

Omaha Clubs To Attend Ak-Sar-Ben Races In Bodies

May Decorate Reservations With Own Colors; Meet to Open Officially With Parade.

All business men's clubs, civic and social organizations have been invited to attend the opening of the Ak-Sar-Ben running races, June 2, in bodies, by Secretary Charles Trimble, and special reservations will be made for them in the grandstand. The opening day is to be known as "Club day."

Announcements were made at practically every business club luncheon this week and most of the members voted to attend. Business clubs which already have declared themselves in favor of "Club day" are the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis. Each organization will be permitted to decorate its reservation with its club colors and flags and make all the noise they choose.

Any club or organization wishing to attend the races on "Club day" can make reservations with Secretary Trimble.

The races will be opened officially at 2 p. m., June 2, with a parade led by the board of Ak-Sar-Ben governors followed by members of the riding club mounted on many of Omaha's fancy steeds, the Ak-Sar-Ben queen, her maids and others interested in Ak-Sar-Ben.

The first race will start at 2:30 sharp, according to Secretary Trimble. The "jazz" portion of the race meet will be supplied by the Shrine band.

As late as March 24, there were in England 1,414,000 people registered as being unemployed.

Police Chief Frees 50 Men Arrested In Cleanup Raids

Fifty men, taken in the cleanup raids staged Thursday night and by the detectives under orders of Chief of Police Dempsey on the heels of his appointment under the new administration, were freed yesterday afternoon. The jail was overcrowded with prisoners, and Chief Dempsey went through the crowd, pointing out the men he wanted released.

Sergeants at Central and South Side police stations were held in conference with Police Commissioner Dunn, Chief of Police Dempsey and Police Inspector Partullo at Central station yesterday afternoon for three-quarters of an hour. Instructions given the detectives of the department Thursday night were repeated to the sergeants. A general cleanup of the town was ordered.

New Health Officer Council's Next Move

The appointment of a new health commissioner is the next serious task to be disposed of by the new city commissioners.

The health department comes within the jurisdiction of Police Commissioner Dunn and the other commissioners are disposed to allow Mr. Dunn time in which to get the police department started off before pressing him for a solution of the health commission.

Six of the commissioners already have expressed themselves as against the re-appointment of Dr. J. F. Edwards, the present health commissioner.

complaint of his mother, Mrs. Mary Lamb. The young man's wife also was arrested, the elder Mrs. Lamb charging that her daughter-in-law was a love pirate.

The court before which the young couple were brought refused to take cognizance of the case, whereupon Lamb's mother threatened to disown her son if he did not give up his wife. The younger Mrs. Lamb is being held under bond, pending in-

Unusual Daring Shown By Thieves Who Loot Big Clothing Store

Burglars who entered Beddeo Clothing company's store early yesterday morning displayed unusual daring by using extension ladders and prying a dozen iron bars at the rear of the building. The intruders took $5,000 worth of goods.

The thieves made careful selections and the plunder was as follows, according to a report made to police: Thirty pairs of shoes, 75 men's suits, 15 hats, 15 raincoats, 30 women's suits, 7 furs, 75 dresses, 24 petticoats, 22 corsets, 72 men's coats.

Father Rigge Tells Of "Northern Lights"

Father Rigge of the Creighton university faculty was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Kiwanis club at noon yesterday at the Rome hotel. Father Rigge explained the causes of the aurora borealis or "northern lights" and described at length the immense activity and brilliancy of the display last Saturday night, which was perhaps the most spectacular seen in Omaha for years.

According to Father Rigge, the lights were visible as far south as New Mexico and the Mexican border. In New Mexico, Father Rigge said, many of the Indians became frantic at the brilliancy of the aurora and hid themselves.

Two new members were added to the Kiwanis club orchestra. The club now has an orchestra of eight pieces.

Creighton Holds Flag Day Program

Patriotic Exercises Followed By Annual Battalion Parade And Exhibition.

Flag day exercises, to emphasize the patriotism which is part of the education received at Creighton university, were held on the college campus yesterday afternoon.

Cadets in the reserve officers training school raised the colors to the breeze while the audience of more than 500 students and visitors gave the salute to "Old Glory."

"We should give expression to these sentiments which we feel and which we owe to our country—not keep them locked in our breast," said Rev. F. J. McCormick, president of the university, in his address.

Edgar W. Norris and Leo F. Bolin, of the class of '23, gave patriotic declamations and John A. Rine, attorney and Creighton alumnus, and Maj. C. S. Hoffman, head of military science and training, made patriotic talks from the flag-draped balcony of the Creighton observatory.

Following the exercises the annual battalion parade and exhibition was given on Creighton field.
