

Social Worker Speaks in Omaha

Tells of Experiences in Chicago at Woman's Missionary Conference Here.

Rev. W. Clyde Smith, Chicago, was the principal speaker yesterday afternoon at the Westminster Presbyterian church, where the 44th annual meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Omaha Presbytery is being held. Rev. Mr. Smith has been identified for the past several years with settlement and community work among the boys and girls of the poorer district in Chicago.

In his talk, Dr. Smith described his experiences in the work and how boys and girls were being saved from lives of crime through education and training.

Members of the Westminster church are interested in settlement work and Dr. Smith's talk and instructions may be the basis of a settlement program which the members may establish in Omaha soon.

Sessions of the annual conference of the Missionary society opened Thursday afternoon and closed Friday night.

Speakers from various parts of the country who have been widely identified in missionary work took part in the programs.

Kiwanians Hear Address

On Stock Yards Methods

A. F. Stryker, secretary of the South Omaha Live Stock exchange, was the principal speaker before the members of the Kiwanis club at their regular meeting in the Rome hotel Friday.

Mr. Stryker described the work being done in the Live Stock exchange and the method of carrying on business in the stock yards of South Omaha.

Howard Baldridge, Omaha attorney, was to have described his recent visit to Hawaii, but was unable to be present. Special music was furnished by the Kiwanis orchestra and quartet.

Letter Files Sent by Freight; "Efficiency" Shouts Omaha Clerk

Some government clerk in Washington is slated for the gilded handle broom.

Deputy clerks in the United States district court office in Omaha will be the donors.

Receipt of a bill of lading on a shipment of paper letter files by freight prompted John Nicholson, deputy clerk, to scratch his dome, then look wonderingly at a batch of ledgers weighing several hundred pounds that was sent to his office by first class mail.

"Efficiency," shouted John. "They'll send sheets of paper by freight, but typewriters and cornerstones by first class mail," continued John, jocularly.

Mr. Nicholson suggested that a congressional medal be hung prominently on the pointed lapel of the clerk that shipped the letter files by freight.

99-Year-Old Woman Still Careful About Powdering

Her powder puff and the marcel curl in her hair are still matters of first importance to Mrs. William Rothschild, who will be 99 next Friday. The eternal feminine, even near the century mark.

Mrs. Rothschild's children, five daughters and three sons; her nine grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren, will keep open house on their mother's birthday at her home, 719 South Thirty-eighth street.

Rail Official Guarded After Poisoning Report

Reports of an unsuccessful attempt to poison Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific executive committee, at the Hotel Fontenelle Thursday were responsible for the placing of a special police guard about his apartment. A maid was offered $500 to put poison in his coffee, it was stated. General Manager Jeffers of the Union Pacific declared that the report was unfounded.

Brief City News

Protests Paying Alimony—Because "business is bad," Dr. John Holst petitioned court to relieve him from paying $10 monthly alimony to his former wife, Amelia. He is earning less than $2,000 a year while she earns $100 monthly, he said.

"Gobs" Get First Boat—A 24-foot cutter, first of five sailcraft expected for use of the naval reserve force in this vicinity, arrived Friday, C. S. Barnes, chief yeoman, reported. The boats will be used for week-end cruises on Manawa and Carter lakes.

Assault Attempted—An unidentified man attempted to assault Mrs. A. Fred, 1913 North Twenty-fifth street, Thursday afternoon, tried to set fire to the place and escaped with $25 in loot. The woman fled to a neighbor's home and called the police.

Bankruptcy Proceedings—Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings against the Wagner Bros. Implement company, 1298 Jackson street, a concern 30 years old, were started in federal court yesterday by B. F. Avery, Standard Tire company and Wright and Wilhelmey company.

Dancing Party—A dancing party will be given Monday night at the Empress Rustic garden by the Union Outfitting company for employees and friends. Twenty-five boxes of candy will be given to the women and a special program provided for those who do not care to dance.

Illustrated Lecture—George H. Payne of the Payne Investment company, will give an illustrated lecture on his land reclamation project at Albert Lea, Minn., and Miss Helen Mackin will give a number of musical selections before the ex-service men at Fort Crook Sunday evening at 7.

Boy Killed—Joseph D. Corenman, 4-year-old son of Samuel Corenman, 5217 South Twenty-fifth street, died yesterday from injuries received at noon when he was struck by a truck driven by John Kersigo, 4407 Fortieth street. The little lad was crossing the street when the accident occurred. Kersigo is held for reckless driving.

Returns From North—A 26-mile ride on a Klondike sleigh, part of the time immersed in ice-water and slush, was the experience of G. N. Aulabaugh, Omaha furrier, on his fur hunt in the Canadian wilds. He returned Thursday. Aulabaugh started his dog sled journey from Camagami, Ontario, the last railroad point, 200 miles north of Toronto. He went with an Indian guide and encountered few whites.

Dies From Burns—From burns received while burning grass Monday, Mrs. Ida H. Monroe, 65, died in Nicholas Senn hospital yesterday. She was the widow of a pioneer mail carrier and lived with her sister, Mrs. Minnie Buchanan at 2042 North Twentieth street. Two sons and a brother, Otto Middleton, 3227 Corby street, survive.

Funeral for Samuel North—Funeral services for Samuel North, 69, former district passenger agent of the Illinois Central, will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from the commandary room, Masonic temple. Burial will be in Forest Lawn cemetery. North retired from active railroading a year ago, following a paralytic stroke. His wife and two daughters survive.

Testifies Against "Pal"—Carl Walter, confessed thief, testified against his former "pal," Sam Nadel, in the hearing yesterday before District Judge Redick, to revoke Nadel's parole, given two years ago. Nadel robbed the Pioneer Tailors, 1822 St. Marys avenue, violated liquor laws and didn't work, said Walter.

Noyes Will Ask Recount Of Vote at City Primary

Dean Noyes, 15th man in the city primaries Tuesday, will ask a recount of votes, after the official returns Monday. He polled 7,297 votes, according to the unofficial count, and John F. Murphy, the 14th man, only 81 votes more. The recount, if ordered by the district court, will have to be speedy in order to print ballots in time for the election on May 3.
