Miss Byers, Omaha Girl, Appears at The Brandeis

Considerable social gaiety this summer centers around the Princess company players who are appearing at the Brandeis theater. Two reasons are two Omaha girls, Miss Edith Spencer and Miss Della May Byers.

Miss Byers, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Byers, at "The Maples," will play her first role with the Princess Players this week, when she will appear as one of the twins in "Thirty-Nine East." There are two versions to this play; in one, a single girl plays two parts, while in the original New York script there were the two girls. The New York version which will be given in Omaha.

Last year Miss Byers was on the Keith vaudeville circuit in the east. Prior to that time she played with the Irish Players, being the only American with them, and with the B. Iden Payne company, English players, with whom she was again the only American. This English company appeared at the Fine Arts theater in Chicago. Miss Byers played Aggie Lynch, the ingenue, in "Within the Law." She was seen with Frank Bacon in "Me and Grant," his production prior to "Lightnin'" in which he has played so successfully in New York to the delight of Omaha theater-goers who knew and regarded him in Omaha stock years ago.

New York will again claim Miss Byers after August 1. It has been eight years since Miss Byers "left home." In that time she has made several appearances in Omaha with Eva Lang at the Brandeis and in stock at the Boyd. She attended St. Francis academy in Council Bluffs, was dramatic pupil of Miss Lillian Fitch and attended Miss Morgan's finishing school in Chicago during her school years.

Among the hostesses who have entertained in honor of Miss Byers are Mrs. J. R. Hall, wife of Lieutenant Hall of Fort Omaha; Mrs. A. McKinley, mother of Major McKinley, and Mrs. Henry White, wife of Major White. Friends from the fort will give a theater party during the coming week to see Miss Byers, entertaining for her at supper following.

Mrs. James Brawford will entertain at bridge next Thursday for this talented visitor. Among her past hostesses is Mrs. Fritz Baumeister of Council Bluffs, who gave an attractive luncheon at her home last week.

Washington Society. (Continued From Page One.) another week. Mrs. Reavis as a former officer of the Congressional club and one of its active members, went to the picnic yesterday, which closed the club's activities for this season. They went out in the afternoon, taking their suppers along, to the cool, green knolls of upper Sixteenth street, near the entrance to Rock Creek, which is a very beautiful district. The ladies of the Nebraska delegation arranged their suppers together and were joined by their husbands, returning in the moonlight.

Mrs. Russell Harrison and her mother, Mrs. Saunders, are spending the week-end with the former's daughter, Mrs. Harry A. Williams, jr., in Norfolk and will return here in the middle of next week for a few days' stay before going on to Omaha for the summer. They expect to return here for next season.

Another Seven Selling Days of the Closing Out Sale Gone

BUT 22 days are left for the selling of merchandise gathered together for many years through the help of the most approved jewel houses in the country. June, the month of weddings and anniversaries, brings the thought of gifts uppermost in our minds, and this sale represents an unusual opportunity for selection of gifts in diamonds, watches, silver and novelties a bit more lavish than one could otherwise afford.

Bed-rock prices have been reached through a series of price reductions, until the prices now quoted are well within the reach of everyone.

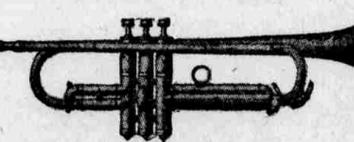

An engagement ring from a jewel specialist, one who has devoted his life work and imagination entirely to jewel craft, is very apt to be a bit finer in workmanship and just a bit more attractively designed.
