

Junior League Revue Scores Distinct Hit

One of Thrills for Mrs. Blaise Theater of Attraction.

From the most blaise theater port... pleasant thrill of surprise... the Junior League revue in the Blaise theater Saturday. With strictly Omaha talent for principals and chorus the production staged by Harry E. Munsey was exceptionally clever and well acted.

From the prologue to the finale every minute of the two hours was filled with some enjoyable feature. There was no dragging and, while lacking in some of the elements of professionals, the performance was a credit to every member of the cast.

Mrs. Lewis-Burgess—known to Broadway as the cute Rosie Quinn, was the center of attraction for Omahans. "The Powder Puff Girls" and "A Mouthful of Kisses," songs in which she won fame in New York, were equally well received here. Her cute curls that so fascinated the cast attracted many admiring glances.

Shepherd and Kenneth Norton in "A Volley of Original Melodies," and laugh-provoking sketches were a distinct hit. Their numbers were above the average for amateur productions.

Carl Paulson and chorus presented two novel song numbers, "Loving the Girls" and "A Girl for Each Month in the Year." Miss Vernelle Head led the chorus in "Mazie" and "Sweet Love." Both numbers were given in a style that called for repeated encores.

Adelaide Fogg led the "Flower Ballet" and also appeared in a clever solo dance, "A Bell Hop." Phil Downs and John Madden in a skit, "The Levinsky Brothers," carried the audience back to the days of the Cherry sisters.

Helen Walker and Mrs. William Schorr, with a chorus of men and old-fashioned girls, sang "Old Fashioned Miss" in a pleasing manner.

The theater was tastefully decorated for the performance, which was greeted by a full house at the matinee and an overflow crowd at the night performance. The proceeds will be used by the Junior League for its charitable enterprises.

The costuming of the production was the most elaborate ever seen on an Omaha stage. Beautiful bar room gowns, several of which were imported, were worn.

The popularity of the league members in the cast was best shown by the floral offerings of the audience. Never on an Omaha stage have as many or as beautiful bouquets crossed the footlights.

Following the evening performance a supper-dance was given at the Athletic club.

Carload of Fish Placed in River Near Superior Superior, Neb., May 8.—(Special.)—A carload of fish from the state hatchery were trucked to the Republican river and freed just above the new dam and in the race. It is estimated that there were 8,000 fish in this shipment, most of them small ones, but running up to one-pound size. About half were yellow catfish and the rest "game" fish. Another carload will be supplied to stock the river at this point some time next month.

Woman Attorney Resigns From Department of Justice Washington, May 8.—Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams of San Francisco, who has written many liquor opinions for the Department of Justice the last year, has tendered her resignation, effective June 1, it was said at the department. She is the only woman who has been an assistant attorney general and was appointed by President Wilson nearly a year ago. It was said she would return to the Pacific coast to resume the practice of law.

Hospital to Remain Open. Superior, Neb., May 8.—(Special.)—At the annual meeting of the board of the Taylor E. Lewis Memorial hospital in Superior it was reported that a sum sufficient to continue the hospital had been raised. Dr. E. K. Hirsch tendered his resignation as manager. Miss Ruth Welch, head nurse, was made manager to succeed Dr. Hirsch.

$45,000 Church Will Be Dedicated in Town of 500

Beatrice, Neb., May 8.—(Special.)—Members of Pilgrim Congregational church at Cortland, a town of less than 500 inhabitants, have just completed the erection of a modern edifice at a cost of $45,000, which will be dedicated Sunday, May 15. Preliminary to the dedication, programs will be given in the church on the evenings of May 12, 13 and 14, these programs featuring the community service idea, the big plan behind the Pilgrim church congregation program.

The church was first organized in the old Barkey school house, seven and one-half miles southwest of Cortland, in 1875, with a membership of 14. A feature of the interior is a memorial window, costing $650, dedicated as a tribute to those in the service of their country 1917-1919. The names of 82 Highland township boys are inscribed on the window, two of whom, Stanley Parish and Vilas Stewart, were killed in action overseas.

An exceptionally strong program has been prepared for dedication day, Dr. R. W. Gammon of Chicago being the speaker in the morning and Rev. Frank G. Smith, pastor of First Congregational Church of Omaha, delivering the sermon in the evening. Dr. Harry R. McKee of Bentonville, Ark., "community church specialist," is on the program for addresses Thursday and Friday evenings preceding the dedication. On Sunday afternoon a sacred concert will be given by Lenhart's orchestra of Beatrice.

blies that are to be given away on admission tickets will be held next Saturday night. The circus will be open tonight and every other night throughout this week, John H. Moore, in charge of the affair, announced.

Two Killed and Three Hurt in Explosion; Oil Worker Arrested Thermopolis, Wyo., May 8.—Two men were killed, three injured, one seriously, and Burt Lampitt, 50, oil field worker, was arrested, charged with murder, as the result of an explosion which partly wrecked the bunk house of the Ohio Oil company in the Grass Creek oil field. The dead: Harry Freite, Roy Seaton. The injured: Charles Wilcox, condition serious. Ed Schroeder, Jack Crandall.

The men killed were sleeping in the corner of the bunk house in which the explosion occurred. At the shack of Lampitt, an automobile loaded with food supplies, a bed roll and an iron bar were found. Officials found that the iron bar fitted indentations in the company's dynamite and nitroglycerine store house, which had been broken open.

Ten Decades Ago THE aboriginal American danced to the monotonous thumping of the tom-tom on the present site of Hotel Fontenelle, where hundreds now dance nightly to the stirring music of the famous Solis Marimba Band.

The plaintive monotone of the tom-tom still may be distinguished in the even rhythm of the musical marimba. Yet the elusive Indian note swiftly merges with the quaint strain of Oriental music and the stimulating dash of American syncopation, swelling into a volume of rich melody that is ideal for dancing, and still is soothing to the senses of those who are offended by a jarring orchestration.

Playing concert music in the Main Restaurant daily for luncheon, served from 12 to 2:30, and for the Table d'Hotel $1.75 dinner, served from 5:30 to 9, the cuisine of which is favorably known to those who dine correctly. As well as for Hotel Fontenelle's popular After-Theater Supper Dances from 10 to 12:30.

Probe of Charge Against Blair Held In Secret

Senate Finance Committee Holds First Session of Investigation Behind Closed Doors.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Washington, May 8.—Investigation of Senator Hiram Johnson's charges against David H. Blair of North Carolina, recently nominated by President Harding to be internal revenue commissioner, was begun by the senate finance committee behind closed doors.

The witnesses were Senator Johnson, Mr. Blair, John Morehead, republican "boss" of North Carolina, and officials of the income tax section of the internal revenue bureau. Senator Johnson declared that Blair, a delegate to the republican national convention at Chicago last June, ignored the North Carolina primary law. He also told the committee that the amount of mail he was receiving from North Carolina since he made charges against Blair indicated that the efforts of Mr. Blair's family to escape payment of income taxes were "a state-wide scandal."

Mr. Blair denied the charges that he broke the North Carolina primary law. He insisted that he never heard the results of the primary election in North Carolina while he was attending the Chicago convention. He admitted, however, that the North Carolina delegation went to the convention prepared to vote without regard to the outcome of the primary. Mr. Morehead testified that the North Carolina delegation held a meeting at Chicago during convention week to discuss the primary results. He contended that the action of the North Carolina delegates was not a violation of the primary law.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon Celebrates Birthday By Working as Usual

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Washington, May 8.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon celebrated his 85th birthday at the capitol Saturday, attending to business as usual and receiving congratulations from his friends.

The distinguished Illinois titleholder for longest record of congressional service in American history, speaker of the house—and one-time chairman of the important appropriations committee, spent most of the day at work in the appropriations committee room on government supply bills.

The house was not in session, but many members, mindful of the occasion, dropped in at Mr. Cannon's office to congratulate the former speaker and wish him many more years of health and vigor. Letters and telegrams of congratulation were piled high on his desk.

G. O. P. Leaders Are Divided Over Tariff Measure

Senator Moses Serves Notice He Will Make Speech in Opposition to Emergency Bill.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Washington, May 8.—Republican leaders have failed to line up their full party strength in the senate in support of the emergency tariff bill. Senator Moses of New Hampshire, republican, who fought the bill in the last session, made this plain when he served notice in the senate that before the debate is closed he will make a speech against it. He said he was especially opposed to the provision of the bill which extends the embargo and license control over imports of dyes, now exercised by the war trade board.

Senator Moses made his position clear after Senator Harrison of Mississippi, democrat, had read to the senate a quotation from an address attacking the measure during the last session. Questions asked by Senator Moses during today's debate had given Senator Harrison the impression that the former had changed his position.

"I suppose the senator is seeking to write from me an admission that I have recanted," said Senator Moses after Senator Harrison had read from his speech. "I have no intention of changing my position and before this debate is closed I shall express my views again in a few well-chosen words." "Every amendment added to the bill has tended to increase still

Economy in Federal Expenditures Urged At Bankers' Meeting

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., May 8.—Economy in federal appropriations and expenditures conforming to the recent letter of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to the house ways and means committee and the adoption of a national budget, were urged in a statement of the board of governors of the Investment Bankers' Association of America, made public.

The association endorsed the principle that any system of taxation should be designed for the primary purpose of producing revenue and should avoid, as far as possible, any arbitrary control over the flow of capital or the conduct and organization of business. The statement suggested that it should be the purpose of tax revenue to remove existing impediment to the flow of capital, rather than continue to affect or control the distribution of capital and the normal economic course of business.

Steps Taken to Reorganize "Committee of 48" Party Chicago, May 7.—Formal steps toward reorganization of the "committee of 48" party, whose national convention ended in chaos in July, 1920, and practically broke up the organization, were taken at a meeting called for this district and directed by Miss Melinda Alexander of Kalspel, Mont., representing the national executive committee.

Two great aims of the revised platform of the party, said Miss Alexander, were the achievements of public ownership of railroads and the taxation of land held for speculation.
