as they saw him the forest-people told one another that he was coming. Old Mr. Crow especially was the worst of all. He was forever calling "Stop, thief!" after haw-haw in a manner that was made matters so unpleasant that after a time Tommy began to roam far down the valley, along Swift

Do You Know the Bible?

(Cover up the answers, read-the ques-Follow these questions and answers

as arranged by By J. WILSON ROY.

I-Why was the payment of tribate money so odious to the Jews? 2-What was meant by the "aboutination of desolation" which Daniel tophesied-

3-Why is Lazarus the beggar described as in Abraham's bosom? Luke xvi 22.) 4-Where do we find another refence to this expression?

5-What was the value representby a talent? 6-Why, in the parable of the vinc

Of course, it is a fine thing to be ard, was the owner said to have built a tower? able to repair things which are out Answers. of order, but you do not understand 1-Because they regarded them-selves as the people of God, and as anything well enough to make the

such, exempted from such impositime and money should not be the 2-It referred to the intrusion into sort that is as bad as ever with two the holy places of the ensigns and mages of the heathens when Ierusalem was taken and finally destroyed. 3-Because by that expression is signified a state of perfect felicity heaven 4-John I: 18 says: "The only begotten son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him."

But the "tinkerer" is one of the 5-A talent of gold is estimated As a boy you too!; the clock apart, in value at $32,640 and of silver, $2,-6-It was customary to erect such kered them up." trying to see how they worked-had real mechanical building as a lookout, whence ursionists could be descried.

(Copyright, 1921, By The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.) Communist Leader Shot Berlin, March 31 .- (By the Asse iated Press.)-Wilhelm Sylt, mmunist leader, was shot down in police headquarters here today after attacking the wardens in an attempt to escape, His injuries are serious but not mortal. PHOTOPLAYS.

NOTICE

Both in England and on the continent it is considered legitimate to tour nothing positive is known make "April Fools" on the first day (Converted, 1821, by the Wheeler) of April, and the practice naturally spread to America, just as did the beliefs surrounding "Ground-hog day," St. Swithin's day," and other auniversaries," There is no refer-River, where he tried to catch fish, ence to the custom, however, in The fish, at least, couldn't call him names, and there was some satiscarly uglish literature, and it would tional Retail Grocers convention for appear that both England and Ger- Omaha will be made by a large delemany derived it from France, where the custom of "poissons d'Avril" or "April fish" has long been established, but a really adequate reason lished, but a really adequate reason to the continuous planning to attend this year's convention in Kansas City, Tune 6, 7 and 8. At least 100 members of and 8. At least 100 members of the continuous planning to attend this year's convention in Kansas City, Tune 6, 7 and 8. At least 100 members of the continuous planning to attend this year's convention in Kansas City, Tune 6, 7 and 8. At least 100 members of the continuous planning to attend the continuous planning to atte And just for excitement Tommy covered. what he was doing and rush pell-

One theory traces it to an allusion to Noah's sending the dove out of Then Tommy would skip away the ark on its first iruitless errand, with a laugh. First he always ran Another refers to the miracle plays for the river, and jumped from one stone to another, and waded where the water was shallow. Then he would dash off through the meadows, leaving so crooked a trail behind him that when Spot at last found the place where Tommy had left the river, he never could follow him very merry-making. Recently an attempt But one day Tommy stumbled with the Hindu festival of Huli, and upon Spot quite by accident. There was no wind at all that day to bring any scent to Tommy's sharp nose. And he suddenly found that Spot was right in front of him, between AMUSEMENTS. Toniniy Fox turned and ran. He laughed, too; because he felt quite sure that he could outwit old Spot. And he leaped and twisted and turned about, and made so many circles that he felt sure Spot couldn't follow him. Yes-Tommy felt so safe that he stopped running and was trotting slowly along through the field in which he lived. He was almost home, when he heard a noise behind him. He looked around and to his mell after Tommy Fox.

him and the river.

Tommy Fox; and then he would Tommy made for it. Luckily, he managed to reach it. Once inside, he frightfully annoying. In fact, he could hear the dog Spot barking in the opening. But he knew that Spot was too big to follow him. Although Tommy was very glad to be sate at home, he was worried. For now Spot knew where he and his mother lived; and they would have to move. Tommy was afraid his mother would be very angry with tions and see if you can answer them. him for being so stupid as to let Spot Then look at the answers to see if you follow him. But he couldn't help it are right.) him for being so stupid as to let Spot

Meanwhile, old Spot continued to bark and scratch at the door of Tommy's home. But at last he stopped. And all was still. Tommy wondered where his mother was. She was not at home. And he wanted to see her, even if he was afraid that she would punish him. For Tommy did not know exactly what to do. He did not dare go out for fear Spot might be lying in wait for him. So Tommy stayed there. And still his mother did not come home. wondered where she could be,

Thor Vacuum Sweeper Demonstration and Sale BeginsSaturday Union Outfitting Co.

Special Easy-to-Pay Terms and Low "Rock Bottom" Prices to Be Had.

Instead of merely scattering lust and germs to other parts of the house, as occurs when sweeping with a broom, the "Thor Electric Vacuum Cleaner gathers all lint, thread and dust in a big bag, which you can empty out

This feature and many other Thor" conveniences will be deminstrated at the Union Outfitting Company next Saturday. A Thor vill be given away at the close of the demonstration -Advertisement

PHOTOPLAYS.

DANA in her latest picture. Hippodrome^{25th and} Silverman's Augmented Orchestra

Is "April Fools' Day" so called?

representing the sending of Christ from Annas to Caiaphas and from Pilate to Herod, while still another claims that the festival is due to the change made in France, in 1564, of has been made to identify the custom it is worthy of note that in China the symbolic ploughing by the emperor takes place during the month of April, and that in Japan the

EMPRESS New Show Today

AURORA & CO.—Presenting
"A Night in Venice"
WARWICK LEIGH TRIO—Singing,
Talking, Dancing
NICK HUFFORD—"One Loose Page
From Book of Fun"
DAVIS & CHADWICK—"The Jail
House Boya"
Photoplay Attraction
"DWELLING PLACE OF LIGHT"
All Star Cast

Coming Sunday D. W. Griffith's "The Mother and the Law"

PHOTOPLAYS

Today-Tomorrow

NAZIMOVA "BILLIONS"

Coming Sunday "OMAHA KIDNIGHT FOLLIES OF 1921" Biggest Novelty Omaha Has Ever Seen.

MacLEAN The Jailbird a Paramount Picture

With Doris May The Most Popular Team

Coming Sunday VIOLA

"PARTNERS OF FATE"

PRESENTS

Fires Shot Into His Head

Gus Antonson, 40, was found lying dead on the thore of his home,

4829 Ames avenue, with a bullet wound through his right temple at 8 yesterday morning On the dresser by the revolver,

He had evidently stood before the dropped the weapon as he fell backward. Blood was spattered over the

AMUSEMENTS.

BRANDES TONIGHT Sate

Charles Frohman.

nirror to fire the shot, then had

Crain Orbhoum

918W Mason

Nights-50c to $3; Mat. - 50c to $2.50

Mat. Dally, 2:15 Every Night, 8:15 LEW DOCKSTADER; PAUL MORTON and NAOMI GLASS; DE WOLF GIRLS, MURRAY KISSEN; Healy and Cross; Fo and Leture; Curzon Sisters; Valentine and Bell; Kinograms; Topics of the Day.

Matinees, 15c to 50c; some 75c and $1.5at, and Sun. Nights, 15c to $1.25.

"DMAHA'S FUN CENTER"

Gayel 1 Daily Mats. 15 to 75r LAST TIMES TODAY 2:15 Jean Bedirl's " PEEK-A-BOO " the Omaha Retail Grocers association are expected to attend the national convention in Kansas City.

Tomorrow (Saturday) Matines and Week Marriy Girls from Happyland Formational convention in Kansas City.

PROTOPLAYS,

Feast of Dolls is kept in the sam But, at best, these merely conjectures, and even Walsh in his exhaustive treatise on the "Curiosities of Popular Customs," admits that 'of the origin of this cus-

(Copyright, 1921, by the Wheeler Syndi-cate, Inc.)

For National Convention

As effort to obtain the 1922 Na-

PHOTOPLAYS.

Omaha Grocers Will Bid

By Arrangement with Florenz Ziegfeld, Jr. ln

The Education

A Finishing Course in Laughter

of Elizabeth

A Broadway chorus taught her life and a staid professor taught her love. And when she fell into the creme de la creme of soriety-good heavens!-you ought to see Matinees Only-9th Showing

"The Son of Tarzan" Sun: MARY PICKFORD

in "The Love Light"

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS

in "MARK OF ZORRO"

Comming Sunday

AGNES AYRES

Supported by E. K. LINCOLN in "THE INNER VOICE"

Opportunity is knocking-Read

Co-Operative Cafeterias Appreciate Your Patronage,

EMPRESS

Rustic Garden

April Fool Dancing

Party

Come Prepared for a

Riot of Fun

A Surprise in Store for

Everyone

Fun-Making Novelties to Fit the Occasion

Make Free Table Reservation

Phone Tyler 5645