

Evans Asserts Grain Hedging Bad for Farmers

Nebraska Congressman, Testifying in Support of Anti-Gambling Bill, Says System Wrong.

By E. C. SNYDER.
Washington Correspondent Omaha Bee.
Washington, April 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Congressman Evans, who with other representatives from the grain growing states of the west and northwest, is seeking to put a stop to gambling in wheat and other cereals through legislation, was a witness today before the committee on agriculture of the house in support of his anti-gambling and anti-hedging bill.
In his statement before the committee Congressman McLaughlin presiding during the testimony of his colleague, Judge Evans, said that the chief difference between his bill and other bills that were pending before the committee was that he proposed to do away with the practice of hedging within the next two years.
He declared that the consensus of the testimony of all witnesses was to the effect that the speculation in every instance carried the insurance and the legitimate head under the present system. The speculator he declared to be nothing more nor less than a gambler.
Says Producer Bears Expense.
He called attention to the fact that Mr. Griffin of the Chicago Board of Trade and Mr. Wells of Minneapolis had stated that approximately 50 per cent of all of the speculators on the board of trade went into bankruptcy. He said he therefore concluded that a system of hedging or insurance, which in its very nature requires gambling, was wrong and could not be by any stretch of the imagination in the interest of the producer. He believed that the producer in every instance carried the expense, either directly or indirectly, of marketing his product from the field to the consumer and that the producer bore the expense of the so-called insurance in every instance instead of the speculator.

E. A. Wright, president of the Omaha Grain Exchange, who, with Ed P. Peck, in whose office Mr. Wright started in the grain business, has been in Washington for several days, was a witness before the agricultural committee of the house late Thursday afternoon on the several bills regulating speculation in wheat. Mr. Wright stated to the committee that the hedging or insurance privilege could not be carried on without a broad liquid market and that the speculators were absolutely necessary on the board of trade in order to afford such a broad market. He stated that in years gone by the Omaha board of trade conducted dealings in futures, but that they were compelled to drop the practice because there were not enough speculators in the Omaha market to make it broad enough to afford the hedging privilege. He asserted that Omaha grain dealers were obliged to do their hedging in Chicago where there was a large speculative trade.

Solons Stirred By Objection to State Nominee

Members of Nebraska Delegation Say Protest Against Kinsler As District Attorney Ungrounded.

By E. C. SNYDER.
Washington Correspondent Omaha Bee.
Washington, D. C., April 29.—(Special Telegram.)—The protest filed with Attorney General Daugherty by the representative of the Anti-Saloon league in Nebraska, Rev. E. A. High, against the nomination of J. C. Kinsler of Omaha to be United States district attorney for the district of Nebraska, and endorsed by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the league with headquarters in this city, has created considerable feeling among members of the Nebraska delegation. They go so far as to say that the protest is wholly unwarranted and that if occasion demands the delegation will wait upon the attorney general and if need be ask the president to support their recommendation.

Received Unanimous Vote.
Mr. Kinsler, they say, received the unanimous vote of the delegation and, under the unit rule which was adopted before any action was taken looking to the endorsement of candidates for federal positions, the recognition of a protest by the Nebraska members would be tantamount to a revocation of the rule and thereby destroy its usefulness.

In this connection some of the members of the delegation are outspoken in their criticism of an Omaha telegram to a Lincoln morning newspaper of recent date wherein it is asserted that, among others, Congressman McLaughlin of the Fourth district, during the balloting for candidates for prohibition enforcement officer, voted for U. S. Rohrer and helped to put him across.

Sheriff Admits Liquor Charge

Beatrice Man Must Serve 15 Days in Jail and Pay Fine of $100.

Lincoln, April 29.—(Special.)—John L. Schick, ex-sheriff of Gage county, pleaded guilty in federal court this afternoon to a charge of selling intoxicating liquor to Joseph M. Bernstein at Beatrice, August 27, 1920, and was sentenced by Judge T. C. Munger to 15 days in the Lancaster county jail and to pay a fine of $100.

The judge suspended the execution of the sentence until May 20. Schick faced three counts of an information but pleaded guilty to only the first and the other two were then dismissed.
"Personally I did not sell the booze," the ex-sheriff said, "but I helped the other party get it because I understood it was to have been used for a sick person." Schick said he had been in the habit of giving a little liquor now and then to the sick, who otherwise were unable to get it.
"I have been told to plead not guilty," he said, "and even my persecutors have so requested, but I am not willing to perjure myself."
