

Annual Editor Is Removed as Cadet Captain

Graduating Class Votes to Disown High School Student Who Attacked Principal and Professor.

Carl Dimond, student-editor of Central High school Register, who attacked Principal Masters and Dr. H. A. Senter of the school on Tuesday, has been removed as captain of Company F of the high school cadets. Notice of his demotion was announced yesterday afternoon in general order No. 13, issued by George R. Smith, cadet lieutenant colonel commanding the cadet battalion.

The order reads: "For conduct unbecoming a cadet, officer Captain Carl Dimond is, with the concurrence of the principal, relieved of the command of Company F and is reduced to the rank of private." Arthie Meston was promoted to succeed Dimond, and Francis Sperry and Alexander Rohrbough each were advanced in rank.

All except 20 of the graduating class of more than 200 voted yesterday not to allow Dimond to graduate with them this month, according to an announcement by Victor Eisler. The senior class held a meeting and requested the attendance of Principal J. G. Masters. The motion against allowing Dimond to graduate with the class was opposed from the floor by Carl Kharas, a member of the Register staff.

Principal Masters explained that the meeting of the senior class and the action taken at the meeting was entirely on the initiative of the seniors themselves, who were not influenced in the matter by the faculty.

The principal also stated that Dimond must return all Register copy that is missing before the question of readmission to the school and granting of a diploma will be considered. Dimond did not attend school yesterday. His mother declared she did not know where he was. The senior class is arranging to get out the Register annual by replacing the lost copy.

Heating Value of City Gas Shows Decline Each Month

City Chemist C. F. Crowley's report of gas tests for May shows that the average of 524.3 British thermal units for the month was the lowest since the city acquired the plant nearly a year ago.

The monthly average has grown steadily lower from November, with $45.9. Before the city owned the gas plant the city council enforced an ordinance which imposed a minimum of 600 British thermal units net. The British thermal unit standard, which indicates the heating value of gas, is now entirely in the hands of the Metropolitan Utilities board.

Clark admitted to Lieutenant Pisanowski that he kept a diary of his automobile thefts and said he had stolen 25 cars since May 16. Clark admitted he was out on parole from the state reformatory at Kearney. He also said he stripped accessories from the stolen cars, all of which have been recovered. Clark implicated his brother, Roy, and Clyde Harow, 3824 North Twenty-fifth street.
