Out to the Western Desert came the Pioneers so true. Came with hope and courage, to build homes for me and you;

Came with seeds of culture from as far East as "The Hub.' Sowed them on the prairie sod to blossom in this Club.

CHORUS. We all love thee, dear Nebraska, for thy sand hills and plains, We all love thee, dear Nebraska, for thy sunshine after rains; From the sod house on the prairie. from the mansion in the town, Every voice shall sing thy praises and spread thy renown. Tho' Nebraska sun is bright, her women also shine:

Any cause that they espouse will never more decline. So acclaim Nebraska fair, her fields all gold and green, Her children, wives and hushands, too, the bravest ever seen. Tune: "Tipperary." Words by
