War Ruined Boy's Looks and Guy Didn't Have Job So Frances Left Hurriedly in Auto With George.

Grand Island, Neb., April 14.—(Special.)—Enoch Arden has nothing on Roy Yates, returned overseas soldier. Yates is a Kansas City boy and used to be a switchman for the Belt Line of that city.

After a year work came that Roy Yates had been killed in action. With the passing of time Frances was transferred to Milwaukee.

The two men had the old bachelor uncle bring them to Grand Island. Both restlessly paced the platform of the Union Pacific depot until the first Union Pacific train went east.

Yates went into the smoking room and sat down, sobbing. Yates and McCracken say McDonald had been a Northwestern passenger brakeman who, both in Chicago and Milwaukee, had shown no attention to Frances.

Wesley Frances received a telephone call to come to town and bring her husband to the depot. There she found Roy Yates, who had just been released from an eastern hospital.

Prior to her advent into the job as restaurant cashier Yates said his wife had been a vaudeville actress and singer, but that an operation for tonsillitis ruined further dramatic prospects.

Ed Smith, her former uncle for whom she has been keeping house, accompanied the young men on the train. They believe that the couple will motor to Milwaukee or Chicago and expect to beat them there.

Financial Bill Ready For Senate

Appropriations for Biennium Increased $1,360,000 Over House Measure—Committee Completes Work.

Uni. Gets More Money

Lincoln, April 14.—(Special.)—Carrying a total of $22,860,000, an increase of $1,360,000 as provided for in the house, the general appropriations bill for the coming biennium will be reported out by the senate finance committee tomorrow.

Of the total amount provided for in the general appropriation bill about $17,000,000 is raised by taxation and the remainder is from fees.

The university is given an increase of $746,000, making a total of $6,171,000. This includes $360,000 for a memorial gymnasium to be constructed at the city campus in honor of the Nebraska soldiers who died in the world war.

Department heads, upon whose prompt and efficient action tremendous interests depended, had to keep their own heads amid the rumor and intrigue, criticism and conflict of advice which whirled or thundered in their ears.

And I will tell you a joyful tale. America is yet a young nation, and it has a strong, clean heart.

On a showing by the university authorities that the appropriations for salaries and maintenance as provided in the bill would not meet current expenses, more especially since a recent senate resolution cut out all incidental fees charged to certain registrants, the senate committee increased this fund by $300,000.

The senate added a new item of $75,000 to establish a trade school for disabled soldiers who have to be sent out of the state under the present conditions.

Germany's Doom Was Sealed at 5 o'Clock On Wednesday Afternoon, Jan. 31, 1917, Says Daniels in Story of Navy in War

A caller at the state department in the late afternoon of January 31, 1917, starts things happening, and Washington is never the same again—Former Secretary Daniels foretold a startling disclosure as narrative of navy's part in war is written—Recent secret documents recovered since armistice which Germany's decision, to launch U-boat campaign is shown to date from December, 1916, and the possibility of American intervention is discounted—Daniels tells for first time how detailed plan for U-boat campaign was laid out by United States navy was laid out at 5 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 31, 1917, when the German submarine began their wanton assault on civilization—For a very hour when the German submarine was waiting for cabinet meeting—When president summoned him the navy was ready.

About 5 o'clock on the afternoon on Wednesday, January 31, 1917, a dapper little man presented himself at the office of the secretary of state.

From the moment life was never the same again in Washington. Events, incidents and episodes of tremendous importance and public interest occurred in the navy department, as in all other departments, until the day when certain commissioners from Berlin signed their names to a document which Marshal Foch presented to them in the forest of Senlis.

As secretary of the navy I lived through those crowded months in the atmosphere of suppressed excitement which is inseparable from the capital of a great nation at war.

A friend recently asked me my impression of eight years as secretary of the navy. I replied: "Four years of quiet—then—on all sides, to make Sherman's expression nautical."

Department heads, upon whose prompt and efficient action tremendous interests depended, had to keep their own heads amid the rumor and intrigue, criticism and conflict of advice which whirled or thundered in their ears.

And I will tell you a joyful tale. America is yet a young nation, and it has a strong, clean heart. That is why, perhaps, when it went to war its sailors based some of their code signals on nursery rhymes.

Only a child-hearted nation would have thought of that. No German could think of such a thing, and in that very way the usefulness of our signals. They were a part of our intelligence service. Just what part I will tell you before my story ends.

We have heard a lot about the importance of cables lately, and a little island, about 10 miles long, in the Pacific, bearing the comic opera name of Yap, has assumed a prominence out of all proportion to its size and commercial value merely because it is a convenient cable station.

You would think from all this talk that cables are absolutely essential to the maintenance of world-wide communications. Beyond doubt they are of tremendous importance, and no nation can afford to neglect its interests in the matter of submarine telegraphs.

But what would you think if I told you that had Germany been able to sever the cables by which the United States was linked to London and Paris and American headquarters at Chamonix, we could nevertheless have communicated instantly with Lloyd George, or Clemenceau, or General Pershing? In like manner, although with more difficulty, we could reach every ship in the United States navy, wherever stationed, from the China sea to the Bay of Biscay.

The miracle which made this possible was created within a few months after we entered the war, and its accomplishment lifted from our shoulders one of the big anxieties which had been almost constantly present—the fear that some enemy raider or submarine might cut the cables, leaving us isolated from our soldiers in France, our allies and our fighting squadrons in war zone waters.

I want to tell you in some detail how this miracle was worked and about the great wireless station which can flash radio messages about the world.

Indians' "Wireless" System. The early pioneer wending his way with his wagon train across our western prairies saw in the smoke signals of the Indians the earliest signals of the wireless.

Third Man Held For Robbery of Bridge Tollman

State Agents and Deputy Sheriff From Bluffs Nab Suspect in Sioux City—Identifies Man.

Charles Anderson of Sioux City is held in the county jail at Council Bluffs as the third man implicated in the robbery of Charles Vanderloo, tollman on the Douglas street bridge, on the night of April 2. His hearing is set for April 21, his bond is fixed at $2,500 and he is charged with robbery with aggravation.

Harry Bolden, shot by Vanderloo as the bandits were making their escape from the bridge, and Mickey Brienza, alleged driver of the car, who was arrested later in Sioux City as an accomplice, are the other two men held for the crime. Bolden is in the county jail and Brienza is out on bond.

Charles Anderson have been identified by Vanderloo as the two men who walked into the tollhouse and held him up. He engaged in a gun battle with them as they ran towards their automobile and hit Bolden. The wounded bandit later was left at a Missouri Valley drug store by his companion and was arrested by Sheriff Walter Millman.

A few days later State Agent O. O. Rock and Sheriff William Groneweg of Council Bluffs brought Mickey Brienza to the Bluffs from Sioux City on the charge of being an accomplice. He is believed to be the third bandit who drove the car for the two gunmen, but did not leave the wheel during the robbery.

State Agent Long and Deputy Sheriff Gillaspay have spent the last 10 days in Sioux City working on this case. Their investigation finally resulted in the arrest of Anderson, who was identified by Vanderloo as the second gunman.

Constantinople, April 14.—Skrumishing is going on between Turks and Greeks in the Bardiz region of Asia Minor, where it is reported neither of the combatants is respecting the American flag hoisted over the Near East Relief station on this case. Their investigation finally resulted in the arrest of Anderson, who was identified by Vanderloo as the second gunman.

German Gold Reaches N. Y.

New York, April 14.—Nearly $5,000,000 in German gold coin, the first such shipment since the war, arrived here on the steamer Stockholm from Gothenburg, consigned to Kuhn, Loeb and company, bankers. The gold, mostly in marks, came from Swedish banking houses, which had accumulated it through payments for goods sent into Germany over a period of years.

Five Irish Policemen Are Ambushed by Fedamore Mob

Dublin, April 14.—Five policemen were ambushed last night at Fedamore, County Limerick, one of them being killed and four wounded. A Sinn Fein shoe factory here which was used as an assembling shop for bombs, was raided last night and two persons in it were arrested.
