

Cut in Military Expenditures Is Urged by Women

Resolutions Call Upon President and Congress to Initiate Movement for International Agreement.

"Vote against your husband's vote if he votes the wrong way," Bishop E. V. Shaylor told the Omaha League of Women Voters, in confidence in the city hall yesterday afternoon.

The bishop was urging world disarmament.

"Professing Christians will be responsible for every drop of blood and every dollar spent in any future wars," he declared.

Proposed military and naval expenditures be characterized as a "sinful expense which invites war."

"Other nations are bankrupt and bleed white. Let's end this mad spasm of bullet-making. Fighting is a savage's or a dog's way to settle disputes," he exclaimed.

When he finished the women adopted resolutions calling upon President Harding and congress to initiate a movement toward a friendly agreement between nations for a reasonable reduction of military expenditures.

Mrs. D. G. Crighthead moved to strike out the phrase "reasonable reduction."

"We want total disarmament," she announced.

The resolution will be amended to follow that of the National League of Women Voters before being forwarded to Washington.

The names of Mrs. L. B. Webster and Mrs. H. J. Bailey were proposed for district chairmen, action to be taken at the state meeting in Lincoln, June 7.

Rail Vamp Lured Him; Man Charges In Damage Suit

Story of Alleged Intrigue Following Injury in Accident Told in Complaint Filed In Court.

When Patrick Kelly brought suit in district court yesterday for $50,000 against Stella Summers, the Union Pacific railroad and Jasper F. Cox, claim agent, there came to light a story of alleged intrigue which started in March, 1920, when Patrick was injured while working for the Union Pacific.

After the accident, Stella, young and radiant, apparently fell in love with him, induced him to come to Omaha to settle his damage suit for $45,000 against the road, and arranged meeting between him and the claim agent, he alleges.

Arriving here, she stopped at the Conant; he at the Northwestern hotel. The claim agent offered him $2,000 in settlement, but he refused because he "couldn't buy clothes for such a beautiful girl like Stella" after they were married. Then one day she opened her bag to powder her face and he saw she had a large roll of money.

Suspicious, but still worshipful, he agreed to Stella's plans for them to go to California and be married, he says. But the roll of money and the meetings with the claim agent had aroused his suspicions.

"The scheme was," said John Yeiser, Patrick's attorney, "for the girl to get on the train at the start and then drop off at some station and let Pat go on."

Now the love dream of the honest railroad man is broken, but he has $95,000 of damage suits pending where he had only $45,000 before.

Sentences Sustained In 'Wild Horse' Case

Decision of the federal court here sentencing C. A. Smith to the Hall county jail at Grand Island and Charles M. Thompson and J. Sidney Smith to the federal prison at Leavenworth was sustained by mandates handed down by the United States circuit court of appeals yesterday.

The mandates order the three men to surrender to the United States marshal June 28 for execution of judgment. They were convicted of using the mails to defraud through their activities in the famous Arizona "wild horse" deal.

Jewel, Flower, Color Symbols for Today

By MILDRED MARSHALL.

Today's talismanic stone, the agate, is said to be especially lucky for travelers, since it is noted for its power to protect those who journey by land or sea. In modern times it has been accepted as a lucky stone for aviators. Camillo Leonardo and other ancient authorities claimed that it never failed as a protection against lightning. It is also said to bring the happiness of true love to a woman who wears it set in a locket.

Today's natal stone, the coral, also exerts protective powers over those who travel. It is said to be particularly potent as a charm for those who journey on the water. It brings great vitality and brilliancy of mind to those born on an anniversary of this date.

According to both Oriental and Roman legends, light red or coral pink should be worn today. This color is said to be symbolic of a spirit that overcomes all obstacles, without giving offense to anyone.

Today's flower is the pink rose, which is especially lucky for the bride who includes it in her wedding bouquet.

OVEN BAKED BEANS

with Tomato Sauce

Fatty eats them because they taste so good. Fatty's mother gives them to him because they are so wholesome and healthful—as well as good to eat. The whole family eats them for the same reasons.

There's a lot of nutriment in beans—if they are prepared the right way. The Heinz method of real baking in dry heat ovens preserves all this natural goodness, and makes beans the delicious, healthful food that beans should be.

There never was a flavor with the zip and tang of Heinz own Tomato Sauce. Made of choice sun-ripened tomatoes, skillfully spiced and seasoned, it is blended deliciously with the rich, oven-baked bean flavor. All in the spotless Heinz kitchens, made famous as the Home of the 57 Varieties.
