

U. S. Troops Wait Trouble After Border Shooting

25th Infantry Ready for Action Following Clash Between American and Mexican Line Riders.

BULLETIN.
Nogales, Ariz., May 3.—Following an evening of mob rule and disorder at Nogales, Sonora, opposite here the 25th infantry, Col. Earl Carnahan commanding, was held in readiness for immediate action in the event of firing across the line.

Naco, Ariz., May 3.—Pedro Losya, Mexican immigration officer, was probably fatally wounded yesterday afternoon in a battle between Mexican and United States line-riders one mile east of here.

Frank Braly and another American line rider named Hulsey were the Americans involved in the shooting. According to reports received here tonight by Chief Inspector Ford of the United States immigration force, the two Americans were fired on by two Mexican line riders who had ridden their horses across the border.

The Mexicans fired first, according to Ford, and Hulsey returned the fire, fatally wounding one of the Mexicans. The wounded Mexican mount, according to reports ran back across the line with his helpless rider, while the second Mexican, apparently not wounded, rode away at top speed toward Osborne, Ariz., two miles east. Neither of the United States line riders was wounded. Both said, according to Ford, that the Mexicans had apparently been drinking and opened fire without provocation.

Importance of Inland Waterway Projects Told at New Orleans

New Orleans, May 3.—Importance of inland waterway development in the Mississippi valley region was emphasized by speakers at the opening session of the third annual convention of the Mississippi Valley association.

J. M. Parker, governor of Louisiana, in the keynote speech, declared it time for congress to get behind the authority and obtain legislation which would make it possible for all waterways to be developed rather than a few points of particular interest to certain members of congress.

C. A. Newton of St. Louis, congressman from Missouri and a member of the house river and harbor committee, blamed most of the problems confronting the people to high cost of freight transportation and declared that the solution was in inland waterways development.

Another plea for better waterways transportation came from Katherine Clemons Gould, president of the women's chamber of commerce of the United States.

Directly connected with the question of inland waterways development was the dedication late today of the $20,000,000 New Orleans industrial canal and inner harbor.

Wheeler Denounced As $25,000-a-Year Rockefeller Employee

Washington, May 3.—Wayne B. Wheeler, the "dixie" leader, was denounced as "the $25,000 a year employe of John D. Rockefeller, jr., and others training as a representative of the Hill of Baltimore in a statement yesterday.

Mr. Hill is engaged in a spirited controversy with Mr. Wheeler as a result of the bill introduced to repeal the Volstead act.

"Attorney Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon league demands that I publish the names of my colleagues in congress who favor the repeal or the liberalization of the Volstead act," said Mr. Hill. "I have no intention of gratifying his curiosity. He will learn the strength of the liberals when the votes are recorded in congress."

Too Much Sunshine May Make You Sick

London, May 3.—"Temperance in sun, as in all things," is the rule laid down by Dr. Crawshaw Holt, medical officer of Glasgow, who has caused a sensation by declaring that sunlight is a prolific cause of disease. "It is necessary to remove from people's minds the impression that unlimited exposure to the sun must be beneficial. The chemical changes in the sun produce certain alterations in the cells of the body which make them suitable food for disease germs."

"Epidemic diarrhoea occurs always in places where there is a strong sun and is most fatal to children under 12 months old, who have no pigment underneath the skin."

May Move Electric Chair to Execute 200-Pound Woman

Ossining, N. Y., May 3.—The electric chair at Sing Sing will be moved from the execution of Mrs. Mattie Dixon of New York City, who is to die the week of June 13.

The woman weighs more than 200 pounds and at the present time is on the third floor of the prison. To take her to the electric chair, now in the death chamber, would necessitate a trip almost through the entire prison and it is feared the woman would collapse and have to be carried. Attendants have suggested it would be more humane to move the chair to the woman than to take her to it.

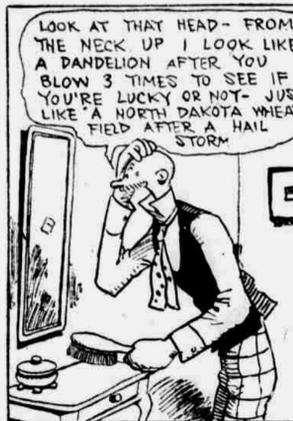

Six Killed and Many Hurt in Train Wreck Near Tug, W. V.

Roanoke, Va., May 3.—Six persons were killed and many more injured late today, when the Tugfork passenger train, backing off a branch line near Tug, broke loose and crashed into a string of cars on the main line of the Norfolk and Western railway.

Several passenger coaches were turned over.

SLEEPY-TIME TALES THE TALE OF GRUMPY WEASEL BY ARTHUR SCOTT BAILEY

CHAPTER XVIII. Pop! Goes the Weasel.

There were many things that did not please Grumpy Weasel—things that almost any one else would have liked. For instance, there was music. The Pleasant Valley Singing society, to which most of the bird people belonged, did not number Grumpy Weasel among its admirers. He never cared to hear a bird sing—not even

As a rule Grumpy Weasel was glad to go on about his business, though to be sure he hated to oblige anybody. But one day he stopped and scolded at the top of his voice when he came upon the Woodchuck brothers whistling in the pasture. Their whistles quavered a bit when they noticed he was present. And they moved a little nearer their front door, in order to dodge out of sight if need be. Although Grumpy Weasel might follow them, there was a back door they could rush out of. And since they knew their way about their underground halls better than he did they did not worry greatly.

For a wonder Grumpy Weasel was almost pleased.

Jolly Robin's cousin the Hermit, who was one of the most beautiful singers in the woods. And as for Buddy Brown Thrasher, whom most people thought a brilliant performer. Grumpy Weasel always groaned whenever he heard him singing in the topmost branches of a tree. A bird-song—according to Grumpy Weasel—was of use in only one way; it told you where the bird was. And that was a help, of course, if you were trying to catch him.

Now did the musical frog family's nightly concerts have much charm for Grumpy, though he did admit that some of their songs were not so bad as others.

"I can stand it now and then," he said, "to hear a good, glum croaking, providing there are plenty of dis-cords."

Naturally, knowing how he felt, Grumpy Weasel's neighbors never invited him to listen to their concerts. On the contrary they usually asked him please to go away, if he happened to come along. Certainly nobody could sing his best, with such a listener.

Romance in Origin Of Superstitions

By H. IRVING KING.

Nutmegs.
The popular superstition about nutmegs is that pierced and hung about the neck in the manner of a charm, they are a cure for various physical ills. Not long ago, a school-teacher near Boston advised her pupils to wear nutmegs in this manner to prevent colds, and the daughter of a New Hampshire legislator wore one for a night and a day to cure earache. Down south nutmegs are worn to cure styes and out west they are worn to cure rheumatism.

Though different sections select different diseases for which the nutmeg charm is most recommended, the general belief is that nutmegs are efficacious in all diseases. The key to the superstition is found in the name of the genus of plants to which the nutmeg belongs, which is myristica from the Greek word myristikos, meaning "fit for anointing."

"Though a native of the islands of the Indian sea, the nutmeg, or its kin, appears to have found its way, though sparingly, to Egypt and the eastern shores of the Mediterranean where it became known to the Greek communities of Asia Minor and received its Greek name. It was the oil produced from the covering of the kernel of the nutmeg which was suitable for anointing" and it was that figure of speech known as metonymy which extended the name myristikos to the whole fruit.

Originally anointing had three purposes—bodily health and comfort, honor, and consecration. Reasoning by analogy the best authorities consider the most ancient use to have been for purposes of health. The New England "school marm" advising her pupils to wear nutmegs strung around their necks to prevent colds offers an example of a primitive sanitary idea degenerated through the long ages into a popular superstition.

Where It Started

"Hello." The use of the word "hello" as a greeting comes from the old hunting cry "halloo" or the "view-haloo," given when the game is in sight. The origin of the word is in the French phrase "au loup" (pronounced "loo"), meaning "to the wolf!" or simply "the wolf."

A NECK SHAVE IS A HAIRCUT WITH ANDY NOW

More Truth Than Poetry

SLIGHT ALTERATIONS

Listen my children and you shall hear Of the midnight ride of Paul Revere, Who paused at Salem to pitch his camp And met with a beautiful blonded vamp, Who fell on his neck and cried and sighed, And made him give up his projected ride, So when the British came up the bay All of the farmers were in the hay, And that is the way the Red-coats won The well-known battle of Lexington.

Aha! I fancy I hear you sneer, That you never had heard that Paul Revere could be such a base Lothario. Well, that of course may be the fact But it isn't my purpose to be exact For this is a screen scenario!

"Priscilla," young John Alden said, "Old Standish is simply cracked to wed. He's sized you up, and he thinks you'll do And he's sent me here to propose to you." "Great stuff!" responded the lovely Jane. "His whiskers are queer and his face is plain But I far would rather the future brave, As an old man's pet than a young man's slave. So tell old Myles I am for him strong, And say! Did you bring the ring along?"

"What's that? What's that?" Do I hear you say, "Priscilla would never behave that way; She wasn't a flibberty-gibberty!" She was far from that, as well I know But in making a film for a movie show An author must have some liberty!

WE ARE expecting Greece to extend to Mr. James Stillman an earnest invitation to come over there and examine their stock of princesses as soon as he gets that divorce.

CLEAN CUT
Anyway, there are no whiskers on Mr. Hughes' state papers.

SILLY!
It is absurd to say that religion is dying out because of the growth of incredulity. There are simply millions of people who still believe in seed catalogues.

WHY

Does a Match Light? Experimentation will show us that matches may be lighted apparently in two ways—either by drawing them sharply along some surface, or by subjecting them to heat. But, in reality, these methods are one and the same, for slipping the match along a rough surface generates the heat which ignites the chemicals on the match-head just as certainly as if we held it in the flame. As proof of this, draw your finger sharply along the sleeve of your coat or along the rough side of a match box, and you will be immediately conscious of a distinct feeling of warmth, caused by the friction between your finger and the other substance. The heat, of course, will not cause your finger to catch fire, but, if continued sufficiently long, it will cause a blister to appear, and if the tip of your finger were coated with the same chemical as a match-head, these chemicals would at once burst into flame.

The placing of a small amount of easily inflammable substance on the end of a bit of wood, so that it may be ignited by friction, makes what we call a "match," and the process of "striking" is nothing more than the exercise of strength sufficient to generate the necessary amount of heat. Safety matches differ from the ordinary type in that the chemicals used for the coating of their tips do not burst into flame unless drawn along a surface especially designed for this purpose; thus safeguarding them against premature ignition through being rubbed together or stepped upon or handled by children who are ignorant of their use.

Parents' Problems

Should parents, who can afford it, send their children to private schools? This would depend largely upon local conditions. If the children are delicate, the shorter hours of private schools might be better for them than the longer hours of the public school. The smaller classes in the private schools might be what very "bright" or very "backward" children need. But, on the whole, the public schools are better for children. There, they live in a little world, of many kinds of children. That, in itself, is an education.

Printers Quit In 50 Cities for Shorter Hours

Unions Ask 44-Hour Week With Same Wage as Formerly Was Paid for 48 Hours Service.

Chicago, May 3.—Union job printing houses in Chicago were closed yesterday as the result of a strike which also affected more than 50 cities in all parts of the country. It applied to the book and job printing industry and did not affect newspapers.

The issue, according to the employers, was the 44-hour week. In Chicago the shorter week went into effect today in the union shops, according to agreement. The employers posted notices Saturday pay would be at the old hourly rate, or that 44 hours pay would be given for 44 hours work.

The unions were said to take the position that the old weekly rate of earnings should apply in Chicago. It was estimated that between 4,000 and 5,000 job printers struck. The employers said that it was a walk out, the unions that it was a lock out.

While claims of 4,000 to 4,500 men on strike in Chicago were made by union leaders and 1,500 in New York state, other parts of the country felt the blow in a smaller degree. Pittsburgh reported 1,000 men out. Denver 725. St. Louis 350 and a lesser number in Springfield and Worcester, Mass., New Britain, Conn., St. Johns, N. F., New Haven, Conn., Baltimore, Lancaster, Pa., Fargo, N. D., Grand Forks, N. D., Toledo, Omaha, Houston and San Francisco.

W. H. Barnes, secretary of the Chicago 44-hour league of employing printers, declared last night after a meeting attended by 93 employing printers who maintain open shops, that the employers would maintain their stand for the 48-hour week.

"The unions are demanding a 44-hour week with 48 hours pay," he said. "This is considered by employing printers of Chicago an unjustified request in the face of the present demand by the public for a reduction of prices."

Americans Held in Mexico Released and Return Home

San Antonio, Tex., May 3.—Jesus and Manuel Trejo, American residents arrested in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, last week, as emissaries of Francisco Murguía, alleged leader of a revolution in Mexico, have been given their freedom, according to an announcement made by federal agents here. The two men have crossed to the United States side, it was reported. Denial was made that the men were sent from Nuevo Laredo to Tampico.

No Compromise in Ship Dispute, Benson Asserts

Washington, May 3.—Announcing a policy of no compromise on the 15 per cent wage reduction in the settlement of the controversy between the shipping board, American steamship owners and Marine workers, Chairman Benson last night called on "all loyal citizens to rally to the support of their flag."

"Full protection," he said, "will be given by the shipping board to all those who come to its assistance in keeping ships in operation."

Harding Starts Drive to Shave Federal Spending

Condemns Dangerous Tendency of Government Departments to Live Beyond Appropriations.

Washington, May 3.—President Harding launched a drive today against what he termed the "dangerous tendency" of government departments to live beyond the means provided for them by congress and submit requests for deficiency appropriations to cover deficits. In identical letters to cabinet members, the president called attention to the fact that calls for approximately $216,000,000 in deficiency appropriations are now pending "and that the estimated deficiencies will run very much beyond that sum."

The president said he was very sure "that we can never fix ourselves firmly on a basis of economy until the departments are conducted within the provisions made by congress." The full text of his letter follows:

"I am in receipt of a letter from Chairman Warren of the senate committee on appropriations calling my attention to the fact that estimates now before the congress call for approximately $216,000,000 of deficiency appropriations and that the estimated deficiencies will run very much beyond that sum."
