"Behave Yourself" Proves To Be "Dark Horse" In Renewal of Big Derby

Wins Classic From Field of Twelve Starters

Kentucky Owned and Bred Colt Covers One and One-Cuarter-Mile Course in 2:04 1-5.

By HARVEY T. WOODRUFF. Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bce Leased Wire. Louisville, Ky., May 7.—"Behave Yourself!"

Those words are not an exclamatory warning, but the name of the winner of the 47th renewal of the Kentucky derby, decided this afternoon at Churchill Downs, before a crowd of 50,000 spectators, who acclaimed the victory of a Kentucky-owned and Kentucky-bred youngster in a field of 12 starters representing the best 3-year-olds in the whole country.

Behave Yourself, a brown colt by Marathan-Miss Ringlets, won by a head from his stable companion, Black Servant, which acted as pacemaker for the entire distance of one and one-quarter miles traversed in

The pair ran stride for stride from the eighth pole, while Prudery, the public choice at 11 to 10, was a distant third, six lengths behind the Great Day for Owner.

It was a great day for owner E. R. Bradley, whom we referred to fason street. The race itself was worth harbored but one winner. $38,450 net to the winner with $10,000 When Joe Welling came from the jinx came through and Leonard to the second horse, and no owner Chicago to question Benny Leon-did the rest.

Two dollar mutuels on the Brad-ley pair paid $19.30, $13 and $5.90 in the fourteenth round. Bill Bren-end of 15 rounds one eventful eve-nan defied fate and nestled in that ning, he was bantamweight chamand vindicated the tradition that firsts corner, doing fairly well for 11 pion, having whaled Pete Herman do not win this race, which has been rounds, only to step a short distance and won the verdict without quescaptured only seven out of 47 times from that fatal angle in the twelfth tion. by public choices. As showing the uncertainty of races, however, Black Servant was more fancied than Behave Yourself, both by his owner and the stable jockey.

On Thursday the writer was riscussing with Bradley the chances of his entry in a party which included the wife of a Chicagoan prominent in the sporting world. This lady had induced her husband to play a hunch for her in the winter book to the extent of $10 and stood to win $700 on Behave Yourself. Of course, in the winter book, entries do not go and you must name your horse.

Accordingly Mrs. Hunch player wished to know her chances and explained her wager to Bradley. He replied:

"I think my entry has a chance because favorites have been beaten before. We will, of course, win the wisher in the winter book as a chance because favorites have been beaten before. We will, of course, win the winter hook player wished to know her chances and explained her wager to Bradley. He replied:

BaseBallResults 10 Amateur Games Scheduled For This Afternoon

Rain Stopped Last Week's Contests-North Omaha Boosters and Townsend Gunners to Mix.

Followers of Omaha amateur base ball will flock in great numbers to the various playing fields this afternoon to witness the ten contests to be staged by the teams of the City, class A, American, class B and Gate City, class C loops, playing under the banner of the Municipal Amateur Base Ball association. Since the contests i nthese three circuits were postponed last Sunday, because of "Old Jupiter" interfering, the fans were robbed of the opportunity to see a number of real interesting conflicts, but today's program will more than make up the lost chance.

Four Teams Tied.

Second place honors in the City, class A loop between the Riggs Op-tical Co-Drive-It-Yourself and the Bowen Furniture Co.-Knights of Columbus warriors are at stake this afternoon. All four of these teams are tied with a .500 percentage and since considerable rivalry exists be-tween them two hard-fought contests are onticipated. Although the Townsend Gun Co. have met their "Waterloo" in the first two games of the season, Manager Bunny Holland announced last night that they will stage a "comeback" this afternoon and pull their opponents-the North Omaha Boosters, who are leading the league with a clean slate, down a notch.

Krupski To Pitch. Leo Krupski is slated to do the heaving for the Gunners, while Manager Moore will either send Farlet or McCarthy to the mound. Miller park will be the scene of the Townsend-North Omaha Booster clash, while Riverview park and Thirty-second and Dewey avenue will be the battle grounds of the two contests.

Interest is also at high pitch in the contests this afternoon in the Americon, class B circuit. All of the teams are staging a neck-to-neck race and are fighting hard to cop the flag, so a quartet of interesting battles are expected to take place. The Dold Packing Co., a new team in the field this season who are leading the league with two straight victories, are slated to cop the pen-nant. They have a "crackerjack" home runs and a wild threw by Gallows; contributed to Harris' downfall. Score:

Leaders of the circuit will meet the tail-enders in each of the games, but nevertheless the fans should see some real classy tangles as the teams are all evenly matched. William Brookover, the stellar distance man of the city, holds a place in the estimation of Coach White that is equal to the apple of the proverbial eye. By copping both the mile and the half-mile canters, and taking third place in individual laurels, "Brooky" becomes one of the idols of Commerce, Coach White considers him capable of jerking down points in the distance derbies at the state meet to be held at Lincoln soon. His time of 2.08 and 1 in the mile, after he had made 2.08 4-3 in the half, is something for rival High schools to short at. 13 innings.
