What's What

By HELEN DECIE

A correspondent in Lowell (Mass.) asks: "When invited for a weekend visit, does the guest or the hostess provide towels and toilet articles? Does the guest carry her own baggage if there is no servant?" The guest should pack her own toilet articles, although a careful hostess always keeps her guest-room supplied with comb and brush, talcum powder, manicure implements, etc., in case the visitor should have forgotten any of her toilet appointments. The hostess is supposed to provide towels, but sometimes laundry returns are not to be depended upon, especially in the country, so it is just as well for the visitor to pack at least two towels, in case these may be required. Unless the hostess is old or feeble, no protest should be made when she carries a suitcase to the guest-room as shown in the illustration. It is her place to do this, if there is no man about, or if there is but one

"Poppy Day" for The Children Of France

At a meeting held in the parlors of the Fontenelle hotel Friday noon, preliminary plans were made to further the sale of poppies for Decoration day. There were present representatives of the American Legion, the Spanish War auxiliary of the War Mothers and the American Women Overseas League.

The American Legion at their last national convention held in Cleveland in September, 1920, adopted the "poppy of Flanders' field" as the memorial flower to be worn Memorial day. At the national congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution held three weeks ago in Washington, the plan of the patriotic societies to sell poppies made by the French women and children, received the endorsement of the congress. Other patriotic organizations in the United States are meeting to make the red poppy the national emblem to be worn on Decoration day in memory of those who died during the war.

This will be the slogan for Memorial day this year and in years to come. In the Flanders' fields there are large numbers of crosses, each bearing the name of a soldier sleeping there. From the devastated districts the women, children and old people have been sending poppies, made by them, by the thousands.

servant who is busy in the kitchen. If there are two bags the guest carries one of them. (Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger Co.)

and these are being sold by the American-Franco Children's League. The proceeds of the sale of these flowers go for the relief of the children of these regions. The patriotic organizations have requested that the emblem be not commercialized and that these flowers furnished by the American-Franco Children's League should be used. A meeting of committees representing all the patriotic organizations will be held at 5 p. m. Monday at the Fontenelle hotel when an organization will be prepared to present these poppies for sale to the people of Omaha. It is not proposed to have a tag day but to place supplies of these flowers at different convenient locations with workers who will sell them at 10 cents each.

Golden Rod.

I don't know why they call me weed. For I am beautiful indeed. And sometimes I might serve a need. When Mother Goose is cleaning. A feather duster I could be. Of glowing gold, for fairies we. The fairy dust I'd take with me. While Mother Goose is leaning Upon her broom, and then I'd take My golden rod the earth to shake. So that all flower land would wake To pay higher insurance rates than those who do not.
