Apparent Balance Against U. S. in April Due to Inclusion In Figures of Gold Imports.

By HOLLAND.

Because the statement has been made that the balance against the United States in April as represented by the difference between exports and imports was $7,000,000, a superficial judgment is made which expressed in terms is this: At last our export trade is collapsing and for the first time in years in a single month the balance is against us. This, however, is not the view which is taken by those who have given careful study to the situation. For comparing imports exclusive of gold with exports the balance for the month in our favor was $85,000,-000, but there was an excess of gold imports of $92,000,000. This imported gold is so figured as to leave an apparent trade balance against us of $7,000,000. But this gold is no Less than 12 hours after his son, part of the actual trade carried on between the United States and other nations, although some of it may have been used to pay for that trade, Parshal died in a Lincoln hospital. Great Britain and the United States of $110,000,000, which will become due in November.

James A. Farreil, who has somewhat reluctantly accepted an appointment by President Harding as chairman of the United States shipping board, and Charles M. Schwab are understood to be in agreement respecting our merchant marine, Mr. Farreil in the past has earnestly spoken of the necessity of maintaining and increasing our fleet of merchant ships. We must do that for one reason, he has said, if we are to keep at home the freight charges it has been upon freight charges that Great Britain has relied for aid in creating an invisible trade balance large enough to offset their adverse trade balance represented by the difference between its exports and imports. Mr. Farreil believes that the government should not be engaged in the shipping business. It should aid that business in reasonable ways and by adequate legislation. But the business itself should be left to private ownership and management.

Mr. Schwab is of like opinion and he so publicly stated on the day when it was announced that Mr. Farreil was to serve for a time as chalrman of the shipping board. Evidently Mr. Farreil and Mr. Schwab both believe that with proper encouragement and the removal of certain legislative restrictions our merchant marine can and will be under successful management by private interests.
