

Cabinet to Mediate in Ship Tieup

Harding Informs Marine Workers' Union He Will Attempt to Get Settlement in Wage Scale Dispute.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, April 30.—Representatives of the marine workers unions were told today at the White House that President Harding would take up with his cabinet officers the matter of mediation in the wage dispute with a view to preventing a threatened strike tomorrow on American ships on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts.

The Department of Labor interested itself in the controversy early in the day and it was understood that Secretary Davis was prepared to ask that his department be authorized to use its good offices in the event the executive decided not to appoint a special board of mediation.

Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's union, and William S. Brown, representing the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association, conferred with Secretary Davis at the White House after they had been told at the White House that the president would take the matter up with his advisers. They laid their situation before Secretary Hoover at the Department of Commerce yesterday.

Mr. Furuseth and Mr. Brown were understood to have told Secretary Davis that they were perfectly willing to leave the whole controversy to the settlement of three "fair minded" men to be named by the president and that they would accept the decision of such a committee. They waited at Mr. Davis' office pending the outcome of the conference between the president and the labor and commerce secretaries.

Petersburg, Alaska, Saved By Stockholders From Sale

Minneapolis, April 30.—The fate of Petersburg, Alaska, was decided here by a dozen men last night, and the town was saved from being sold. Petersburg, a busy fishing and lumbering town of 1,000 persons on the island of Mitkof, is situated on property owned by the Pacific Coast and Norway Packing company, of which E. S. Griffith, of Minneapolis, is president. The stockholders voted down a proposal to transfer property now in charge of the Seattle Trust company, to the Petersburg Packing company.

Japanese Crown Prince Has Arrived at Gibraltar

Gibraltar, April 30.—Crown Prince Hirohito of Japan arrived here today on board the Japanese battleship Katori, on which he is traveling to England. The Katori was escorted into the harbor by the Gibraltar defense flotilla amidst salutes from the British station ship Cormorant, flagship of Rear Admiral Pelly, and the United States cruiser Pittsburgh, flagship of Vice Admiral Niblack, commander of the American naval forces in European waters.

Costs $100 to Be a Count In Republic of San Marino

Paris, April 30.—For $100 anyone can be a count, according to the weekly magazine Garnet de la Semaine. The tiny republic of San Marino, lying near the Adriatic, is so short of funds that it has created a number of titles and is selling them to wealthy tourists.

Omaha District Judge to Assist in Supreme Court

District Judge Leslie will go to Lincoln Monday to sit as a supreme court justice for a few days in accordance with the new constitution's provision providing that the supreme court justices may call in district judges to assist them in their work whenever it becomes necessary.

California Woman Asks Heart Balm of Missouri Millionaire

Joplin, Mo., April 30.—Suit for $150,000 for alleged breach of promise was filed in federal court by attorneys for Caroline M. Williams of Los Angeles against James Luke, Carthage millionaire.

Mrs. Williams declares in her petition that Luke, in February, 1919, proposed to her and she accepted him, but that four months later he was married to another.

It was the second time within a year that Mrs. Williams had sought to recover damages from Luke. In September, 1920, she filed suit in a New York court, asking $100,000 damages, but that court ruled it was without jurisdiction.

Luke also was made defendant in a breach of promise suit for $200,000 brought in June, 1919, in Kansas City, by Mrs. Louise Peibles of Carlinville, Ill. The suit was brought soon after his marriage to Miss Marian Chappelle of Los Angeles, but was never tried in the courts.

Man Allowed to Keep Two Wives and Kiddies

Akron, O., April 30.—Guilhelmo Sarniola will be allowed to keep his two wives and three children, federal and Akron police officials ruled today. The arrangement was entered into when Sarniola brought wives No. 1 and No. 2 to police headquarters.

Wife No. 1 had his 10-year-old son by the hand and wife No. 2 led a little boy and carried the other baby. "I love them both," Sarniola declared, as he embraced them both. "I love them all. I keep them all."

He said he married No. 1 in Italy 16 years ago. He sent for her four years ago, but because of the war she did not come. Then he took No. 2 as a common law wife in Pennsylvania and they had two children. Confronted by the eternal triangle he solved it by stating he will run two homes. The officers let it go at that.

Force of 100 Men Put Out Forest Fire in Mountains

Tucson, Ariz., April 30.—A force of 100 men working until an early hour this morning are thought to have brought under control the forest fire in the Catalina mountains which had been burning since Wednesday. Two summer resorts were saved when the fire burned toward the top of Mount Lemmon. Approximately 250 acres were burned over.

Co-Respondent Comes to Front For Mrs. Stokes

Denver Man, Named in Divorce Case, Denies Charges Against Defendant Made By Husband.

New York, April 30.—Another co-respondent in the Stokes divorce case came to the front for Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes and denied charges of her millionaire husband, W. E. D. Stokes.

The co-respondent, Hal P. Billig of Denver, was a good witness for Mrs. Stokes.

Testimony involving Billig came from Juliette Gassner, French nurse for the Stokes children at the Ansonia hotel. The nurse testified that about 3 a. m. Mrs. Stokes went into the room occupied by Billig, beginning his testimony and questioned by Stokes' attorneys, admitted sending Mrs. Stokes a photograph of himself in flyer grip at Scott Field.

"I sent pictures to all the family," said Billig. He denied he ever wrote on the one to Mrs. Stokes, "To my dear sweetheart."

Billig said that when he came to New York for the Christmas holidays in 1918, "Mrs. Stokes and I went to the Winter Garden and to Miss Mildred Adams' apartment with two other people. We got in about 1:15 o'clock. When we entered the house Mr. Stokes met us and said he wanted to speak to Mrs. Stokes for a minute. Later I heard Mr. Stokes say to a nurse that he was going to sit up all night. I told him that if he had made that remark on my account it wasn't necessary, as I was leaving."

Mrs. Stokes was on the witness stand again today—the sixth day for her and cross-examination was concluded.

She was questioned about testimony involving Edgar T. Wallace, another of correspondents, and Elliott Brown, the "tall dark man," alleged to have come into her room in December, 1918. He was described as "not so tall" by Mrs. Stokes and she denied he ever came to her room.

Des Moines Minister To Perform Marriage Ceremony By Phone

Des Moines, Ia., April 30.—(Special Telegram.)—A long-distance marriage ceremony will be performed here next week by Sheriff W. E. Robb to carry out a recent court order. The principals of the ceremony are Charlotte Woods, waitress, and Morris Cohn, a sailor now in San Francisco.

Cohn was recently indicted for betraying the girl and pleaded that he was always willing to marry the girl, but religious differences prevented. The court ordered the marriage as an alternative of a prison sentence.

Sheriff Robb, who is also a minister of the gospel, suggested the telephone long-distance marriage as a means of carrying out the order and incidentally saving the county about $700. Arrangements are now being made to carry out the unique ceremony.

Less May Moving Booked Than for Several Years

Less moving is scheduled for the first day of this May than for several years past is reported by Omaha real estate and express companies.

"There ain't no place to move to," was one succinct answer. "What moving there is, is chiefly out of apartment buildings into bungalows in the outlying district, the movers said.

"We're busy today and Monday and dated up throughout the week but nothing like former years." Movers' prices underwent no change this year.

No More Wealthy Husbands for Her, Peggy Declares

Girl Who Has Married Three Millionaires Says She Is Through With 'Em From Now On.

Chicago, April 30.—When Peggy Hopkins Joyce, the frail, fair fate of three millionaires, gets ready to dally with matrimony again, it will not be with a rich man.

Peggy said so herself, perched daintily on the edge of a table and waving a cigarette and kicking her silk-clad ankles.

"They are brought up the wrong way," she declares in that soft voice which in her brief 25 summers has breathed alternate messages of hope and despair in the ears of three husbands. "They're—they're depraved. They suspect everybody. They drink. No, if there ever is a next one it won't be a millionaire."

Peggy arrived here yesterday to lend her personal assistance to the fight being made by her attorneys against the suit for divorce brought by the most recent of her husbands, J. Stanley Joyce, multimillionaire lumberman. Mr. Joyce is also here, but he and Peggy did not arrive on the same train. They have been traveling separately since he filed his suit, accusing her with infidelity with four or five men, ranging from Maurice, the dancer, to a wealthy French merchant.

Peggy, who is in seclusion here, was asked whom she would marry if the millionaires were barred.

"I don't know exactly," she said, lighting another cigarette. "My last husband just about spoiled me for anything. He never did anything in moderation. If I wanted a motor I'd buy me just one? Not for a moment. He had to buy me four or five." Peggy looked really sad about it.

Mr. Joyce refused to make any statement regarding the case. Attorneys for both sides denied that Mrs. Joyce's presence here was for the purpose of having a conference with her husband.

Chicago Contractors Plan To Start Lockout Today

Chicago, April 30.—A lockout in the building industry affecting approximately 35,000 men will start at noon today, tying up about $35,000,000 worth of building, according to an announcement by the builders' associations. It was declared that all work will be halted until the workers sign up new agreements at reduced wages.

The craftsmen now get $1.25 an hour and the contractors ask a reduction to $1. Laborers get $1 and a cut to 70 cents is proposed. The unions have refused to accept the proposed reductions.

Juvenile Officer Resigns To Devote Time to Home

Mrs. Alice D. Hopkins has resigned as assistant juvenile officer, the resignation to take effect May 15. Mrs. Hopkins is the wife of John Hopkins, a candidate for city commissioner. They were married in November, 1919. She has been a juvenile officer for nearly six years.

She is resigning to devote all her time to housekeeping, she says. Juvenile Judge Sears has already decided on her successor.

She was questioned about testimony involving Edgar T. Wallace, another of correspondents, and Elliott Brown, the "tall dark man," alleged to have come into her room in December, 1918. He was described as "not so tall" by Mrs. Stokes and she denied he ever came to her room.

Bonds Worth $5,000,000 Within Easy Reach of Boy Who Took $772,000

Chicago, April 30.—Willie Dalton, heralded at the age of 17 as the premier bond thief of the country, was made to look like a piker, or else a weakling who could only carry away $772,000 at one time.

James A. Russell, assistant secretary of the Northern Trust company, testifying in the trial of Dalton, said that at the age of 16 Willie was "the boss" of a vault in which $5,000,000 worth of negotiable bonds of small denominations were secreted. Willie, a few months ago walked out with $772,000 worth and was not apprehended for more than 24 hours.

"Yes, he was in charge of more money there than I was," admitted Mr. Russell.

Harry Rositzky tells the district court in a petition filed yesterday that his last name is "too hard to spell" and he asks permission to change it to Rose.

"Ure Doesn't Froth at the Mouth"

That is what a newspaper, now fighting Ure, said of him when it wasn't "tied up" for partisan purposes in a political campaign against him.

That is what most men think of W. G. Ure, whose record as a public servant has won repeated approval by his bosses—the plain people who cast the votes.

Ure has served all the people; he has tried to represent them all. Ure has not been swayed by religious or racial prejudice—some of his close friends and associates are of other race and of other creed than he himself.

Ure has not been a tool of special privilege—he has fought corporate interests to a standstill time and again—he has made them pay taxes—he has made them cut public utility rates—but he has not been a demagog.

Ure has fought independently for what he believed to be right; he has never "fallen into line" simply because someone else told him to.

The interests who want a man they can boss are opposed to Ure's re-election as City Commissioner.

The only chance Ure has is by the votes of the ordinary run of folk

URE---
