Three Buildings On Farm Burned

Barn Is Total Loss in Blaze Believed to Have Been Started by Enemy.

Syracuse, Neb., May 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed the barn and damaged the residence on the farm of Fred Schmidt, four miles north of Syracuse.

Schmidt was awakened early in the morning by the sound of voices, a short distance from the house. He investigated, but found nothing to arouse his suspicions and returned to bed, supposing that the sound had come from the road.

Half an hour later he was again awakened, this time by the light from the barn, which was in flames. The family rushed out to try to save the horses, but on their way that the house was on fire.

There was a strong odor of oil about the burning buildings and boards on the side of the residence were charred as if oil had been thrown upon them.

Vanderbilt Name Figures in Noted Blackmail Case

Member of Family Who Was Lost on Lusitania Believed To Have Been Victim.

New York, May 23.—The name of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who lost his life when a German U-boat sank the Lusitania, has been brought into the investigation of the blackmail exploits attributed to the gang mixed up in the shooting of John H. Reid last Sunday.

Vanderbilt is supposed to have been only one of numerous victims of the gang which is said to have made their rendezvous at the house of Mrs. Hazel Warner, where Reid was shot.

Vanderbilt's name was brought into the case by District Attorney Glennon, who is quoted as explaining the plot as follows:

"The name of Alfred G. Vanderbilt unfortunately comes to the surface. In the year before his death (1915) he complained to a private detective agency in Manhattan that his life had been threatened at the horse show in Madison Square Garden.

"He went to Europe and my understanding is he was followed across the ocean by the blackmailers, who again threatened his life. His alternative was to pay a large sum of money to prevent a suit unpleasant publicity.

"Believing his life in danger, he complained at Scotland Yard and was given a guard while on British soil. They followed him back to his own doorstep, you might say. Finally he settled with the 'king of the blackmailers,' I am told, for $75,000. Now, I relate this story as an incident of the investigation following the Reid shooting of last Sunday. We have this 'king,' so-called, under surveillance.

Congressman Reavis Leaves Washington For Tour in Nebraska

Washington, May 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Congressman Reavis left today on a three weeks' speaking tour in Nebraska. His dates are Chardron, Thursday, May 26, morning and evening; Alliance, May 27, Rotary club at noon, High school commencement in the evening; North Platte, May 28, Rotary club at noon, High school commencement in the evening; Lexington, May 31, noon luncheon; Fremont, June 3, High school commencement.

Mr. Reavis, before leaving, said there was absolutely no political motive for his trip to Nebraska at this time. The High school commencement dates had been made months ago and it was necessary to fill the engagements, although there were many legislative matters that demanded his attention in Washington.

In view of the absence of Mr. Reavis for the next three weeks, to be followed by the absence of Judge Evans, who will go to Nebraska to attend the Grand Lodge of Masons, a settlement of the marshalship matter is not looked for before the middle of June or the first of July.

Self-Hired Traffic Cop Asked to Serve At Police Station

Fremont, Neb., May 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Adorned with a large, conspicuous policeman's star, Christian Olaf Olson stationed himself at the corner of Main and Sixth streets yesterday afternoon and began to wave his arms in direct imitation of the Broadway and Forty-second street traffic officer.

Drivers of cars and teams and pedestrians were mystified by the man's actions. Fremont never claimed the honor of having a human semaphore and the sight of Olson was a setback. He reigned supreme on the intersection until spied by Officer Goodwin, who failed to recognize his authority.

When questioned Olson insisted that he was a special deputy and that it was his duty to regulate the traffic. Goodwin asked him who hired him and he replied: "I hired myself and I'll fire myself when I get ready. I'm a traffic officer."

Germans Said to Have Been Active Weeks in Silesia

London Times' Correspondent Declares Regular Army Reserves Are at Disposal of "Irregular" Troops.

London, May 23.—The correspondent of the London Times in Oppeln, reporting German "irregulars" military operations in upper Silesia, declared they have been concentrating forces and making preparations for a fortnight.

The movement is regarded by the Times' correspondent as far more serious than a mere reaction of the German population against the insurgents. He asserts that the inter-ally commission was unable to prevent the outbreak of fighting and is now just as powerless to intervene.

Apparently the Germans have regular army reserves at their disposal. The Polish insurgents, according to the dispatch, have been steadily consolidating their position and extending their control over the industrial districts of Silesia. They are reported to have succeeded in starting work again in mines, foundries and factories, and now are squeezing the allied authorities out of the towns they still occupy in order to complete their hold on the railway between Katowitz and Gleiwitz.
