Georges Carpentier and New Chapeau Land at New York for Big Fight

Confident He Will Cop Crown From Dempsey

Frenchman Accorded Wonderful Reception on His Arrival Here—To Train At Manhasset.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire.

New York, May 16.—M. Georges Carpentier, face wreathed in smiles and sporting a brand new chapeau to top off the grandeur, is breathing New York air tonight and radiating confidence in what is going to happen when he meets Mr. Dempsey at Jersey City on July 2.

Georges unshipped at noon from La Savoie, a liner which necessitated nine days travel over the briny from Havre, but he weathered the voyage well and looks and says that he is in perfect health. The European champion seems well versed in the tactics of making a favorable impression and when he made a stab at our language after being asked his opinion of the championship engagement with Dempsey, he said:

Confident of Victory.

"I'm feeling fine. Never felt any better and I am confident of victory. I never make any predictions in advance of a contest. I prefer to wait until the evening of July 2."

One who happened to be around today to greet the Frenchman, however, was aware of seriousness of main. It wasn't that way the last time he came over to box "Battling" Levinsky. He weighs the few words of English that he utters and the smile that almost constantly adorns his face flashes off quite frequently when talking of the cause of the present visit to America.

Carpentier's plans for the time intervening between now and July 2 have been mapped out by his manager, M. Descamps, and his American representative, Captain Mallet. He slept in New York tonight and and tomorrow morning will go to Long Island, where all arrangements have been completed for his arrival. He will not leave Manhasset until the day of the fight.

His manager, Descamps, informed us that the first six days of time at Manhasset will count for nothing in the way of training.

In Good Condition.

"Georges is in great shape right now, for he had been in training before leaving Europe, and he has been working every day on the boat coming over. He was up at 7 o'clock every morning and went through the usual training stunts for half an hour or more on the boat. So there will be no training for six days. I think and so does Georges, he will be in great shape for the battle with Dempsey."

Any question about whether or not Carpentier would train in private was settled by Descamps, who said:

"Carpentier will train in private. Newspaper writers will be permitted to see him in his daily workouts, but the public will not be admitted to the training camp. That's one reason we picked the seclusion of Manhasset. We did not come to America to get the admission money at the training camp. Georges is here to win the title and we consider that far more important than the money."

Carpentier was accorded a wonderful reception on his arrival. When La Savoie warped into pier No. 15, close to 12 o'clock, there was a throng of several thousand people to greet him. The newspaper writers hopped to the job and went out to meet the Frenchman on a revenue cutter. Then after brief interviews, Carpentier landed and was met by Promoter Tex Rickard, Jack Curley and Captain Mallet. Carpentier walked off the gang plank, holding a cane in one hand, while in the other he held a chain, on the other end of which was a black Belgian police dog.

Brings Own Cook.

Carpentier was accompanied by two French sparring partners, Paul Journee and "Battling" Marcot. Marcot is a middleweight and is a unique member of the party because he does other things besides fighting. He has been appointed the official chef of the Manhasset camp and will cook the food that is served to the man who hopes to knock Jack Dempsey for a row of sad dreams. A chap by the name of Gus Wilson is to be the chief trainer at the camp. Wilson is an American.

It may or may not be of any great importance at this time with the championship tilt seven weeks off, but Carpentier's weight today was announced as being 175 pounds. He figures on entering the ring weighing 173 or 174 pounds.

Snapped at the State High School Track Meet

When the nineteenth annual state high school track and field meet passed into history at Lincoln Saturday afternoon, one new record was jotted down in the record book. To John Rhodes of Ansley, Neb., goes the credit of breaking the only mark of the meet. He hurled himself over the bamboo pole at a heighth of 11 feet 8 inches for a new record in the pole vault, beating the old mark by one inch.

Captain Green of Central is shown in the lower photo leading the field in the 120-yard high hurdles. The Purple and White athlete was Central's chief point collector.

The top picture shows the finish of the 100-yard dash in the third group. Lloyd of Beatrice won first in this event, but was pushed hard by Triba of Columbus, who finished second. Locks of North Platte came in third, while South of Commerce won fourth place. The time was 10 2-5 seconds, considered fast for a heavy track.
