

Society

COMBINING utility and novelty is a difficult task, we all agree. But some there are who see possibilities for unusual effects in the most commonplace circumstances.

Saturday evening Happy Hollow club opened for the summer season in spite of the fact that the weather closely resembled winter with its chilling breezes.

The number of diners was very large, thus making it necessary to place tables on the dance floor which is not enclosed. This prospect, however, did not daunt those in charge. The openings were closed with heavy canvas curtains, and on each table was placed a small glowing object, a tiny electric heater, whose warm rays quickly dispelled the gloom and chill. The waiters were most effective in their usefulness and made unique decorations. In the main dining room logs were heaped in the fireplace and the crackling flames lent a cheery atmosphere to the occasion.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Liebo of St. Paul, Minn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Leigh, to S. Garret, Bialac of Omaha. No date has been set for the wedding.

For Mrs. Pettis.

Health in the dinner pail

MEN, who do a hard day's work know the food that has staying qualities. You can't fool them. Bread is and always has been the back-bone of the worker's diet.

But the bread should be good. It should be highest in food value.

Big healthful sandwiches—meat, cheese, or eggs between thick slices of good bread—supply the nourishment for the hardest day's work.

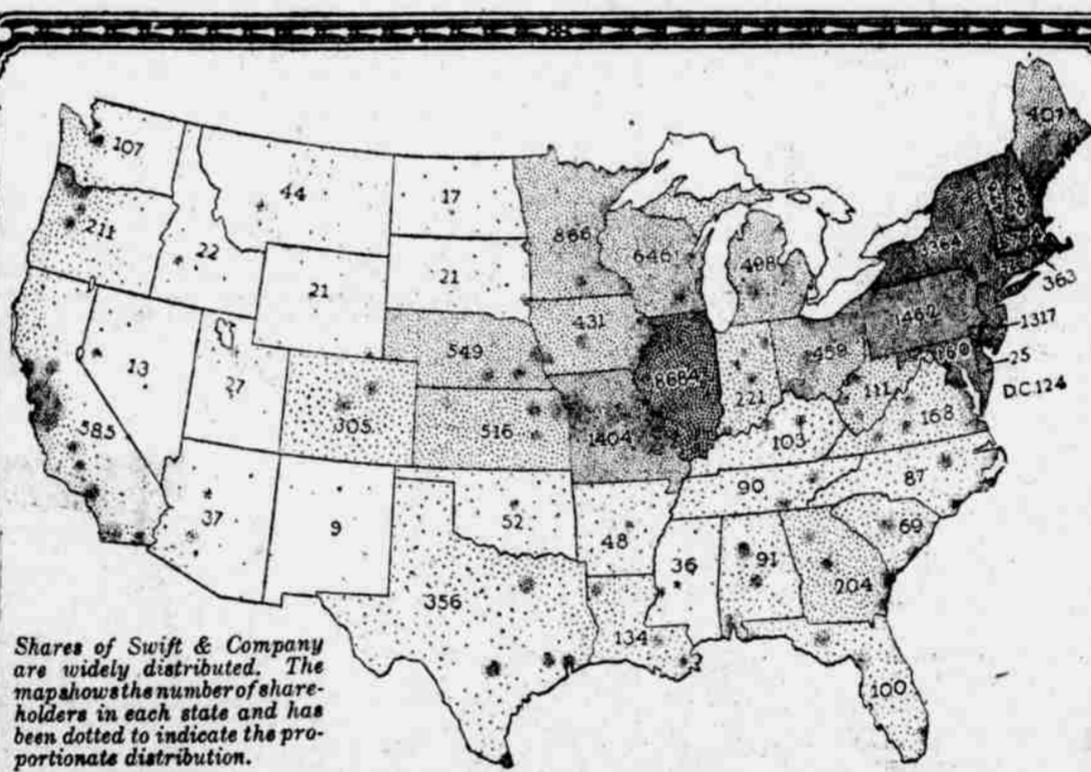

You can depend on BETSY ROSS Bread. It is made of pure ingredients, in cleanly surroundings, and is scientifically balanced to give the greatest amount of nutrition with appetizing zest.

Always ask for and get BETSY ROSS Bread. Your grocer has it.

Your sandwich booklet is waiting to be called for.

Who is Swift & Company?

Swift & Company is not a one man or one family affair. It is a company owned by more than 40,000 people scattered over the face of the globe—forty thousand shareholders with voting powers and a share in the risks and profits of the business.

Most of the forty thousand live here in the United States. But some of them live in France, some in England, others in the Philippines, Hawaii, Alaska.

13,000 of them are women.

Nearly 14,000 of them are employees.

The average individual holdings are small—about 37 shares apiece.

No one person or family owns a majority of the stock.

In fact, it would take 900 of the largest shareholders pooled together to vote 51 percent of the stock!

These shareholders are the men and women whose money, in the form of capital, makes Swift & Company possible.

They are jealous of the character and reputation of their organization, proud of what it is doing, proud to have a part in supplying to the world such products as Swift's Premium Ham and Bacon, Brookfield Sausage, Silverleaf Brand Pure Lard, Wool Soap, Swift & Company's fresh meats, etc.

The executives of Swift & Company maintain the high standards of these products as an imperative duty not only to the 40,000 shareholders, but to the public.

Problems That Perplex

Answered by BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Doesn't Know Her Mind.
 Dear Miss Fairfax: Although this is the first time I have written to you for advice, I think that you will be able to help me with troubles which cause me to worry sometimes.

I am only 16 and am a senior in high school, and like most other girls am quite friendly with everyone and, seems to me, mostly with boys. But my trouble is this: not long ago I kept company with a boy and went with him for a short time. When I was away from him I liked him but when with him I was in misery.

So, of course, we didn't go together very much longer. Then he started going with another girl who happened to be my chum. And after not going with him for a while, I began to like him again. So he went with me and then with her. His steady girl did not like this so she stopped going with him.

Now, I am in a puzzle, for my sisters and brothers do not want me to keep company with him. I like him real well but don't know of a reason to tell him why I can't go with him. Now, Miss Fairfax, I wish you would please advise me what to tell him and also what to do.

MARY-MARGARET T.

Apparently you don't want this young man but you don't want anyone else to have him. That indicates selfishness and jealousy, two rather bad things. Also I discover from your letter that you don't know your own mind. This idea of liking a boy when away from him and being in misery when with him is nothing more than a bad mental state. Start in now to control your thinking and your conduct and you may be in time to save yourself and others much unpleasantness and unhappiness in life. If you do not care to go with this young man, tell him so politely and honestly.

Florence: You could do one of two things: Either get a sympathetic tutor who could teach you the things you need to know about reading, mathematics, penmanship, omitting the things you have learned through experience, or you could enroll in a business course where you can get instruction in the subjects you mention. Your letter proves that you have learned considerable and other relatives? This happens to be their reason for disliking her. Kindly answer soon, Miss Fairfax, as I am anxious.

A Curious Threat.
 Dear Miss Fairfax: I am a man of 28 and have been keeping company with a girl of 25 for some time. I love her and she loves me, but my parents don't like her, and if I marry her they threaten to disown me. Do you think this is right? She is a respectable girl. Do you think that a girl should be judged by her parents and other relatives? This happens to be their reason for disliking her. Kindly answer soon, Miss Fairfax, as I am anxious.

K. F. B.
 Egey, a man of 28 afraid of being disowned. Aren't you making enough to support the girl without depending upon your parents? You ought to be. As for shifting the parents' sins onto the daughter, how about reversing the case and putting yourself on trial for what your parents might have been. I don't think the girl will be getting any prize package if that's the kind of young man you are!

BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

My advice to you is that you give up any thoughts of him until you know your own mind, or at least until you can give him a sincere friendship.
