

Dublin Customs House Is in Ruins As Result of Fire

Building and Important Documents Destroyed by Fire—Sinn Fein Blamed for Outrage.

Dublin, May 26.—(By The Associated Press.)—At noon today the custom house, which was set afire Wednesday afternoon by a raiding party of civilians, officially declared to have been Sinn Fein's, still was burning. All the interior had been destroyed at that hour, but the main walls were standing, as was the dome, the chief architectural feature of the building, and the clock was keeping time.

A high official stated that the most important documents of the local government board had been saved.

This, Dublin castle announces, is the work of Sinn Fein forces, which Wednesday made the most formidable attack against government property that has been engineered since the present rebellion began.

Employees of the departments housed in the buildings were made prisoners, vast quantities of petrol were poured over the interior of the building and the light was applied. Soon military lorries crowded with soldiers appeared and a battle ensued.

The Sinn Feiners occupied the customs house and from the windows met the soldiers with a heavy fire. Machine guns and rifles responded and a strong cordon was thrown around the building.

When the flames became too hot, the raiders attempted to escape, but several were shot and killed and many wounded. According to the official statement, seven civilians were killed, 11 wounded and 111 captured. Four auxiliaries were wounded.

Meet Death in Flames. Crown forces, in a sortie, entered the building and made many captures. Some raiders were saturated with petrol and it is believed several met their death in the flames.

Destruction of the Dublin customs house constitutes the most serious damage since the rebellion. The building, of which nothing remains but the shell, was erected during the Irish parliament and was one of the most beautiful in Ireland. It had little to do with the customs, but housed many of the chief administration departments and its destruction is more detrimental to the ordinary machinery of the government than if Dublin castle had been burned.

Admiral Rodman Visits Here on Way to Capital

Admiral Hugh Rodman, U. S. N., and wife, paid Omaha a brief visit Wednesday night.

They are en route to Washington, where Admiral Rodman will attend a meeting of the selection board of nine admirals to consider assignments and promotions in the navy.

They arrived on the Los Angeles limited and departed a short time after for the east on a Northwestern train.

"Is W. J. Bryan here now?" asked the admiral as he recalled his only other visit to Omaha when he missed a train connection and spent 23 hours here.

"I enjoyed my ride across Nebraska today. It is a great state," Admiral Rodman has been in the navy 40 years. He said he expects to be detached from the Pacific fleet in about a month and assigned to Hampton Roads, Va., as commander of the Fifth naval district.

The admiral is interested in strengthening the Pacific fleet and the establishment of a naval base at Alameda, Cal., in San Francisco bay, a proposition which is now before congress.

Milwaukee Head Appears Before Probe Committee

H. E. Byram Tells Senators Rank and File of Employees Co-operate in Bringing About Efficiency.

Washington, May 26.—Railroads of the United States are being operated efficiently, H. E. Byram, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul said today in the course of his examination before the senate interstate commerce committee, which is inquiring into the transportation situation. He praised the work of the employees who are endeavoring to aid the carriers in obtaining better results.

"It is to be regretted," Mr. Byram said, "that the attitude of some of those who speak for railroad employees of the country does not tend to promote good service. It is greatly to the credit of the rank and file of employees of the railroads of the country that they have not been misled by false doctrines, as is shown by the general willingness to co-operate with management of the railroads in bringing about the necessary efficiency and economy in the operation which prevails at the present time."

"Officers and employees of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company for several years and particularly of late, have been carrying out the principle of co-operation and study mutually in finding and practicing economies and improved methods. Committees have been formed of officers and employees on every division to study the details of operation."

Mr. Byram presented a table to show that increases of from 50 to as high as 116 per cent in the amount of bulk commodities and merchandise loaded by company employees at various points had resulted from such co-operation.

Influx of Millers in State Towns Is Annoying

Alexandria, Neb., May 26.—(Special.)—Millers of unusual number are infesting the residences of Alexandria this summer. Millions of them flock into the houses as soon as lights are lit. While of no great damage they are very annoying. The influx is said to be caused by the exceedingly damp cool weather this spring and the general warm weather experienced during last winter.

Increased School Levy Will Be Asked in Gretna

Gretna, Neb., May 26.—(Special.)—Memorial day will be appropriately celebrated here.

The school board will ask for a levy of 70 mills at the annual school meeting, June 13, which will be used entirely to run the schools during the next year. Last year's levy of 50 mills was inadequate.

Fifth Husband of Alleged Slayer Will Rewed Her

Paul Southard Declares Willingness to Remarry Wife If There Is Any Doubt of Legality of Ceremony.

Honolulu, T. H., May 26.—Paul Vincent Southard, husband of Lydia Trueblood Southard, who is accused of the murder of her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer, is willing to remarry her if there is any doubt regarding the legality of their marriage in Los Angeles last November, he said today. He declared he was ready to marry her in the jail here before she starts for the mainland and Idaho to answer the charge against her. Southard is a naval petty officer stationed at Pearl harbor.

In a former statement given out through V. H. Ormsby, a deputy sheriff here, to take Mrs. Southard back to Idaho, Southard said he knew his marriage to Mrs. Southard was illegal. He said he had married her within a month after being divorced. California laws preclude a legal marriage within a year of an interlocutory decree of divorce.

In the second statement Southard explained that he had been divorced last October, in Indiana, having alleged that his wife deserted him, and said he did not know whether under these conditions his remarriage in California a month later was illegal, but that if it was he was ready to remedy the matter. Southard said that he had applied some time ago for $5,000 worth of insurance in a widely known company. The application, he said, was made after he arrived in the Hawaiian islands, but was not made at the suggestion of Mrs. Southard.

"Business reasons" was the cause assigned by Southard for the action. Naval officials some days ago told of Southard's efforts to obtain a government policy for $10,000.

Turk Nationalists and Bolsheviki Sign Treaty

Athens, May 26.—Soviet Russia and the Turkish nationalist government have agreed to a treaty based upon mutual aid for the "emancipation of all peoples of the east and the absolute right of self-determination," it is announced here. The treaty denounces all pacts or conventions imposed by force upon Turkey.

The protocol signed by representatives of the two nations on January 20, 1920, which disposed of territory along their frontiers, was made effective, it is said. Batum was given to Georgia and Azerbaijan made an autonomous state. The soviet government has released Turkey from all economic engagements entered into by that country with Russia during the czarist regime.

Rouged Knees Are Latest Result From Short Skirt Decree

New York, May 26.—While New York schools superintendents were holding a meeting in the Commodore hotel today and protesting short skirts of teachers, the big old town got a jolt from Dame Fashion.

Sidney Brooks, former hair dresser in the czar's palace, now manager of a Fifth avenue beauty parlor, reports rouged knees are to be introduced.

"Some time ago women began rolling stockings below their knees," he explained. "Skirts got short—Mildred crosses her knees, and now one has to pay attention to the knees and face. Rouged knees are the result. The idea is to get a faint pink effect—a coat of rice powder, a touch of rouge and then a film of powder. The effect really is quite charming."
