

U.S.C. of C. Fails. To Go on Record For Sales Tax

Confusion in Vote Causes Question to Be Submitted To Referendum of Membership.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 30.—Attempts to place American business on record as favoring a sales tax and the repeal of the excise or luxury tax failed in the closing session of the ninth annual convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce because of the confusion in the vote.

The subject, which was a matter of warm debate, was ordered to be submitted to a referendum of the organization's membership. The sales tax was overwhelmingly approved in a referendum taken during the convention, but owing to a misunderstanding in the vote the resolutions committee asked that a new referendum be taken that would be "freed from uncertainty and conclusive in its recommendations."

While a convention referendum also approved a tariff policy that would give "due regard to export trade as well as to the protection of the manufacturing in the United States," it was decided to refer it to the committee on tariff policy, which is studying the matter and will soon make its final report.

For "Hands Off" Policy.

The chamber adopted a declaration of principles on American enterprise which urged the government to adopt "hands off" policy toward business except for the purpose of preserving a fair and active field of free competition.

The chamber called upon the government to give a clear definition of its positive declaration of its policy concerning the establishment and maintenance of world peace and of order and understanding in the commercial intercourse of nations.

Urge Waterways.

Other resolutions urged congress to make appropriations for improvement and maintenance of commercial waterway projects and in such appropriations should follow a policy of continuous development and maintenance.

It opposed a general cash bonus or its equivalent in certificates to soldiers, sailors and marines, but approved "constructive measures as may be directly calculated to enable ex-service men to cultivate the soil, build homes or obtain vocational education."

Urged establishment of a court of courts of tax appeals, to be appointed by the president and to be entirely separate and independent from the treasury department, to adjudicate cases in dispute between tax payers and the bureau of internal revenue.

Asked that the government adopt a policy of less burdensome rates upon capital gains and income received from business.

Urged the government to take up the problems of international debts without delay and find solutions "which are just alike to our allies and to ourselves."

Approved Proposal for national budget system as a needed economy in government operation.

W. E. McMahon Elected Head of Disabled War Vets' Body

W. E. McMahon was elected president of chapter 5, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, at the organization meeting in the city hall last night. Paul N. Kirk was elected vice president. Seig, chairman constitution and bylaws committee.

There are now 53 members in the local chapter. Hopes were expressed at the meeting to increase this to 350 before the first national convention in Detroit, June 27-30.

Disorders in Dublin Following Shootings

Dublin, April 30.—Disorder reigned in this city for several hours last night, following the firing of a shot at police auxiliaries near the office of the Freeman's Journal. Auxiliaries later raided the newspaper plant, alleging that the shot had been fired from an upper story of the building, but today's issue of the Journal stated no arrests were made and that no evidence was obtained to support the charge.

At about the same hour a shooting affair occurred on Great Brunswick street. It is reported that the raiders in their excitement fired on the central police station when a policeman happened to look out of a window and refused to withdraw when ordered to do so by one of the auxiliaries.

Evans Asserts Grain Hedging Bad for Farmers

Nebraska Congressman, Testifying in Support of Anti-Gambling Bill, Says System Wrong.

By E. C. SNYDER.
Washington Correspondent Omaha Bee.
Washington, April 30.—(Special Telegram.)—Congressman Evans, who with other representatives from the grain growing states of the west and northwest, is seeking to put a stop to gambling in wheat and other cereals through legislation, was a witness Friday before the committee on agriculture of the house in support of his anti-gambling and anti-hedging bill.

In his statement before the committee Congressman McLaughlin presiding during the testimony of his colleague, Judge Evans, said that the chief difference between his bill and other bills that were pending before the committee was that he proposed to do away with the practice of hedging within the next two years.

He declared that the consensus of the testimony of all witnesses was to the effect that the speculator in every instance carried the insurance end of the legitimate head under the present system. The speculator he declared to be "nothing" more nor less than a gambler.

Says Producer Bears Expense.

He called attention to the fact that Mr. Griffin of the Chicago Board of Trade and Mr. Wells of Minneapolis had stated that approximately 50 per cent of all of the speculators on the board of trade went into bankruptcy. He said he therefore concluded that a system of hedging or insurance, which in its very nature requires gambling, was wrong and could not be by any stretch of the imagination in the interest of the producer. He believed that the producer in every instance carried the expense, either directly or indirectly, of marketing his product from the field to the consumer and that the producer bore the expense of the so-called insurance in every instance instead of the speculator.

E. A. Wright, president of the Omaha Grain Exchange, who, with Ed P. Peck, in whose office Mr. Wright started in the grain business, has been in Washington for several days, was a witness before the agricultural committee of the house late Thursday afternoon on the several bills regulating speculation in wheat.

Mr. Wright stated to the committee that the hedging or insurance privilege could not be carried on without a broad liquid market and that the speculator were absolutely necessary on the board of trade in order to afford such a broad market.

Mayor Praises Ure in Swan Song Of Administration

A crowd of 6,000 persons filled the Auditorium Friday night to attend the Committee of 5,000 good government meeting at which Mayor Smith gave the "swan song" of his administration and extolled the virtues of Commissioners Ure, Ringer, Towl and Falconer, candidates for re-election.

Omaha's financial condition is the best in the city's history, the mayor declared. "Every fund in the city treasury is full of money," said he. "Every obligation which fell due in the last three years was paid in cash on the day it fell due. That's more than any business house or bank in Omaha can say."

Praises Police.

"Not a single renewal bond was issued, and I'm the first mayor who sat in the chair who can say that." The mayor pronounced the pres-den of re-electing the commissioners now in office. When Commissioner Ringer, the only candidate besides Judge Sutton to speak, arose, the crowd leaped to its feet and cheered lustily.

Mrs. H. C. Sumney pleaded with women voters to cast their ballots for good government and civic decency. Henry F. Wolf spoke for John F. Murphy, labor candidate. Elmer Thomas asked for $8,000 in pledges for campaign funds. John W. Towle also spoke and Byron Burbank presided.

Ringer Cheered.
