

Tariff to Protect Farmers Favored By Nebraska Man

Duty to Represent Differences At Home and Abroad Urged by Former Representative.

Washington, April 22.—Tariff, taxation and Americanization were discussed by the National Farmers union, which is meeting here to frame a program of legislation. A committee recommendation for duties on poultry products precipitated a tariff debate between free traders from the south and protectionists from the northwest. A compromise was effected by the resolution pledging moral support of the organization of the poultry men, Nebraska Representative Pollard of Nebraska, while declaring his adhesion to the principle of protection opposed endorsing any specific duties of protection, but favored a tariff which would represent the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad. He said farmers should be careful in their demands for duty on farm products, as the republican party of which he is a member, had used this as a "sop" to the farmers in the past to impose high duties on manufactured products.

The committee reported the farmers had sustained a loss of $7,000,000 by the "unnecessary" protection of middlemen, arbitrary restriction of credit by federal reserve banks and unreasonable rise in railroad rates, all of which have been created by autocratic economic power exercised under unjust laws. It also suggested taxation of "war millinaires."

The convention endorsed the Americanization bills introduced in congress which would require publication in parallel columns of an English translation of all newspaper articles and publications printed in a foreign language and forbid "hyphenated" names by making it unlawful to use the name of any other nation before that of America in combinations of words. Another resolution "deplored the attitude of the federal farm loan board toward the National Union of Farm Loan associations" and requested them to "desist in their opposition."

Surplus of Farm Labor Reported

More Workers Than Jobs Available in Agricultural Sections.

By ARTHUR M. EVANS, Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire, Chicago, April 22.—Transfusion of labor to the farm has been brought about by the unemployment in the industrial centers. For every 100 jobs offered by farmers in the United States for steady experienced help there are now about 109 seekers. Last year the shoe was on the other foot—for every 100 jobs available there were only 69 men in the market.

The agricultural labor situation is easier than it has been in the last three years; last season's shortage has been supplanted by a labor abundance. The figures are those of government bureaus.

Wages have been deflated. Where the farmer paid $50 to $80 a month last year for hired men, everything, food, shelter, laundry "found," the rates offered now range from $35 to $50 a month. The figures are those of employment agencies.

As to the "back to the farm" movement among jobless factory workers, it has not been as large as some have estimated, according to reports from scores of agents for various industries who have been scouting the rural regions.
