Pilots Pickup and Hopson Assist America's Premier Ace In Effort to Reach Washington Today.

Undismayed by Accident

Chicago, May 27.-Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, premier American ace and former leader of the famous 94th aero squadron, arrived in Chicago at 5:28 o'clock tonight, after being in the air eight hours today. He was piloted to Chicago by William C. Hopson, air mail pilot. The ace may be enabled to complete his trip to Washington by the air tomorrow if plans made tonight are carried out. Upon his arrival here, Captain Rickenbacker talked over long distance telephone to General Mitchell, chief of the air service n Washington, and was informed hat he was to get a ship from either ort Sheridan or Chanute field, Rantoul, Ill, to complete the trip.

At Fort Sheridan it was learned that Maj. W. H. McHord's De Haviland was at Chanute field. The ace Stratemeyer, Major commanding officer at Chanute. Must Have Order.

Will you let me take a ship, please, sir?" asked the acc. "Sorry, sir; all our ships will be in use in the flying circus," replied the commandant. "I' you talk to the chief of air service and he gives me the order I will send one up to you early in the morning."

Major Stratemeyer said tonight that he would probably receive orders from Washington to send Rickenbacker a plane early tomorrow. Rickenbacker left Cheyenne, Wyo early today. He was riding in the mail pit of a De Haviland ship flown by C. V. Pickup, the air mail pilot. They landed in Omaha, where Rick-Rickenbacker arrived in Omaha at Dakota. 11:53. He was a passenger in C. V. Pickup's air mail ship.

Hop-son, who flies regularly between Omaha and Chicago, was the winner of The Bee's $1,000 air mail contest. Pickup, who flies betweeen Omaha and Cheyenne, won second place after leading the field for five nonths of the six-month contest.

Rickenbacker still had faint hopes of reaching Washington, his goal, before daylight today. He wired to General Mitchell, director of the army plane from Omaha this noon asking permission to take an army plane from Chicago to Washington following his arrival in the Windy city late yesterday aft-

Clash Over Naval Bill In Senate

Question of Various Amend ments to Disarmament Clause Brings Lively Tilts During Debate.

Final Action Postponed

By The Associated Press.
