Wayne, Neb., May 2.—(Special).—Walter Savage, who lives in Wayne and who has owned and operated the Walter Savage Carnival company for several years, now owns one of the largest attractions of its kind on the road. It will require 15 cars to transport the show this season. A total of 250 people are employed. Among the plays presented by the Savage company are: "Polyana," "Mary's Ankle," "Cappy Ricks," "That Girl Patsy," and "Dawn of the Mountains."

Jefferson County Pays Bounty on 139 Coyotes

Fairbury, Neb., May 2.—(Special).—Jefferson county has paid bounty on 139 coyotes since January 1, 1921, a total of $417. Ninety-nine scalps were received last week.

Sunday of each week seems to be the unlucky day for the baby coyotes, as each Monday morning when the clerk opens his office there are from one to five persons waiting for rewards for the previous day's work. The litters of pups average from 6 to 10.

Country Papers Not To Cut Rates

Loup Valley Editors Call Attention to High Prices of Printing Material.

Grand Island, Neb., May 2.—(Special).—The Loup Valley Editorial association, at its meeting here, adopted resolutions stating that for the immediate future a conservative line in the economy of publishing is absolutely necessary, and because increased prices in subscriptions and advertising did not reach the average in other lines, corresponding reductions, either in time or in amount, could not be looked for.

"In the face of these conditions," the resolution adds, the public should not expect the printers' prices, which did not advance, to be reduced in the same manner as merchandise which fluctuated with the market price.

The resolutions also urged members to "exclude all doubtful stock promotion and similar advertising, which tends to lower the ethics of our calling."

A living wage for all publishers' employees was urged, but the demand for a 44-hour week, at a time when country publishers are compelled to work from 10 to 14 hours a day, was regarded as not only untimely, but impossible of endorsement.

President Buehler urged the adoption of the state association plan in promotion of officers and nominated J. R. Webster of St. Paul for president for the ensuing year. His election followed. E. C. Krewson of Elm Creek was elected vice president and C. E. Johnson of Gibson secretary-treasurer. Secretary Buck of the state association recommended a joint district meeting here and in

Pullman Company Wants 22 Per Cent Cut in Valuation

Lincoln, May 2.—(Special).—The Pullman company in Nebraska asked today that a 22 per cent reduction be made on its valuation as compared to that of last year. The request came in the form of a report presented to the state board of equalization and assessment. The actual value of Pullman cars and holdings fixed by the board last year was $840,835. This year it wants the value cut to $639,543.

Wayne Merchants to Hold Community Carnival Sale

Wayne, Neb., May 2.—(Special).—Merchants of Wayne have announced a community carnival sale for this week. The object is to emphasize Wayne as a trade center. Other aims are to celebrate the completing of Wayne's paving project and to call attention to the Nebraska Teachers' college and to the new Dr. Lutzen hospital. The State Normal school band will give a concert each afternoon.

Lincoln, May 2.—(Special).—The American Railway Express company has applied to the state railway commission for the same intrastate specifications on shipments as is given on interstate shipments.

Arlington to Get Electric Current From Fremont

Arlington, Neb., May 2.—(Special).—The town of Arlington has voted bonds of $18,000 to be used for building an electric transmission line to Fremont. Contracts for furnishing material have been let to Omaha firms and the job of building the line was given to the Wright Construction Co. of Fremont. Work will be started at once. Arlington has had inadequate service for 15 years, but will have 24-hour service in a few weeks.

RIOT

The Riot Is the Most Significant Fact in the Election

General Leonard Wood said the courthouse riot was the result of an organized effort.

John W. Towle, foreman of the grand jury which investigated the riot, said it is his firm conviction that the crime for which the negro was lynched was never committed.

The negro was not a prisoner of the POLICE DEPARTMENT. He was in the hands of the SHERIFF. The sheriff had been advised and urged by the police to remove this negro from Omaha, but this advice was ignored. The prisoner was dressed differently from any other in the jail.

The sheriff was a friend and political co-worker of Dennison.

The man who was with the girl at the alleged committing of the crime was a cousin of the man who today is running Dennison's campaign for Dahlman and Dunn. He could not be found at the investigation by the grand jury.

After the downtown riot was over more than a hundred of the thugs and criminals who had been imported to carry out the riot went to the police station "to clean it out." They would have done so, but for the timely appearance of federal troops.

If it was an organized effort, as Towle and General Wood say, it was for the sole purpose of discrediting the Omaha police department.

Who could it have been that was willing to commit organized arson and murder to discredit the Ringer police force?

Ringer may not have handled the riot as well as many who had no responsibility think he should, but ask yourselves, good citizens of Omaha, is that any reason for turning back the police force into the hands of the ungodly crew who in all human probability were responsible for the riot?

If not, vote the straight Good Government Ticket.

If you don't want these enemies of the Omaha police department to get control of the city government, vote for these men:

- Sutton—Ringer
- Towl—Falconer—Murphy
- Grimmel—Ure

The Air You Breathe Should Be As Pure As The Water You Drink

Avoid THOSE poorly ventilated rooms and buildings which breed the vicious health foes that lurk in foul, dead air—beware of the perilous germs in unclean atmospheres. Demand the safety of clean, fresh air wherever you work or play, dine, shop or gather.
