Benson Woman's Club One of the most enjoyable meetags of the club year was held Thurs-May 5, at the country home of and Mrs. E. W. Norris. Thirty bers were present. After the anil reports were read and approved . W. A. Wilcox, retiring president, gave a short installation talk to the incoming officers and presented the gavel to Mrs. C. C. Beavers, the new president of the club. Other officers installed were: Mrs. C. N. Wolfe, vice president; Mrs. C. H. Faris, recording secretary; Mrs. W. H. Loechner, corresponding secre-tary; Mrs. J. T. Pickard, treasurer, and Mrs. N. H. Tyson, assistant treasurer. The membership committee, who are also elected by the club, were installed in the regular way. A large bouquet of American Beauty roses had been provided by the hostess and was presented to Mrs. Wilcox at the close of the installation ceremony, Mrs. J. W. Welch making the presentation ech. The new committees were nounced and written suggestions for the next year's study program were handed to the secretary, after which a buffet luncheon was served by the hostess, who was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Schopp.

Parent-Teacher Association.

The Benson Parent-Teacher association held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the assembly room of Benson High school. Much enthusiasm was manifested and at the close of the business session new members were enrolled, making a total of 100. Dues are 25 cents an-nually. All parents are invited to become members of the association. the chairmen of the different comthe direction of Mrs. Pixler, rendered two vocal numbers, and Miss Travella Thomas gave two piano selections. "My little daughter had eczema hen she was eighteen months old. The eruptions on her face were large and red and festered and scaled over with a black scale. There were small, watery places on her scalp which turned to a soft white scale. She was terribly disfigured and restless at night. I began using Cuticura Soap and it was a great help, but not intil I began using Cuticura Ointment, together with the Cuticura Soap, did the eruptions entirely leave. She was healed." In Regard to Color. Time was, and that not long ago, when we accorded certain colors to certain ages among femininity, Black we gave to the elderly ladies, allowing them possibly a touch of lavender or purple in their hats; blue and kindred tones were for the youthful, and pink for the very young, with the between colors for matrons. But at last color, taking the bit in its mouth, like a runaway horse, has chosen to distribute it. self according to its own sweet will. Any color, for anyone, anywhere, is now the dictum. Capping the climax of this new order was the outbreak of the purple and lavender tones in garments for little girls. Next to this was the wearing of black by the youthful. I have always thought, however, that only the young should wear black. By that I mean that the woman of faded complexion and neutral tinted hair needs some distinct color in apparel to bring out her radiance. Color will do this, if it is possible to accomplish and the "live" hair needs nothing to add to its vitalance.
