

"Closeups" of Nebraska Bird Life

Hairy Woodpecker having lunch. Photo by A.M. Mollin, Genoa, Neb.

Caught in an Omaha backyard

Photo by H.L. McGill, Jr., 1505 Olin Ave.

Female flicker at nest hole. Photo by A.M. Mollin

Pinion Jays, birds of the mountain forests, occasional winter visitors to Nebraska. Photo taken at Genoa, Neb., by A.M. Mollin

Brown Thrasher by A.M. Mollin

His private drinking fountain

Robin by A.M. Mollin

Ever try to photograph a bird? Skill and a lot of patience are necessary. Photographers spent many hours obtaining the pictures for this page. But they're worth it!

Catbird taking morning plunge by A.M. Mollin

Jenny Wren at home by Walter Hazelton, Omaha

by Louis Postwick