

Pseudo Cousin of President Faces a Long Prison Term

Self-Styled "Secretary" to Harding Due for Trial on Number of Separate Charges.

Chicago, April 4.—While Everett A. Harding, self-styled "cousin of our president and his confidential secretary," spent Sunday in the county jail at Woodstock, Ill., where he is held on charges of impersonating a government official, secret service officials were digging into his activities.

Months before the republican convention in Chicago, young Harding, the agents discovered, was taking an active part in "Cousin Warren's" candidacy, representing himself on various occasions as manager of Harding's campaign, an event at that early date making promises of patronage.

During the presidential primary campaign in Indiana, Everett first attached himself to "Cousin Warren." Prior to that he had been active in support of both General Wood and Governor Lowden, but when Senator Harding filed as a candidate in the Hoosier state, "Cousin Everett" immediately transferred his allegiance and went to Indianapolis, where he represented himself as the senator's campaign manager and held conferences and laid plans with leading politicians.

His stay in Indianapolis was brief, however as word of his activities reached Harry R. Daugherty, Senator Harding's national campaign manager, and Mr. Daugherty hastened to the Indiana capitol. The nature of his interview with "Cousin Everett" has not been made public, but immediately after this meeting Everett came back to Chicago and subsided until the Harding campaign headquarters were established here. This time he attached himself to headquarters in an "advisory capacity" as he expressed it to his friends. He made many suggestions and conferred with anyone who would listen to him.

Harry Riddick, a volunteer worker in the Harding cause, wrote a letter offering his services and this letter fell into the hands of "Cousin Everett," who wrote Riddick, urging him to come to headquarters at once and go to work, assuring him he would be paid liberally.

Riddick thought this rather spectacular inasmuch as he had offered his services free. When he went to headquarters and met the real officials, they decided it was time to suppress "Cousin Everett" before he did something that would reflect seriously upon Senator Harding. The matter was taken up with Harry Daugherty and when "Cousin Everett" appeared the next day, he was escorted out of the hotel and directed to remain away.

Secret service men who are checking up the large number of people who have been victimized by "Cousin Everett," say he faces a long term in the penitentiary as a result of his activities. The specific charge upon which he is held is that of impersonating a government official. This carries a fine of $1,000 and three years in a federal prison. Every time he borrowed money on his false representation constitutes a separate offense.

500 Nebraska Odd Fellows to Attend Meet Here April 30

More than 500 Nebraska Odd Fellows will attend the 102d anniversary of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, which is to be held in Omaha at the Auditorium April 30. The convention is to be held under the auspices of the Patriarchs Militant of Greater Omaha.

One of the features of the convention will be the exemplification of three of the degrees in public. Addresses will be made at this time by Governor S. R. McKelvie and Mayor Ed P. Smith.

W. B. Hoagland, Omaha, is head of the Patriarchs Militant in Nebraska; J. Marks, Omaha, is chairman of the committee making arrangements for the convention and Ben Don Neaud is secretary.

Nebraska C. of C. Secretaries To Meet in Omaha April 6-7

Secretaries of chambers of commerce in various Nebraska cities will be in Omaha April 6 and 7 for their annual convention. According to H. E. Moss, secretary of the Nebraska State Chamber of Commerce, there will be at least 50 secretaries present.

Many important topics relative to a more systematic program in the work of civic and commercial organizations for the betterment of the communities and the state will be discussed.

The meetings are to be held in the club rooms of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce.

He Was Warren's Cousin, Until Officers Got Him

Here are Everett A. Harding, his sister, Pearl, 13, and her pet cat, "Gamaliel." Secret service operatives have pricked their political and social bubbles.

Everett won prominence by posing as cousin and confidential secretary to President Harding. Pearl was dubbed "The White House Baby" and named her cat for "Cousin Warren."

Everett chartered a special car to go to the inauguration with friends he had promised political jobs. The Pennsylvania railroad claims the check he gave for the special car was returned for want of funds. Pearl gave out many interviews and pictures.

President Harding is reported as having denied relationship with them and secret service operatives, working under orders direct from Washington, are checking up Everett's activities while he lies in jail.

Stillman Must Pay Alimony in 30 Days

White Plains, N. Y., April 4.—Justice Morschauer, in supreme court here today, signed an order directing that payment of alimony and counsel fees in the divorce proceedings brought by James A. Stillman, New York banker, against Mrs. Anne U. Stillman be made within 30 days, and that meanwhile referee hearings in the case be stayed.

Counsel for both sides agreed that sealed papers in the case, including letters said to have been written to Mrs. Stillman by Fred Beauvais, Indian guide, named as co-respondent, and the alleged "confession" letter of Mrs. Stillman to her husband, should not be opened when they are filed in the Putnam county court house at Carmel.

Mrs. Robert O. Reynolds

"I have actually gained twenty-five pounds and I just think Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world," said Mrs. Robert O. Reynolds, 127 North Denver St., Kansas City, Mo.

"For ten long years I suffered from a very bad form of rheumatism, stomach and nervous troubles. My appetite was very poor. What little I did eat soured on my stomach and I suffered the most severe pains in my back, hips and shoulders. My rheumatism was so bad that I could not raise my hands to comb my hair and my arms hurt me to my finger tips. I became so weak and run down that I lost all my energy and life had become almost a burden. I tried many things, but nothing helped me.

"I had only taken my first bottle of Tanlac when I noticed my appetite was improving and I could sleep better at night. I have taken three bottles and the way it has helped me and built me up is really astonishing. I can eat anything and everything without the slightest disagreeable after effects. I sleep just fine at night and am in better health than I have been for years. I am glad to give this statement, hoping that any who are suffering as I did may experience the same wonderful results, which I believe they will if they give Tanlac a fair trial."

Tanlac is sold by the leading druggists.

City Council Shelves Ordinance Proposing Munny Light Bond Issue

An ordinance introduced by Commissioner Ure proposing that a $250,000 municipal electric light and power bond proposition be submitted to the voters at the election on May 3, was placed on file yesterday with but one dissenting voice, that of Commissioner Ringer, in the city council.

The ordinance was offered as an alternative measure, the understanding being that the council would pass either on the new rate ordinance, now pending, or for submission of the bonds, according to Commissioner Ure.

Passage of the new rate regulatory ordinance which lowers the rates to small consumers is now assured.

"Show Ear of Corn or Donate $10" Slogan in Ak Membership Drive

"Show an ear of corn or donate $10 for an Ak-Sar-Ben membership." That is the slogan adopted by the hustling committees of the Big Five civic clubs, Concord, Rotary, Kiwanis, Ad-Sell and Lion, that are concentrating their efforts on obtaining new members in Ak-Sar-Ben.

Whatever club obtains the most members up to August 29 will man the prize float in the electric parade during the Ak-Sar-Ben festival, Charles Gardner, secretary, said.

An effort is being made by the hustling committees to get 5,000 members for opening night of the Ak-Sar-Ben show at the Den on May 23.

Imposition of Sentence on Lindsey, Again Postponed

Denver, Colo., April 4.—Execution of the sentence upon Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver's juvenile court, growing out of his conviction on charges of contempt of court for refusing to testify to what a ward of his court had told him about a murder, was deferred today until next Saturday. Judge Lindsey must pay a fine of $500 or go to jail. Today's postponement was caused by the fact that a murder case was on trial in the district court.

Hopkins and Kilmartin Will Make No Pre-Election Pledges

No pre-election pledges have been made or will be made by John Hopkins and John Kilmartin, candidates for the city commission, members of the Hopkins-Kilmartin club repeated today on the eve of the primary election, both these candidates standing squarely on the platform they originally issued.

Boy Pinned Under Street Car Fender

Motorman's Quick Thinking Saves Lad's Life When He Falls in Street.

Quick thinking by a street car motorman saved a little boy's life late yesterday afternoon when the lad stumbled while running across the street in front of an oncoming car and fell pinned beneath the front fender.

The lad, bruised on the face and head, but otherwise was unhurt.

George Skriver, motorman, 1914 South Eleventh street, was piloting his Harney street car east on Pierce street at Ninth at 3:45, when suddenly he saw a small boy dash across the street.

He clanged the bell and in the lad's hurry to get across the tracks, he stumbled and fell.

The lad was Joe Motalbano, 4, 805 Pierce street.

Skriver clamped on his emergency brakes and with a screech, the wheels slid along the tracks to a stop.

The car came to a standstill with the little boy pinned beneath the fender.

Police surgeons, called to attend the youngster, pronounced the motorman's quick actions responsible for saving the lad's life.

The conductor in charge of the car was Peter F. Giffen, 1521 Grant street.

Early Carter Lake Anglers Fined in Justice Court

Understudies of Isaac Walton had their day Sunday.

The anglers dotted themselves densely all over Carter lake fishing for minnows or stray carp.

That fishing was good was evident in justice court yesterday when W. E. Arnold, game warden, appeared against five alleged violators of the fishing laws.

Justice Bunce fined Leonard Wood, $1; Nick Fugina, $3; Harry Hawkins, $1; Fred Jensen, $1, and Earl Hackenberg, $5.

Old Time Friend Makes Candidate Apropos Gift

W. W. Cole, candidate for city commissioner, believes that gratitude is one of the finest things in life. He was surprised last week when he received from an old friend a package containing 5,000 campaign cards as a present. The donor explained that Mr. Cole befriended him years ago, when Cole was an amusement manager in Omaha.
