Mrs. Bundy to Lead March

Memories of Omaha in the days when it was a great military center and when the army was so prominent are aroused by the announcement that the Officers' Reserve Corps association is going to give an informal military ball and reception to all officers of the regular army, national guard and officers' reserve at the Prettiest Mile club on Friday evening, May 6.

General and Mrs. Omar Bundy will be among the guests on this occasion and will lead the "grand march," without which no military affair is complete.

Much of the pomp and splendor of the old-time receptions will be missing, especially the gold cord and tassels. Each officer, however, whether regular, national or reserve, will wear the khaki uniform, and it is to be expected that the array of double bars, gold and silver leaves, eagles and stars on the various shoulders will be most imposing.

From reveille to taps the affair will be strictly military and many unique and old features are planned for the occasion. Introductions will not be made in the usual way but are to be supplanted by a ceremony quite unusual.

Supper, which the officers insist upon calling "mess," will be served in the club dining room late in the evening to the 125 couples who will be in attendance.

Among those in charge are Capt. O. E. Engler, Maj. J. W. Thompson, Capt. A. A. Wedemeyer and Maj. W. H. Mick.

What's What
By HELEN DECIE

There are at least two ways of eating sandwiches. As every one knows, the slice of meat between slices of bread derives its name from Lord Sandwich, an inveterate card player who could not bear to halt his game, even for luncheon, and so had a waiter serve him with bread and meat in layers. Taking a slice of bread-and-meat, he doubled it, and ate it that way from one hand without stopping his play. Others, following his example, called for a "Sandwich order," and so originated the standby of all picnic parties.

The ordinary sandwich, cut diagonally across, may be eaten from the hand; Lord Sandwich fashion, but a more elaborate combination, such as a club sandwich, should be cut with knife and fork, the divided portions eaten with a fork held in the right hand and assisted by a dry portion of bread or toast held in the left hand.

Miss Mary E. Longmaid

On Saturday evening in Bryn Mawr, Pa., announcement was made by Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Longmaid of the engagement of their daughter, Mary Esterbrook Longmaid, to Casper Offutt of Omaha.

Miss Longmaid is the great granddaughter of the late Richard Esterbrook. Mr. Offutt is the son of Mrs. Charles Offutt and the grandson of the late Casper Offutt.

During the early part of Lent Miss Longmaid was a guest for a short time of Mrs. Milo Gates, then Miss Virginia Offutt.

Miss Longmaid was graduated from the Shipley school at Bryn Mawr and during the war took up nursing. She is now the head of the social service department of the Hahemann hospital in Philadelphia.

Mr. Offutt attended Omaha High school and Lawrenceville Preparatory school in New Jersey. He was graduated from Yale in 1915 and from Harvard College of Law in 1920.

During the war he was connected with the United States diplomatic service. For one year he was first secretary of the American embassy in Chile. While there he was decorated by the Chilean government with the Order of Merit, class three, for services performed there. He was the first American to be so honored.

He was also one year at the United States legation in Panama where he was acting charge d' affaires. At that time the Pacific fleet under Admiral Rodman visited Panama and Mr. Offutt was in charge of arrangements for the various occasions in connection with the visit of the fleet.

No date has been set for the wedding but it will probably take place next fall.

Women of the State Teachers' college at Maryville, Mo., have organized an athletic association for the purpose of encouraging all kinds of sports among the girls in the school.

Low caste Japanese women have incredible strength. They draw heavy waggons, work in the deep mud in the rice fields, row heavy boats and coal ships, always with the inevitable baby strapped to their backs.
