

Censorship of Motion Pictures Looming Again

House Rejects New Senate Regulatory Measure and Another Conference Committee Is Named.

Lincoln, April 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Motion picture censorship loomed on the legislative horizon here tonight at the closing hours of the session.

The senate this morning passed the high license bill with an amendment which put regulatory power over film companies in the hands of the attorney general instead of the superintendent of public instruction. The house rejected the regulatory bill at 6 tonight.

New conference committees were appointed. The house committee, as usual, was all pro-censorship, while it was feared that one member of the senate committee might weaken and vote to put the censorship bill back before the house and senate for consideration in time to get a vote before final adjournment.

Senator Beebe of Polk, leader of the anti-censorship faction, stated tonight that nothing short of speedy adjournment or a miracle would save Nebraska from censorship.

Refusal of the house to accept the regulation bill, fear of legislators to go home without taking some step to correct alleged evil in the media and the fact that Lieut. Gov. P. A. Barrows has left and the selection of the senate conference committee fell to Senator Richard Norval, president pro-tem of the senate and a strong censorship advocate, were given as a reason for the forecast of victory for censorship.

U. S. Awaiting Word of Attitude of Allies

Hughes will return an answer to Germany designed to continue the exchanges.

Harding Criticized.

There is a disposition among the irreconcilables in the senate to criticize President Harding for taking a hand in the reparations dispute between Germany and the allies, it being contended that the president is beginning to involve the United States in European affairs from which he pledged himself to disentangle the nation. They fear he is embarked on a course of action which sooner or later will commit the United States to participation with the allies in enforcing reparations and other treaty terms.

On behalf of the administration it is stated that extreme care is being taken not to involve the United States in enforcement of the treaty terms. The president, it is explained, desires to do what he can to further a settlement of the reparations dispute, believing it to be in the interest of the United States commercially and financially, to promote the economic reconstruction of Europe, which is largely dependent upon payment of Germany's war obligations.

The evolution of the administration peace program is being held in abeyance pending the outcome of the reparations negotiations. The administration is represented as feeling its way carefully in establishing future relationship with Europe and does not purpose to commit itself until the relationship is more clearly defined.

Grand Island Entertains Woman's Club Convention

Grand Island, Neb., April 27.—(Special Telegram.)—The Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs for the Fifth Nebraska district is holding a convention here. It is the first meeting of the body ever held in Grand Island.

Addresses by the president of the State federation, Mrs. Slaker, Hastings, and by Mrs. J. T. Lees, Lincoln, editor of The Bulletin, and reports from the various departments and committees, have featured the sessions. About 75 visiting delegates are present. The district is hopeful of being able to report 100 per cent on the endowment fund and "honor debt" by the time of the state convention.

Omaha Insurance Writer Makes Record for Country

Edward Wolverton, New York Life Insurance company agent, wrote the phenomenal total of $756,500 of insurance policies in the single month.

"I consider that this reflects the prosperity surrounding Omaha," said Mr. Wolverton. "This is the best place on the map. I am an optimist and always have been. People who groan about present conditions and view with alarm the future are simply ignorant of basic conditions. We have more solid foundation of permanent prosperity right here in this great country surrounding Omaha than anywhere else in the country. Nothing can stop us."

His volume of business for the month of March would be a good year's work for a dozen agents. He wrote $600,000 more than any other agent of his company in the country.

Heroine Is Rewarded

Good people everywhere, here you see Mrs. Norman Gurling and Dorothy Grace Gurling of White Plains, N. Y. If you read newspapers you know about Mrs. Gurling. She is the heroic mother who, just a few days before Dorothy Grace was born, climbed 20 feet down a well to rescue her 15-months-old son, Norman Jr., who had accidentally toppled in. The water in the well was 20 feet deep.

Mrs. Gurling had to dig holes in the sides of the well to hold her feet, as she descended and ascended. She brought the boy up on her shoulders unharmed. She, too, was uninjured. Because she's such a wonderfully good and brave mother Dame Nature sent the stork around with Dorothy Grace probably as a reward, and you may see for yourselves how happy Mrs. Gurling is now.

Bandit Succumbs to Self-Inflicted Wound

tal she asked to be permitted to see Chief of Detectives Van Deusen.

Wife Is Held.

"I'm not wanted anywhere," she told him.

"Won't you please let me accompany the body of my husband back home?"

With tears in her eyes she protested her innocence of crime and pleaded to be permitted to go to Chillicothe.

Chief Van Deusen showed her a telegram from Dallas, Tex., asking that she be held for investigation pending further word from Dallas officers.

She admitted she went under the name Lucille Roberts there, but said: "I don't know what they want me for there."

She wired to Chillicothe for money. She will be held for the Dallas officers, Chief Van Deusen said.

Calls for Helen.

All Tuesday night, attendants at the hospital said, Seward cried for "Helen, Helen."

They believe Helen is his first wife who lives in Detroit with their little son, 8 years old.

Seward repeatedly talked of the little fellow at the hospital, and spoke words of regret that he had been separated from his son.

In a statement to detectives today, Seward told the story of his life from the first day he worked as a waiter until he was captured last Saturday.

Has Made $150,000.

"I have been through it all and ready to die," Seward said. "I have figured that I have made $150,000 during my criminal career, but what's the use, it's all gone now but a couple of hundred dollars. I have been engaged in a hundred different 'rackets' but, boys, in the long run it don't pay."

He told detectives he has made plans for the disposition of his body and has already engaged an undertaker. He wants his body sent to Chillicothe, O., his home.

Dan Dennard, deputy constable of Fort Worth, arrived in Omaha Tuesday night and identified Harry Savage, alleged to be a pal of Seward, as one of the men seen in Fort Worth following the Texas & Pacific messenger robbery.

To Fight Extradition.

He wired Fort Worth yesterday for extradition papers and stated that if it took a year and $10,000 he intended to fight until Savage was returned to Texas.

At the city jail Savage was bold and contrary and said he would fight extradition to Texas. He denied any part in the daylight holdup. A special district attorney left Fort Worth Tuesday to aid in the fight for extradition.

Fur and Velvet Hats to Be Style During Warm Months

Chicago, April 27.—The duling has come via New York, in pursuance of the topsy-turvy theory—put into practice in recent seasons—when straw hats have come out in the middle of the January snow storms, that this year velvet, felt and fur-trimmed hats are to be worn during the sizzling months of July and August.

Heads of wholesale millinery houses admitted that large orders of winter hats had been placed for the summer trade and retail store millinery department heads, that the decaying chiffon and rosebud creations, now being shown, would probably soon be replaced.

Man Accused of Threats With Axe gets $100 Fine

Atlantic, Ia., April 27.—(Special.)—Two angry men and an axe got into the court of Justice Roper at Greenfield. The men were Charles Hoepner, director of the Mutual Telephone company, and Bert Cox, a lineman. The dispute arose about the service over one of the rural lines.

Hoepner charged Cox with having the axe with intent to cleave his opponent. Justice Roper took the same view and fined Cox $100. Cox then filed an information charging Hoepner with disturbing the peace. Hoepner drew a fine of $1.

Senator Walsh Sponsors Bills To Aid Veterans

Treatment of Ex-Soldiers Severely Criticized After Which Proposals to Remedy Evils Are Introduced.

Washington, April 27.—Treatment of former soldiers in the matters of hospital care, compensation, vocational training and insurance was criticized severely today by Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, who introduced a sheaf of bills to remedy conditions about which the war veterans have complained. Senator Walsh declared there is "lack of sanitary accommodations, disorder and filth," as well as inadequate medical care.

Government "bureaucracy" and "red tape" was ascribed as reasons for conditions.

Would Pay Policies Soon.

To aid the veterans Senator Walsh's bills would provide: "Repeal of the law forbidding payment of compensation to incapacitated ex-service men unless their disability occurred within one year after discharge.

"Payment of all war risk insurance policies in three installments to beneficiaries, instead of in 240 monthly payments.

"A law for payment of lapsed policies of men dying since the armistice after deducting premiums due at time of death.

Urges Hospital Probe.

"Decentralization of the bureau of war risk insurance, giving regional officials direct authority to accept or reject compensation claims without reference to Washington.

"An inquiry by the senate into hospital conditions where service men are receiving treatment.

Utilization of army cantonment hospitals and increase in medical and nursing corps, or commandeering of seashore and summer hotels for temporary hospital use while new government hospitals are being completed.

Daugherty Holds U. S. Not Liable for Errors In Slacker Draft Lists

Washington, April 27.—Neither the government nor any individual officer of the government could be held liable at law for the erroneous inclusion of names in the slacker draft lists prepared by the War Department for publication, Attorney General Daugherty holds, in an opinion sent to Secretary Weeks.

Mr. Daugherty said the opinion did not pass on the question of the liability of newspapers for publishing such names, but that he did not believe they could be held liable, since the lists would be official ones previously published by the government.

The draft slacker lists have been prepared for some weeks, but their publication has been held up pending receipt of Mr. Daugherty's opinion by Secretary Weeks.

Woman Gets $25,000 In Alienation Case

Chicago, April 27.—The market price for Mrs. Abner Davis' husband was fixed today at $25,000 by a jury in the superior court.

In her previous suit against Abner Davis, sr., on a charge of alienation of affections, she had been allowed $50,000 damages, but the appellate court ordered a retrial. All testimony tended to show Davis, sr., as a father who loved his son too well. "I loved Abner, jr.," Mrs. Davis testified. "We might have been happy together, but his father just went out of his way to break up our marriage. It wasn't that he disliked me personally. It was just that he wanted his son for himself. He was too selfish to let him get married."

Davis, sr., is an oil operator at Wichita Falls, Tex., and controls a number of southwestern banks.
