Coroner's Jury Recommends That Officer Be Held Pending Inquiry Into Killing Of Joyrider.

Investigation Under Way

A coroner's jury sitting yesterday found Detective John Herdizina responsible for the death of Joseph Howard, 217 S. Third Street, first shot by the officer Saturday night, on the South Side, and recommended that he be held for further investigation.

The inquest at Gentlemen's mortuary, Thirty-fourth and Farnam streets, lasted three hours.

The rooms were crowded. When Paul Sniderman, deputy county attorney, ordered the attendants from the room while the jury deliberated, Samuel B. Howard, aged father of the dead youth, attempted to speak.

"I just want to express myself," Mr. Howard declared when Detective Flaming requested him to leave the room.

Police on Guard.

A squadron of police in uniform and every city detective, were dispatched to the scene of the inquest to guard against possible outbreak.

Police Commissioner Ringer, Chief of Police Eberstein and Inspector of Police Andrew Pottulo were interested spectators.

The gist of the testimony extracted from witnesses was that Howard and a party of youths became embroiled in an altercation with Detective Herdizina at Thirty-third and S streets late Saturday night when the detective leaped on the running board of their car to arrest them.

Clifton Hanson, 3423 Jackson street; Paul Kane, 3106 Marcy street, and John Welsh, 3561 Howard street, are still in hospitals recovering from gunshot wounds inflicted by Herdizina.

Young Men Testify.

Francis Welsh, 1043 Park avenue, and Leslie Norgard, 3120 Leavenworth street, uninjured members of the party, were principal witnesses.

"Hanson was driving the car away from John Kosiol's seltzer parlor," testified young Welsh.

"Johnnie Welsh was in the front seat with him. Howard, Kane and I were in the rear. Suddenly someone jumped to the running board of the car and left me to go."

"I thought he was one of a gang that we had trouble with on the corner. He fell over the side of the car. A moment later, he fired shots through the crowd of us."

Young Howard, according to testimony offered by Dr. S. McClenaghan, was shot once through the left breast and twice through the left arm. It was a steel jacket bullet that caused the youth's death within a few minutes after the shooting.

Dr. McClenaghan said. Not until yesterday afternoon was

British Premier Attends Conference On Coal Mine Strike

London, April 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—The respective contentions of the mine owners and striking miners are in the hands of the premier, who is to take them under advisement, and meet representatives of the two sides in the coal dispute tomorrow.

The conference of the owners and miners, with government officials participating, met this morning and at the request of the premier submitted in the afternoon statements of their cases, which Mr. Lloyd George has arranged to discuss with them separately tomorrow, after which the joint conference will be resumed.

Prespects, therefore, are favorable, although it is too early to say that the crisis has been averted. Mine owners, even if they were willing to make new wage proposals, were unprepared with any concrete scheme and present indications are that the conference proceedings will be protracted.

Ex-Empress of Germany Dies at Home in Holland

Doorn, Holland, April 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—Former Empress Augusta Victoria of Germany died here at 8 o'clock this morning. By a strange coincidence the end came just one year after she suffered her first serious attack of heart disease.

It was while she was preparing to enter the house of Doorn, the present home of the former empress of Germany, after her long residence at Amerongen that she was stricken with what at the time was believed to be a fatal attack. That was on April 11, 1920. For a few days, there were reports that her death was momentarily expected, but she rallied, and accompanied her husband to Doorn on May 15, last.

Funeral services will be held at the house of Doorn tomorrow, and will be attended by Dr. Haesler, who attended the former empress throughout her residence in Holland.

The death came as a shock to the dwellers in Doorn castle as during last week the patient's condition had seemed less serious. Nevertheless, last Saturday Dr. Haesner, after consultations with Professor Hyslop, the Dutch heart specialist, thought it advisable to send a message to Princess Victoria Louise, the only daughter of the former empress.

Former Emperor William and Princess Adelbert were at the bedside when the former empress died. They had been called by Dr. Haesler, who attended the former empress throughout her residence in Holland.

Censorship Bill Killed In Senate

"High License" Amendment Advanced as Substitute Which May Cause Hot Battle in House.

Senators Switch Votes

Lincoln, April 11.—(Special Telegram.)—The senate killed the motion picture censorship bill this afternoon by advancing the Bebe high license substitute by a vote of 18 to 155.

The defeat of censorship was brought about by a change in the votes of Senator Louis Berka of Omaha and Senator Pickett of Wahoo, who voted against the Bebe amendment and for censorship Thursday when the vote was a tie.

Senator Smith, who was absent Thursday, voted for censorship. If the Bebe substitute passes the senate on third reading, the house, which gave censorship a comfortable majority several weeks ago, will be asked to concur in the Bebe substitute.

That's where the rub will come in. Fight to Last Ditch.

The censorious crowd indicated tonight the fight would be carried to the last ditch. If the house refuses to concur, it means the probable appointment of a conference committee, two in favor of censorship and one against it in the house, two against censorship and one for it in the senate.

If the conference committee fails to agree that means a long deadlock. New arguments were advanced today. Senator Berka explained his change on the proposition to be the result of a thorough canvass of the feelings of his constituents in the last few days, resulting in the discovery that censorship was unpopular among the masses in Omaha, a highly popular among many well-meaning club and society women.

"And we must thank these women for starting agitation which is certain to end in cleaner pictures," Senator Berka said.

People Up In Arms. Senator Pickett declared his week-end visit to Wahoo revealed his constituents "in arms" against creation of more salaried commissions.

"They believed adoption of the code bill spelled the end of appointment of commissions and bills," Senator Pickett said.

The senate lobby was filled with women who sat in the aisles. However, they neglected to applaud, as was their custom at past sessions, after a vote was taken on censorship.

The Bebe substitute provides for a $1,000 deposit by film companies carrying on business in Nebraska.

The governor shall grant these companies licenses under provisions of the amendment. In the event the film companies show pictures of an "off color" variety, depicting a long list of penalized and social crimes and a court finds the company guilty, the license will be forfeited and the film company fined and forbidden to continue its business in Nebraska.

Vote on Bill. The vote follows: For censorship: Anderson, Brown, Gannon, Good, Hastings, Johnson, McGowan, Randall, Robbins, Sturm, Ulrich, Warner, Watson, Wiltse, Norval.

Against: Beebe, Berka, Bliss, Bush, Cooper, Cook, Davis, DeLoach, Halderman, Harris, Hoagland, Humphrey, Hylan, Miller, Pickett, Reed, Rickard, Saunders.

Jade Jewelry and "Beauty Plasters" Take Paris by Storm

Paris, April 11.—The age-old Hindu maxim that "Nothing is perfect," has suddenly become the slogan of Paris society. At fashionable Longchamps barbarous jade jewelry and black and yellow plasters, like "beauty spots" marred the perfection of white young arms, legs and shoulders, which, following spring fashion are mostly bare.

Mlle Spinely, whose legs are world famous, wore a circular green spot an inch beneath each knee, while Jeanne Renouard, who is of the Spanish type, wore "beauty badges" on the left elbow and right shoulder.

"How much do you want to drop this matter," asked Pridlich when Deputy Sheriff Lindsay placed him under arrest, "according to the officers." "I'll give you anything I have if you leave me right now without saying anything," he is said to have stated.

Another of the men offered the deputies $1,000 a piece, they said. The owners of the two farms where the raids were made are John Peterson and Nick Yambris.

Supreme Court Orders Haywood Back to Prison

Refuse to Review Convictions of 80 I. W. W. Convicted Of Attempting to Obstruct Draft.

Washington, April 11.—William D. Haywood and 79 other Industrial Workers of the World convicted by Federal Judge Landis at Chicago in 1918 of attempting to obstruct the government's prosecution of the war, must return to prison as a result of the refusal today of the supreme court to review their convictions.

Haywood, a former secretary of the I. W. W., and 14 others were sentenced to 20 years each and fined sums ranging from $20,000 to $35,000. They and others were sent to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., but were released on bail bonds aggregating $500,000 pending the outcome of their appeals.

Evidence Obtained in Raid. The trials resulted from a raid on the offices and homes of members of the I. W. W. by the Department of Justice September 5, 1917. A total of 166 men were brought into court on charges of violating the selective service and espionage acts, and 97 were convicted. Some served their sentences.

In appealing to the supreme court the men argued that the principal evidence used against them was illegally obtained in that it was seized by federal agents during the raid without search warrants.
