

Capper-Tincher Grain Exchange Bill Is Endorsed

President of Board of Trade Says Most of Proposed Reforms Already Under Way

Washington, April 29.—The Capper-Tincher bill for the regulation of grain exchanges was endorsed in principle by Joseph P. Griffin, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, testifying before the house agricultural committee today.

Mr. Griffin read extracts from the report of the board of directors of the board of trade on April 12, recommending numerous changes in the rules regulating grain transactions along the lines of the Capper-Tincher bill. He told the committee he was pleased to note that the bill recognized the necessity for hedging because, he said, "there can be no hedging without future trading and there can be no future trading without speculation."

Mr. Griffin criticized the bill in some of its details and offered numerous suggestions for its modification. He told the committee that the Chicago Board of Trade had already undertaken to carry out most of the reforms proposed by the measure, notably by abolishing indemnity transactions.

Mrs. Brandeis May Enter Movies

Friends Say She Has Ambitions As Producer—Alimony Sufficient Capital.

San Francisco, April 29.—(Special Telegram.)—San Francisco friends of Mrs. Madeline Frank Brandeis, divorced wife of E. John Brandeis of Omaha, will not be surprised if she enters the moving picture game, not as an actress, but as a producer. She has ambitions in that field, her friends say, and with the $400,000 alimony which the Omaha courts have just granted her, she would represent "capital" even in that industry, which deals so lightly in "million-dollar productions."

had that all was not going happily in the Brandeis family was when the young wife and her infant daughter arrived in San Francisco last winter, and after a visit of a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frank, they departed for southern California.

Sluggers Plentiful At $50 Apiece During Strike, Witness Says

Chicago, April 29.—Sluggers and gunmen were so plentiful in Chicago that they could be hired at any time for $50 each, "Sam Fischer testified at the trial of 14 members of the Upholsterers' union, for acts of violence, during a strike from August, 1919, to April, 1920. Fischer previously had testified he had been employed to beat and cripple scabs by union officials. He named two of the men who are now on trial—Edwin E. Graves, international vice president of the union, and Roy Hull, business agent of the Chicago local—as the persons who had paid him and their assistant sluggers for their operations. He explained in detail how the sluggers, if they could not put a man in the hospital for a month or two, crippled him so he would not be able to work.
