

Women Should Keep Busy, Says Peggy Reeves

Character Analyst Asserts Wife Who Won't Keep Up Home Should Be Made To Earn Living.

Activity, either in the home or in the business world, was advocated by Peggy Majorbanks Reeves, character analyst, in a speech before members of the Kiwanis club Friday noon at the Rome hotel.

"If I were a married man and my wife was not busy mothering my children or did not interest herself in keeping up her home, I'd make her work. I wouldn't give her any money and all she needed to spend I'd make her earn."

"Women have no business being idle. If they don't want to keep house they should work. If they want to be mothers they should do so."

"Because men and women do not know each other better divorces result. I would make it harder to marry and easier to get a divorce. Children should be taught the merits of living in the schools. Girls and boys shouldn't marry the first person with whom they fall in love. They should analyze one another and know whether the marriage is going to be successful before they take the step."

According to the analyst even successful business men do not use all their mental and physical energies in the pursuit of their work. She said few men knew their own possibilities and were thus handicapped.

Trust Company Seeks To Annul Marriage of Elderly Woman Ward

Mrs. Blanda Anderson, 63, and Carl Anderson, 66, were married Thursday afternoon, but yesterday the Peters Trust company filed a petition in district court, asking that the marriage be annulled, because of the alleged incompetency of Mrs. Anderson.

The trust company was appointed guardian for Mrs. Anderson some time ago and holds for her property and securities valued at $22,000. Following the wedding in the county court house Thursday the newly married couple went to the trust company and attempted to withdraw the money. It was refused.

The wedding was the outcome of a correspondence courtship between Anderson, who lives at Satele, Minn., and Mrs. Anderson, formerly Blanda Nielsen, a ward of the Nazareth home, Thirty-fourth street and Meredith avenue. August Johnson, brother of the bride, lives at 2537 Seward street, approves the annulment.

Widow Sues for Damage For Death of Her Husband

Christine Allin brought suit in district court yesterday against the Missouri Pacific railroad and the Nebraska Power company for $100,000 damages.

On April 8, 1921, at 1:30 a. m. her husband, Oda L. Allin, 32, driving a car, collided with railroad bars let down to block traffic at Florence boulevard and the Belt line, and received injuries which caused his death, she says. She alleges that insufficient lighting caused the accident.

Dr. Abbie Holmes to Speak To Teachers and Parents

"Facing Facts" will be the subject of Dr. Abbie Virginia Holmes' talk before the Parent-Teachers' association in Central High school auditorium Tuesday evening at 8. Dr. Holmes lectures on sex hygiene and social problems. L. B. Erion has charge of the program.

E. S. Rood, chairman of the organization committee, will report plans for next year. This is the last meeting for the current year. Election of officers will take place.

Man Shot Through Breast Dies; Police Hold Woman

Nathan Long, who was taken to the St. Joseph hospital Monday night with a bullet hole in his left breast, died Friday morning and Mrs. Tony Golgia is being held for the shooting. The woman said she shot Long while he was attempting to rob her house. Long admitted the woman had shot him and that he and two companions had gone to her house to get liquor. The woman was released on $1,000 bond. Long's case came from Mar. shallown, Ia., Tuesday. Long lived at 1812 Chicago street.

Body of Flyer Killed by Fall to Pass Through Omaha

The body of Walter M. Bunting, young air mail pilot who was burned to death Thursday morning when his plane crashed to earth at Rock Springs, Wyo., will pass through Omaha today, according to advice received yesterday by W. I. Votaw, superintendent of the air mail station at Omaha.

The body is en route to Camden, N. J., Bunting's former home.

Arrest Man Suspected of Several Lincoln Holdups

Ben Livingstone was arrested yesterday by Detective (Trapp) and Munch at 2537 1/2 South Eighth street, on information from Lincoln. He is said to have confessed to Acting Chief of Detectives Pisanowski that he is the man who has been terrorizing Lincoln with robberies and holdups for the last two months.

He was taken to Lincoln yesterday afternoon.

Dunn Shows Displeasure With City Prosecutor

As T. B. Murray took his place as city prosecutor at the side of Police Judge H. W. Dunn in police court Friday morning, the latter exclaimed, "Get down there where you belong, you said so many things about me during the campaign I don't want you near me."

"I'll get down and out," replied Murray, and he left the court room.

Samson Promises Hot Initiation

"Better Join Early if You Want Mild Entrance," Says Gardner.

Prospective subjects of Samson who wish to avoid the secret initiation into Ak-Sar-Ben will do well to join before May 23, according to an announcement made yesterday by Charles Gardner, secretary to Samson.

"Oh, boy, there'll be some hot initiations after opening date," added Mr. Gardner, with a tricky wink of his eye.

"Those boys who want to walk gently into the Den without undergoing the rigors of some unexpected occurrences had better enlist in the ranks of Samson now," he warned. "Right now!"

The drive for Ak-Sar-Ben members will be continued with renewed vigor all next week, Mr. Gardner said.

To date, the membership numbers nearly 2,000. Hope of reaching a total of 6,000 before opening night of Gus Renze's musical comedy at the Den was expressed by Mr. Gardner.

Extradition Hearing Of Suspected Liquor Runners Set for Today

Unless attorneys for the Canadian liquor dealers who are prosecuting Omaha booze runners for alleged robbery and forgery in Canada are called to Minot, N. D., to start the extradition hearing of William Maher, alias William Connelly, alias J. F. Burns, who was arrested Wednesday night, the continued hearing of the four Omaha men on similar charges will be held Saturday in federal court.

The four Omaha men, Bart Williams, alias "Red the Rough;" Wiley Compton, Axel Pearson and Jack Howard, pals of Maher, are still in the county jail without bonds, awaiting final decision of United States Commissioner Edwin C. Boelter as to whether they shall be extradited to Canada.

They were arrested two months ago.

Farmer Hurt When Wagon Is Hit by Street Car Dies

J. K. Estal, 45, a farmer, who was hurled against a curb Thursday afternoon at Eighth avenue and Main street, Council Bluffs when a street car struck the wagon he was driving, died in Mercy hospital at 1 a. m. yesterday. He was unconscious when he was taken to the hospital right after the accident.

Loan Co. Head Charged With Election Fraud

Ernest O. Ames, president of the State Savings and Loan association, was arrested Friday morning, charged with destroying a ballot at last Tuesday's election, while acting as an election official at a polling booth at Thirty-sixth and Jackson streets. Ames' bond was fixed at $1,500.

An hour later Ames handed in his resignation as president of the savings association. It was accepted. Ames will have a preliminary hearing in police court this morning.

Ames' arrest followed the filing of a complaint against him Thursday by Harley G. Moorhead, election commissioner.
