Guard Tells Message of Hope Brought To U. S. by Madame Curie OnW. O. W Of Escape Of Bergdoll

Sergeant O'Hare Says He Did Not Know of "Pot of Gold" Until After Prisoner Had Fled.

Had No Written Orders

Washington, May 11.—In giving an account of the escape of Grover Bergdoll, Serg. John O'Hare, in command of the escort which started out with Bergdoll for the mountains of Maryland, told the house investigating committee today that he had never heard a word about the buried "pot of gold" until long after the prisoner had fled.

O'Hare was positive that when he started out for the mountains, the only instructions he received from Col. John E. Hunt, his superior, was to proceed with the prisoner to Hagerstown, get some money from a bank, take it to another bank at Philadelphia and return to the barracks.

There were no written orders except to stop at North Philadelphia, meet the late D. Clarence Gibboney, Bergdoll's lawyer, and thereafter be guided by what Gibboney said, the witness declared with some emphasis. O'Hare declared he wanted to handcuff his prisoner, but that Hunt refused.

Stop at Attorney's Order.

It was by Gibboney's order, he said, that the party halted at Phil-adelphia, went for a long automobile ride, with Bergdoll driving, visited a burlesque show and stopped at the Bergdoll home, from which the prisoner escaped.

The sergeant told how Bergdoll, who had evaded the draft for two years, was sent from Governor's Island in the uniform of an enlisted man, with a hat-cord indicating he man, with a hat-cord indicating he belonged to the infantry; how he sat in the train from New York to Philadelphia without uttering a word and chewing tobacco all the while. He told of various moves, up to the moment when Bergdoll walked into a bathroom to every the total into a bathroom to answer the telephone. He was never seen after that and, the sergeant said he does not know how he got out. Except for that moment, he declared, the prisoner was never out of his sight. Cross-examination did not budge the witness from his statement that he was in ignorance of any plan to dig for buried gold, the object for which the prisoner was released in custody of O'Hare and York, another sergeant.

New York, May 11 .- A message of hope and fortitude for those afflicted with cancer was brought to America by Madame Marie Curie, discoverer of radium, and the world's foremo woman scientist. She arrived on the Olympic with her two daug iters to receive from President Havding, in behalf of the women of the United States, one gram of radium which she said was to be used in cancer research. Asked if radium was actually a cure, she replied: "Yes, it is. That is, if it is applied properly." The scientist, who has received the Nobel prize and is the first woman to occupy a chair as professor at the Sorbonne, was greeted by represen-tatives of the Marie Curie Radium Fund and leading scientific organizations. In contrast to the modish attire and debonair bearing of her tall daughters, Madame Curie seemed a neutral figure. The almost ashen whiteness of skin, ashen hair touched with gray and gray eyes that show occasional gleams of blue: her simple black tailored suit and little fact bet excluded the suit and

Court Issues Injunction

Charging William A. Fraser, sovereign commander of the Wood-men of the World, with "fraudulent and wicked conspiracy" in organiz-ing 20 alleged Woodmen camps in order to get delegates to give him control of the state convention held in Columbus last month, suit was started yesterday in district court, the ultimate object of which is to oust him from his $25,000 position as head of the order.

The plaintiffs are Charles Unitt, head consul for Nebraska; Michael L. Endres, delegate to the sovereign camp, and George W. Hascall of Lincoln, also a delegate.

Moses Loses Hard Fight

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING. Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Washington, May 11 .- With the republican organization demonstrating its power to function effectually, the emergency tariff bill, despite its unpopularity, was passed by the senate as an administration measure by a vote of 63 to 28. Supporting the bill on the final roll call were 56 republicans and seven call were 56 republicans and seven democrats, Broussard and Ransdell of Louisiania, Sheppard of Texas, Jones of New Mexico, Myers of Montana, Pittman of Nevada, and Kendricks of Wyoming. The op-position consisted of a lone repub-lican-Moses of New Hampshire, and 27 democrats.

Senator Penrose, chairman of the finance committee, gave warning of the advent of the steam roller several days ago when he announced to the senate that all amendments not approved by the committee would be defeated by the majority. The sol-idarity of the republicans on the measure is deemed prophetic of harmony in putting through the perma-nent tariff bill in the next four or five months

Moses Loses Fight.

Senator Moses lost his fight against the provision continuing the war trade board control of dye imports, the motion to strike it out failing by a vote of 25 ayes to 62 noes.

The only republicans supporting Moses were Smoot, Keyes, Kenyon, Borah and LaFollette. Senators King and Hitchcock, democrats, vigorously assailed the "infamous dye monopoly" which they agreed with Moses, would be perpetuated by the provision of the bill.

"I cannot do otherwise than express my keen disappointment at the action of some of the democrats in giving support to this infamous monopoly, which has got the Ameri-can people by the throat," said Senator King. "The senator from Pennsylvania (Mr. Knox) who is responsible for this 'amendment, justi-fied it by taking refuge behind the dead bodies of our soldiers. We not only have a dye monopoly, but un-der the amendment adopted, we pro-pose to inject more logicletics into pose to inject more legislation into the future."

Senator King declared he will of-fer a resolution for an investigation of "the dye monopoly and the in-fluences back of it which have se-

When Mrs. Bergdoll learned her son had gone, she was greatly excited, said O'Hara. The woman and Romig, he added, tried to persuade him not to worry, assuring him Bergdoll would be back. As the guards were being entertained, a bottle of gin mysteriously appeared, O'Hare testified, but he did not touch it, as he had not taken a drink in 20 years. York, however, drank but was warned by O'Hare to let it alone.

Tears filled the eyes of the little sergeant as he told of his return to the island, empty handed, with barely enough money to pay his fare and of his plea that he be permitted to tell his wife of his misfortune before being locked up. He was tried later by court-martial and acquitted.
